MARCH IS MAGNIFICENT IN ITS SURPRISES. WE had just begun to meditate a symposium of Spring Overcoats—just got fairly through saying that Ulsters and Winter Overcoats were for next winter—when, out of its mere frolic, March flings on us one of the most vigorous Ulster and Winter Overcoat spells of the season. Did you hear anybody complaining on the streets yesterday of being too warm? Did you hear any regrets at having an Ulster or Winter Overcoat that was too good for service? We know you didn't.

Winter Overcoats and Ulsters, Be It, Then,
As Long as the Winter Stays!

And yet, we can't vanish next winter out of the selling. You'll get one for $5, $10, $15 less than the season's price—you'll get a month of comfort out of it this season yet, perhaps; but it is when you get it out next winter, as new as if it hadn't known a day's wear, and when you see the one your friend bought next winter for the $5, $10, $15 more than yours, that's when you'll get most comfort out of it. Great Winter Coats! Great Prices!

It is Almost Unbelievable that Such Coats
Cost but $8, $10, $12, $15, $20 and $25.

SERIOUS CHARGE

Matt Clark, of the State Auditor's Office, is Charged With Laying Blackmail on Lumbermen.

It is Asserted That He Has Grown Rich at the Expense of Numerous Victims.

One Special Instance Where He Demanded One Thousand Dollars and Received it at Stillwater.

Proceedings in the House and Senate Today Were Not of a Very Interesting Character.

ST. PAUL, March 13.—[Special to The Herald.]—Fayette Marsh, of Stillwater, has preferred direct charges against Matt Clark, land commissioner in the state auditor's office, who has charge of the sales of state lands, to the effect that Dennis Doyle, of Stillwater, bought pine stumpage at public sale for a syndicate of Stillwater lumbermen named T. C. Kilty, Wm. O'Brien, Ham McClure et al.

These men sold the pine at auction to the highest bidder and realized a profit of $3000. When they asked Clark to give the new purchaser permits to cut timber he refused to do so unless he received a bonus of $1000. They had to pay him the money before he would issue the permits. Marsh further states in a letter to the governor that Clark has blackmailed Stillwater lumbermen to the extent of $50,000 in this manner. He asks that Mr. Dunn's committee of investigation into the state auditor's office be requested to conduct this investigation so as to fully cover Matt Clark's incumbency in office, and he asks that the method of disposition of pine lumber and pine lands be gone fully into. These charges are in a letter to Governor Nelson and others to the effect that Clark has grown rich out of bonuses that he has received from lumbermen. Marsh states that he will forward all his proofs to the committee.

Mr. Craven introduced a bill in the senate this morning to prevent fraudulent sales of goods by itinerant vendors in the state and to provide for licensing same by the state.

The committee of finance recommended a bill providing for a special tax instead of a direct appropriation for the support of the University of Minnesota which has been recommended back and recommended the bill providing for the erection of a new capitol to pass.

The senate has 117 bills on general orders this morning. No action could be got early and the senate was under call three quarters of an hour before business could go on. General orders were taken up and the forenoon was spent in discussing a bill of Tawney's to elect two supervisors for a term of three years.

In the hour this morning, Jackson's bill which gives the railroad and warehouse commission jurisdiction over the joint railroad tariffs of the more roads in the state was recommended to pass by committee of the whole; also a bill for the incorporation of villages in certain cases.

Tawney's bill for the protection of street car employees by enclosing the front end of street cars got a set back in the house today by being referred back from committee of the whole to the committee on incorporations.

Walsh's bill compelling railroads to use automatic brakes on railroad cars occupied the attention of committee of the whole of the house during most of the forenoon. There was decided opposition.

THE BOYCOTT IS LIFTED.
Probable Settlement of the Ann Arbor Strike Very Soon.
TOLEDO, March 13.—The boycott on the Ann Arbor was ordered lifted this morning pending a conference with the officials of the company who have consented to listen to the men.

The thirteen connecting lines here were served with injunctions issued by the United States circuit court, restraining them from refusing to offer and extend to the Ann Arbor Railway company the same equal facilities for interchange of traffic on interstate business between said railway companies as are enjoyed by other railway companies, and from refusing to receive from said Ann Arbor Railway company cars billed from points in one state to points in another state.

The Ann Arbor Railway company also brought a body of Boyd's detectives from Detroit to guard the yards and trains this morning, but in consequence of the lifting of the boycott by the strikers better services are not required. It is thought that the trouble will be settled today.

THE ROCKFELLOW BANK.
The Final Statement of Assets Makes a Poor Showing.
WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 13.—Appraisers Reynolds and Crane have completed their final statement of the assets of the Rockfellow bank, which closed its doors Feb. 8, and their report increases the preliminary figures about $10,000.

The appraisers found in the bank and at the residence $24,600 in cash and about $6000 in stocks and bonds, the value of which has been ascertained; also securities classed as "value not known," amounting on their face to $52,000. The total amount of assets now valued as good, less the value of Rockfellow's mortgaged house, is $12,460, while the liabilities are $432,000.

HER IDENTITY A MYSTERY.

Suicide of a Beautiful Woman in a New York Hotel.

NEW YORK, March 13.—At Kips undertaking rooms, No. 136 First avenue, lie the remains of a beautiful woman. Her features, hands and feet are evidence that she was a woman of refinement. She is the woman who yesterday afternoon, in her room at the Coleman house, made self-murder doubly sure by drinking laudanum and then firing a 32-calibre pistol bullet into her heart.

And that was what Coroner Meserem found and officially declared the cause of death to be. The identity of the dead woman was still in question this morning. A reporter found that after the first cursory examination a discovery was made by Wood a dressmaker. It was a card, but so blurred as to make the address on it indefinite. It was thoroughly examined by several persons and the consensus of opinion reduced its address to one of two places, either 236 West One Hundred and Thirty-Sixth street or 236 West One Hundred and Thirty-Second street.

From the time the woman went to her room on the second floor at 11 o'clock Saturday evening, the hotel people say that nothing was seen or heard of her until 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, when a bell boy took her a little punch. At 5 o'clock, as the chambermaid could not get any response to her taps at the door, it was forced open and the suicide discovered.

Later, The Evening Sun says: The body of the young woman who committed suicide at the Coleman house yesterday was identified this morning as that of Leonide Cozzens, 18 years old, of 240 West One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street. The identification was made by Wood, a dressmaker, who said that she was the dress the young woman wore when she killed herself. Miss Cozzens belonged to a wealthy family and lived with her mother at the address given. It is believed that disappointment in love was the cause of the suicide.

ASSETS OF THREE MILLIONS.

Failure of a Large House Furnishing Company in Boston.

BOSTON, March 13.—The Atkinson House Furnishing company, with fourteen branches in other New England cities, has made an assignment to Chas. F. Libby, of Portland, and Costello & Converse, of Boston.

President Atkinson says that the liabilities are $1,500,000 and that the assets are estimated at $3,000,000. The trouble was caused by the stringency in the money market and inability to meet a call loan of Saturday. Last year the company did a business of $3,000,000.

President Atkinson says the firm probably paid its debts in full. While the greatest portion of the indebtedness is to firms in Boston and vicinity, there is money owing to the firm in New York, Philadelphia and Chicago.

OPENING OF NAVIGATION.

Heavy Snowfall Will Bring It About April 25

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., March 13.—[Special to The Herald.]—The prospects are that navigation will open April 25 or earlier, owing to the heavy snowfall in the Lake Superior region. We look for six inches better water than last season.

The government has requested the Edison Electric company to make estimates upon the cost of lighting the St. Mary's river by electricity. Electrical experts say that there is no doubt of all but that the river can be lighted along its entire course by electricity generated here. It is proposed to have a light on every buoy and target.

THE HAWAIIAN PRINCESS.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Princess Kaiulani attended church twice yesterday. This morning callers were numerous, composed principally of naval officers and traders who had visited the Hawaiian Islands and there made her acquaintance. The princess went out for a walk in the morning and Mrs. and Miss Davies for a drive. The anticipated call upon President Cleveland will be made late this afternoon, but will be purely social and unofficial.

An Important Communication.
SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—From Washington arrangements have been made with Spreckles Bros. to hold the steamer Australia which was to have sailed for Honolulu Wednesday, until Friday. Postmaster Backus was instructed by H. M. Brooks, superintendent of foreign mails, to make such arrangement. The action is supposed to be taken in connection with some very urgent and important official communication to be dispatched to Honolulu.

Immense Ice Gorge.
SCHENECTADY, N. Y., March 13.—Last night the ice in the Mohawk, west of the city, broke up and formed an immense gorge against the Fitchburg railroad bridge, three miles from here. The water overflowed the banks, flooding Edison Park and that part of the city occupied by the Westinghouse company. The first floors of the Edison General Electric company are under water to a depth of three feet. Both plants have shut down and 4000 men are laid off.

A Rough Passage.
BERMUDA, March 13.—The American schooner Alert, owned by Lyman Nichols, of Boston, arrived here on the 9th from the Mediterranean bound for New York. The Alert experienced heavy weather and was thirty-five days making the voyage from Gibraltar. She encountered heavy gales from southwest to northwest during the whole passage.

A Costly Blaze.
LYNN, Mass., March 13.—The 5-story brick block, 85 to 89 Central avenue, owned by the Central Investment company, was gutted by fire early this morning. The loss on building and contents is estimated at $100,000 and is nearly covered by insurance.

Adlai's Stenographer.
WASHINGTON, March 13.—Vice President Stevenson has appointed W. S. Daniels his stenographer. Mr. Daniels occupied a similar position when in the postoffice department with Mr. Stevenson.

LOOKING FOR OFFICE.

Minnesota Democrats in Washington to Advance Their Own Interests for the Offices They Desire.

Not Yet Known Whether Doran Will Have the Patronage of Baldwin and Hall Handle It.

Capt. Castle, Who is Postmaster at St. Paul, Likely to be Removed for Offensive Partisanship.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—[Special to The Herald.]—Minnesota Democrats have been quite conspicuous in the capital city for the past two weeks. They came here nominally to witness the inauguration of President Cleveland, but really the majority of them are here to advance their own interests for office.

While various rumors have been afloat regarding the disposition of the many offices in Minnesota, the opinion here by those who know something about the situation is that very few of those from Minnesota seeking office have secured any consolation by the course President Cleveland and his cabinet have pursued since they went into power on March 4.

As has previously been telegraphed The Herald, there have been some changes in the positions of the candidates for the several offices that Minnesota men are seeking. Ex-Representative Harries, of the First Minnesota district, informed The Herald correspondent a few days ago that he was a candidate to succeed Marcus Johnson as collector of internal revenue. He said at that time that he would very much like to secure this position, and that if he did secure it he would willingly qualify and take care of the duties of the office to the best of his ability.

Less than a week ago Mr. Harries took another tack. It was discovered that his aspirations were higher than an internal revenue collectorship. He desires, in fact, to be appointed governor of Alaska. What his prospects are, of course, are unsettled yet, but should he fail to go to Alaska as his chief executive, he would probably fall back on the collectorship.

Pitted against him, as has been telegraphed The Herald, is Harry Hawkins, late Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor of Minnesota. Neither of these gentlemen have probably discovered just where they stand in this contest. As President Cleveland has really given no intimation what he would do in the matter of appointments in Minnesota, nor has he indicated whether he would appoint Doran, would walk away with the prize. In the race for the marshalship there are also several candidates, but the opinion is still maintained that ex-Chief of Police Clark, of St. Paul, may pluck this plum and as he is said to have the backing of President J. H. Hill, of the Great Northern railroad, it can almost be set down as a fact that he will get it.

The Herald correspondent some time ago stated that President Cleveland was not likely to retire any Republican postmasters in the important cities in Minnesota until their terms had expired. With one possible exception this seems to be the situation at this time. Aneffort is to be made by the Democrats of Minnesota to oust Capt. Castle, postmaster at St. Paul, out of his office before his term expires. The claim will be set up that he is considered one of the most offensive partisans in the postoffice department. It is probable that National Committeeman Doran is one of the men who will move against Postmaster Castle to try to get him booted.

Col. C. M. Foote, who is a candidate for postmaster at Minneapolis, believes that his prospect for securing the place is one of the best. Col. Foote, however, does not expect to succeed May Hill until after the latter's term has expired. It is probably a fact also that Postmaster Howard, of Duluth, will be allowed to remain in his present position until his term of office is completed.

HIGHEST IN THIRTY YEARS.
Great Damage Done by Floods Around Grand Rapids, Mich.
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 13.—The river is the highest seen here in thirty years. It now stands 14 feet, 9 inches above the low water mark. Many big factories have been obliged to shut down owing to the high water. The city and railway bridges stand the pressure well.

Reports are coming in of enormous damage to the agricultural districts above and below here. Many township bridges are gone, log booms broken, etc. The sewers in this city are badly clogged, but no great destruction to property has yet been reported.

Hanged Himself.
DETROIT, Mich., March 13.—A special from Marshall, Mich., to the News says: Serafino Del Carlo, the demented Italian who shot Mr. Baxter, of Carleton, and Brakenham E. A. Pember, on a Michigan Central train near Battle Creek Thursday last, committed suicide in the county jail some time during last night by hanging himself to the iron frame of the window. He had used the heavy bandages which bound his dislocated shoulder.

Damaged By Floods.
HANNATH, Mo., March 13.—The ice in the Mississippi river began running here yesterday morning. During the day three barges belonging to Park Bluff were carried away. The river is rapidly rising and further damage is feared.

PANDEMONIUM REIGNED.

Disgraceful Scenes in the State Prison of Massachusetts.

BOSTON, Mass., March 13.—There were more disgraceful scenes in the Charlestown prison yesterday. Pandemonium reigned all day and the prisoners did not cease their noise after night fall. It was started by rattling the windows on the lower tiers. This was the signal for a general din all over the institution.

The noise from the 600 cells seemed to shake the building and alarmed the guards most thoroughly. There was hurrying in various directions, as there was fear that some of the men were trying to escape under cover of the noise. The convicts have been locked up since Governor Russell's first visit and their demonstrations since then have shown that they do not like it.

The presence of Warden Lovering had no effect, for the men kept up the racket all day and very little sleep was left. The new warden is to take charge next week. In fretting among the work shops the guards found all the paraphernalia necessary for an escape. Hack and hand saws, coils of rope and scaling hooks were discovered sufficient to liberate every man in the prison, if once the guards were disposed of. The equipment was most complete. No religious services were held in the prison yesterday.

PRAIRIE FIRES IN KANSAS.

Farm Houses Destroyed and Two People Fatally Burned.

GARDEN CITY, Kas., March 13.—Widespread and destructive prairie fires have been raging in this vicinity for the past two days. Saturday Frank Gruener, living ten miles east of here, lost all his buildings, household goods, farm implements, etc., saving nothing but the clothing of himself and family. M. Netter, living ten miles north, was equally unfortunate.

Three school houses in the north and east portions of the county were also burned, and many farmers have lost large stocks of hay and other property. Yesterday a strong wind was blowing from the southwest, and late last night word reached here that the farm of Mr. Anderson, seven miles southeast of here, was swept bare by the flames and both Anderson and his wife so badly burned that Anderson soon died and his wife can live but a few hours.

Extensive fires were visible last evening in the northwest, east and south, and it is feared much damage will still be done.

Once Prominent in Politics.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 13.—O. M. Hatch, a well known figure in Illinois a third of a century ago and who was twice secretary of state, died at his home in this city yesterday in the 70th year of his life. He was born in New Hampshire in 1814, removed to Boston in 1832, where he remained until 1836. He was active in organizing the Republican party. In 1856 he was elected secretary of state and four years later he was re-elected. His relations with President Lincoln and Governor Yates were close.

Floods in Vermont.
BENNINGTON, Vt., March 13.—The recent warm weather and rain have melted the snow so that the streets of this town are flooded and many of the cellars are filled with water. All the streams in the vicinity are very high and the roads leading to the town are covered with water and badly damaged. The water all through this section is the highest known in years and is still rising. Much damage is anticipated if warm weather continues many days.

Supposed Murderer Caught.
CHICAGO, March 13.—A telegram was received at Central station last night from Sheriff William Russell, of Sheridan, Ind., stating that a man was under arrest there whose description corresponded with that given of the murderer of Mary Montgomery in Pullman. The man's name was not given but detectives are of the opinion that the right man has been caught and that he is a tramp.

Editors Are Barred.
WASHINGTON, March 13.—The Post says: The assertion that editors are not generally to be recognized by the new administration is true. Mr. Cleveland believes that his predecessor suffered through the charge of having subsidized the press, and he does not intend to run the same gauntlet. The decision is also to be made particularly applicable to newspaper men who desire to be postmasters in their towns.

Going Duck Hunting.
INDIANAPOLIS, March 13.—Ex-President Harrison will leave on his duck hunting excursion with Gen. Boyd tonight. Their destination is Havana, Ill., a hamlet on the Illinois river, where they have a hunting boat fitted out with provisions for a week's cruise among the marshes. Since his return from Washington, Mr. Harrison's health and spirits have been excellent.

James W. Hyatt Dead.
NORWALK, Conn., March 13.—James William Hyatt, United States treasurer under Mr. Cleveland's former administration, died of a complication of Bright's disease, gout and other diseases, shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after a very long and painful illness, aged 55 years.

The Silver Coinage.
WASHINGTON, March 13.—The issue of standard silver dollars from the mints and treasury offices during the week ended March 11, 1893, was $22,000. For the corresponding period of 1892, $331,893. The shipment of fractional silver coin from the first to the 11th inst. aggregated $264,270.

Ell Perkins in a Fight.
ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 13.—Melville D. Landon, better known as Ell Perkins, was one of the passengers on a train leaving Chicago yesterday en route to this city. Shortly after leaving Chicago, Landon began a heated argument with the porter of the Pullman car in regard to the ventilation of the car. The porter resented the remarks of Mr. Landon, and in the fight which followed the noted lecturer was badly bruised and disfigured. On arriving here the porter was discharged.

DEAD IN NEW ORLEANS

The Financial Results of the Recent Pugilistic Contests Have Been Disastrous to the Clubs.

No More Fights in the Crescent Club Ring and Probably None at the Olympic.

Public Opinion is Against the Degrading Sport and Ladies Organized an Anti-Pugilistic League.

NEW ORLEANS, March 13.—Pugilism is done for in New Orleans. The members of the Crescent City club will go into their pockets and Fitzsimmons will not get his $37,500 tomorrow. He will get $15,000 or $20,000 in cash, all that is available, and good paper for the balance. There will be no more contests in the Crescent club ring and perhaps no more in that of the Olympic club, though the Boen-Bourke match is scheduled for the first week in April.

The clubs will go to general athletics and rowing, and will die unless their social sides are strong enough to bear the financial loss of such shows which have long ago ceased to pay in richer towns than New Orleans. The women of the city are organizing an anti-pugilistic league, as they did an anti-lottery league, and the leading papers editorially denounce the contests.

The next legislature does not meet until May, 1894, and the city authorities are with the clubs. Both president Noel and Dickinson are members of the city council. But the best opinions here are that neither club will fly in the face of public opinion and that pugilism in New Orleans is dead.

RAN INTO A SCHOONER.
A Passenger Steamer Damaged But no Loss of Life Occurred.

LONDON, Conn., March 13.—The steamboat City of Boston, of the Norwich line, ran into the three-masted schooner Charles W. Church in the lower harbor at an early hour yesterday morning. The accident occurred in a thick fog with driving rain and a stiff southeast gale. Nothing but a miracle prevented loss of life.

It was very dark, and the steamer was at a low running rate of speed when the lights of the schooner were sighted. It was then too late to avoid a collision. The captain saw that he must either decide to transfer his boat to the schooner's flying jibboom or else try to steer clear, which he deemed impossible in the gale that was blowing, and he chose the former course.

He selected the amidship section of the boat as the place to sustain the shock, it being most remotely situated from the state rooms and the frame work being very heavy. When the crews of the two vessels undertook to separate the crafts after the shock, it was found that the schooner's bobstay, a heavy chain, had caught around the steam chest of the steamer.

The force of the gale was so great that the chain could not be pried off, and the two vessels swung at the mercy of the gale for nearly three hours, when they were released. The schooner's damage was not serious.

The steamer lost her starboard smoke-stack and had her steam chest ripped open. She succeeded in getting to her wharf, where her passengers and freight were transferred to the City of Worcester, which proceeded to New York last night.

WILL BE WELL CARED FOR.
Baldwin, Hall and Boen Will Have Good Committee Places.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—There is a movement on foot to push Maj. Baldwin, of the Sixth district, for a place on the committee on Indian affairs. The Duluth member has no less than eleven separate Indian reservations in his district, and such an appointment would enable him to be of great service to his district.

In this connection it is no secret that Messrs. Baldwin, Hall and Boen will be well taken care of when the committees of the Fifty-third congress are made up. The four Republican members are not likely to get very much because they are almost entirely unknown even among the Republicans in Washington.

The fact that there are only 128 Republicans in the lower house of the Fifty-third congress, out of 356 members, will help them to a certain extent as far as the number of committees upon which they will get places, for the minority in congress is always treated fairly in this matter. No speaker of the house has ever appointed a committee made up of members of his own party.

BOURGEOIS' RESIGNATION.
Comments of the Parisian Press on the Cabinet Crisis.

PARIS, March 13.—The existing crisis is the subject of general comment in the press. The Journal des Debats, Republican, says that the resignation of M. Bourgeois proves that there is anarchy in the government circle.

Le Soleil, Orleansis, says: "Amid the discredit and the falling of high personages, M. Bourgeois alone is unaffected. M. Goblet, the former premier, and progressive Republican statesman, writes to the Petite Republique: 'I am convinced that dissolution is the only remedy.'"

La Sicile, Republican, says: "Today's sitting of the chamber ought to decide the fate of the cabinet. The supporters of the government dread the consequences of the resignation of M. Bourgeois."

Undoubtedly Lost.
LONDON, March 13.—A dispatch from Lisbon states that the mail steamer just arrived at Lisbon from the Azores brings no tidings of the missing White Star steamer Naronic. Officials will not abandon hope until after the arrival of the next two mailings from the Azores, but the general opinion among shippers is that the Naronic is lost.

CAPTURED BY THE REBELS.
Arms for Brazilian Troops Taken by the Rebels.

NEW YORK, March 13.—The Herald's correspondent at Valparaiso cables that paper as follows: "Advices just received state that the federals in Rio Grande do Sul have captured a large amount of arms and ammunition of war which were being forwarded to the government troops."

The Monte Caseros district has been almost converted into a barren waste through the cruelties practiced upon the people by the authorities. The action of Dr. Errazuriz, Chilean minister of foreign affairs, in signing the treaty with Bolivia is regarded by the newspapers as fully sustaining the claims in Chile in regard to the territorial limits.

A meeting will be held tomorrow between Dr. Errazuriz and the minister of Argentina, at which a protocol will be signed for the survey of disputed boundary of Chile and the Argentine republic.

WILL GET A DIVORCE.
Mrs. Frank Leslie Soon to be Freed From Willie Wilde.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Mrs. Frank Leslie-Wilde's suit for divorce from her husband, brother of Oscar Wilde, is at a standstill. Wilde is at present enjoying himself in London, and accordingly his wife early last December petitioned Judge Brown, of Newburg, N. Y., for an order detaching service publication.

The order was granted and the two Newburg newspapers were designated as the papers in which the notice should appear. A change of tactics was determined upon, however, and toward the end of January Mrs. Wilde's attorneys got permission to examine the defendant and to take the testimony of the witnesses abroad.

Ex parte evidence was then secured and an affidavit to that effect has been placed on file at Newburg. It is thought that a decree will be rendered immediately after the report of the commission.

MONTANA INDIAN TROUBLES.
The Ranchman Who Killed Little Face Lodged in Jail.

BILLINGS, Mont., March 13.—The civil authorities of Yellowstone county have taken a hand in the Crow trouble. Yesterday Coroner Chapple had an inquest over the body of Little Face, the Indian who was killed Wednesday.

All the Indians who made war-like demonstrations in the vicinity of the tragedy have withdrawn to a point about ten miles from Wiley station and appear to be uncertain what to do. They have looted the deserted ranches and carried off everything of use to them. Aschbacher, the ranchman who killed Little Face, is in jail here.

Tragedy in Detroit.
DETROIT, Mich., March 13.—An attempted murder and a suicide took place at 11 o'clock last night at Kitten Place's house, 140 Gratiot avenue. Joseph Esser, 23 years old, shot and seriously injured Annie Shea, an inmate of the place, aged 26. He then placed the revolver to his right ear and blew his brains out. Jealousy was the cause.

An Important Cash Register Deal.

The National Cash Register Company, of Dayton, Ohio, Absorbs the Cash Register Interests of the Kruse and Lamson Companies.

All Litigation Between These Companies Now at an End.

There was consummated in Boston yesterday a consolidation of the leading cash register companies of the country, by which the bitter warfare and expensive competition which has heretofore existed between them was brought to an end.

The companies directly interested are the National Cash Register Company, of Dayton, Ohio, the Lamson Consolidated Store Service company, of Boston, and the Kruse Cash Register company, of New York.

Under the arrangement just effected the entire business of the Lamson and Kruse companies is transferred to the National company, while the store service apparatus business of the latter company is transferred to the Lamson company.

The cash register factories of the Lamson company at Lowell and New York will in time be changed to making car-fare registers, and the Kruse factory in New York will cease to make cash registers. The cash register offices of said companies in the different cities will be consolidated, and the manufacture of the machines of all the companies will be carried on by the National company at Dayton, Ohio.

It is intended and expected that this consolidation of the conflicting interests, the termination of the expensive competition between them, the manufacture of all the machines by a single company and the handling of them by a single set of salesmen and agents will enable the National Cash Register company to conduct the business more economically and consequently supply the increasing demand for low-priced cash registers.

Forty Years in the Ministry

Rheumatism, Dyspepsia and Indigestion—Great Benefit From Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for four or five months, and am satisfied that it is a very excellent remedy. I have been troubled with rheumatism more or less for a number of years. My back and hips, and indeed my whole body at times, have been afflicted. The rheumatism has been especially severe in my right arm between the elbow and shoulder, which has been so lame that I sometimes feared entirely. I was in this condition when I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, but I had not taken more than a bottle or two when I began to feel better, and when I had taken four bottles, my rheumatism had entirely left me. I have been more free from rheumatism this season than for years. Besides the rheumatism, I like

The political meeting at Scandinavian hall on Saturday evening was quite a stormy affair and the discussions pro and con took on a very bright hue. The public hall question was well ventilated by O. ## THEY WANT THE WOOL

A Rather Sensational Case Put on Trial in the District Court This Morning.

Two Montana Wool Growers Are Endeavoring to Recover Seven Car Loads of Wool.

It Was Consigned to the West Superior Woolen Mill and Was Seized by Creditors.

The wool seizure case of H. Hodgson and others vs. Paul Sharvy, as sheriff, is now on before Judge Ensign and will last for several days if the court does not get frozen out in the meantime. Attorneys were vigorously blowing on numb fingers this morning, while the judge, muffled up in heavy overcoat and wearing a cap, looked something like what might be expected at the court of Jack Frost instead of a Duluth district court session in March.

The plaintiffs, severally, are H. Hodgson and John D. Sears, two wealthy wool growers, and Joel Gleason, sheriff of Glendive county, Mont., also a wool grower, and all of them are from Glendive station. They own between them something like 50,000 sheep. Mr. Hodgson heading the list with 25,000. Mr. Gleason is an old passenger engineer on the Northern Pacific road and used to run in here. Partial paralysis of his side forced him to leave his engine, and he settled in Glendive, where he has for three times filled the sheriff's chair.

The facts which led up to the suits are as follows: The Land and River improvement company of West Superior induced an insolvent woolen company at Portsmouth, Ohio, to locate at West Superior where it was reorganized under the name of the West Superior Woolen mill. They left behind them in Portsmouth a number of debts; among others they owed the Farmers' National bank of that city $24,000. The bank got one of its employees into the service of the West Superior concern and he kept close watch for a chance for the bank to play even on the superior concern. He knew that a failure was inevitable and also knew that E. J. Salt, the manager, had been buying considerable wool in Montana, and as soon as the advance bills of lading were received he wired the bank and they ordered the seizure of the wool in Minnesota.

Acting in his capacity of sheriff Paul Sharvy by his deputies seized seven carloads of wool, valued at $25,000, and now the Montana wool growers have come at the sheriff with a suit to recover, and actual damages. They set up in their complaint that the wool was in the custody of the Northern Pacific railroad as a common carrier; that it was in transit; that it had not yet been delivered to the tottering concern on the other side of the bay; and that the plaintiffs, prior to its delivery, exercised a right to change point of destination, consignee or make any disposition of the wool they saw fit, and that therefore it was the property of the plaintiffs and not liable to any process for the debts of E. J. Salt & Son or of the West Superior Woolen mill.

There is a large array of witnesses and the cases will occupy a day or two in trial.

The counsel for the plaintiffs are Knowles, Dickinson, Buchanan, Graham & Wilson, and F. S. Parker, of West Superior, and S. T. Harrison of Duluth. Sheriff Sharvy's side of the case is being looked after by Ross Dwyer, Smith, Hanitch & Douglass, of West Superior, and H. S. Mahon, of Duluth.

GEORGE S. SHAW TALKS.

Tells the Mississippi Valley Lumbermen What the Duluth District is Doing.

At the meeting of the Mississippi Valley Lumbermen's association in Minneapolis about March 1, George S. Shaw, of Cloquet, reporting for his company, the Cloquet Lumber company, as to the condition of business, said:

"George S. Shaw said he lived a good ways off in the woods and was a good ways behind the times. He did not know much about the market. He knew that he had cut more lumber last year than the year before and had less on hand now than a year ago. The same was true of the C. N. Nelson company of Cloquet. I represent the Duluth district," said he, "a district that will cut 500,000,000 feet this year. The greater part of which will go East. He had met Mr. Barber, of Duluth, the day before and had been told that he was getting $1 above the list price for his lumber. The Mississippi railway is a great consumer of lumber this year. It will use 900,000 feet of lumber from the Pacific coast this season most of it 24-foot stuff and upwards. It will use 1,000,000 feet of lumber in its new docks. The head of the lakes will consume about all the lumber it will produce this year. The Cloquet stocks are so short that the day before he had returned an order for three cars of No. 3 boards from the Missouri river."

The Curling Cup.

The Contest to Have Been Played This Evening But Will Be Postponed.

The contest for the silver cup presented to the Duluth Curling club by Williamson & Mendenhall, was to have come off this evening, but the stormy weather will probably prevent it. The ice is in fine condition, and it is unfortunate that the games cannot be played today.

The cup is here and is a beauty. It is about ten inches high of solid silver and is urn shaped. The body is finely engraved and the whole shows some excellent workmanship. The cover, which has not arrived as yet, however, will be of exactly the same shape as the upper half of a curling stone and with a curling stone handle.

"The Pistolous Ghost."

Col. M. W. Glenn, who had a brief, but eventful career in Duluth several years ago, has been appointed chief of police of Little Falls. In years gone by Glenn used to make mayors in Minneapolis and spend $15,000 a year for the Democratic party.

TWO ENGINES COLLIDE

St. Paul & Duluth Locomotives Come Together in the Yard This Morning With Serious Consequences.

Six Men Injured, One or Two Quite Seriously, But All Are Expected to Recover.

Engines Are Badly Battered Up and Will Go to the Repair Shops—Names of the Injured.

The blinding snow storm of today is responsible for at least one serious accident in which six men were injured. Yard engines 36 and 39, of the St. Paul & Duluth road, both without any cars attached, came together about 10 o'clock near the Lake avenue viaduct, the tail end of the 39 crashing into the front of the 36. The storm rendered it almost impossible to see anything and the howling of the wind about the viaduct made hearing about as difficult. The engines with their respective crews on the footboards were not running fast but in opposite directions, and ran into each other with considerable force. One or two of the men on the footboard jumped in time to avoid serious injury but were shaken up somewhat.

There was no warning of any sort, both engine bells were ringing and all ordinary precautions were taken to avoid accident during the storm. The injured are as follows:

Charles H. Keimer, foreman engine No. 36; small bones of wrist broken and otherwise bruised; resides 1528 West Superior street.

Andrew J. Young, helper engine No. 39; bad scalp wound and otherwise bruised about hips and thighs; takes to hospital.

Eugene Fargo, helper engine No. 36; badly jammed about hips and thighs; takes to hospital.

Mat Sullivan, helper, engine No. 36; leg hurt and bruised.

Arthur Clark, engineer, No. 36; badly hurt about shoulders, resides 307 Lincoln avenue.

The St. Paul & Duluth road surgeons were at once summoned and did everything in their power for the unfortunate men. Keimer, Young and Fargo will not be able to resume their duties for some time.

The engines are pretty badly jammed up and will have to be taken to the shops for a thorough overhaul.

ON THE MESABA RANGE.

Strife between the Railroads to Get Into the Western Mesaba.

It is evident there will be a great strife between the three railroad companies building on the west part of the range to see which shall get the earliest and most satisfactory entry into the mines owned and controlled by the Lake Superior Iron company, says the Virginia Enterprise.

The old Davis & Wright road from the west, as a connection of the Winnipeg and both the Iron Range and the Mesaba & Northern will build lines into this section just as soon as possible and will compete for the ore carrying trade.

This competition will prove of vast importance to the Lake Superior people and others interested in that direction, and when the lines are completed that part of the range will see a great boom. The Iron Range will build west from Virginia and the Duluth, Missabe & Northern will run a line west from point near Iron Junction. The rumor is current that the Great Northern people also propose to take a hand in the ore carrying business from this range at no very distant day.

The section 9 property is to be known in the pit or shaft, the work shows eighty-six feet of ore and still bottomed in the same material. The work of cross-cutting has been commenced in this pit and the shaft is being sunk to a depth of 142 feet, when sinking was discontinued on account of lack of machinery. In this pit or shaft, the work shows eighty-six feet of ore and still bottomed in the same material. The work of cross-cutting has been commenced in this pit and the shaft is being sunk to a depth of 142 feet, when sinking was discontinued on account of lack of machinery.

At the Mesaba Chief, on 23-57-22, Capt. John M. Mallin is pushing operations as rapidly as possible. A good working shaft is being put down and has reached the ore, and developments will follow. Exploring is very active in the vicinity of 23-57-22, and the indications are good for some important developments on that part of the range.

An ore find at a depth of 32 feet on the southeast quarter of 35-58-21 has been reported. This is the school section leased by the Merritt syndicate.

Saved His Head.

A Hinckley dispatch says that Charles McDonald, teamster in G. Sexton's camp on Kettle river, while taking a load of logs at the landing, fell off a log, and a heavy loaded sled passed over his neck, completely severing his head.

Was Fatally Injured.

On Monday last Alex McNeill, Sr., an aged resident of Cloquet who lives at a mile and a half from here, went out in the woods near his home to cut some firewood. He was caught beneath a falling tree and so badly injured that he died on Wednesday.

Commences to Look.

The population of Duluth was permanently increased on Sunday by the arrival of a very stylish-looking ladies—evidently strangers. Upon inquiry they proved to be the milliners who are to open the millinery department for J. E. Haynie & Co. I suppose we can safely anticipate something out of the ordinary in this line.

Filed Its Answer.

The St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway company has filed an answer to the proceedings to enforce payment of taxes on certain realty in this county. The answer alleges ownership of the lands in question, but claims immunity from further taxation because it is railway corporation and has already paid its 3 per cent gross earning tax.

Genuine Activity in Real Estate.

The liberal propositions and terms of payment offered by the North Galveston association to investors is rapidly bringing purchasers into the field. The enormous amounts already expended in public improvements—such as street paving and grading, tree planting and sewerage, public buildings, hotels, etc.—have rapidly enhanced the value of property. Every new factory or other enterprise means a very healthy increase in valuation. There never was a better time than now to invest, as North Galveston, Tex., is built on a sure foundation. ## MINE DISASTER

Serious Explosion in a Coal Mine of the Choctaw Coal Company in Indian Territory.

One Report Says Nine Men Were Killed
But Later Reports Make the Number Seven.

Many Miners Are Also Said to Have Been Wounded But Full Particulars Are Lacking.

Owing to the Distance of the Mine From a Telegraph Line Getting Details Is Difficult.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 14.—A special from McAllister, I. T., says that an explosion has occurred at coal mine No. 1 of the Choctaw Coal company at Anderson, I. T., early this morning. Nine men are reported killed and many wounded. The scene of the accident is probably Ardmore instead of Anderson. Ardmore is in the Chickasaw nation a few miles north of the Texas line and is on the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe road. A similar accident occurred there about a year ago in which a number of miners lost their lives.

Later.—The reported coal mine disaster in the Indian Territory has been confirmed by a second dispatch. The accident was correctly reported as having occurred at Anderson which is on the railroad owned and operated by the Choctaw Coal company.

The road runs from McAllister, on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas road, to Canton on the St. Louis & San Francisco road. The explosion occurred in shaft No. 1, which is near Hartsford station. The later report says that but seven men were killed. Particulars are difficult to obtain.

THE SENATE COMMITTEES.
Caucuses Held by the Democrats and the Republicans.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—At 12 o'clock the Democrats of the senate went into caucus to receive the report of the committee which has for the past week been endeavoring to revise the committee lists of the senate. The caucus will in all probability remain in session the greater part of the afternoon. The assignments made by the committee were received with general favor by the caucus, although there was naturally some criticism on the part of a few who did not get just what they expected. It is understood that as soon as the committee has been disposed of, the caucus will take up the matter of the organization of the executive officers.

The Republican committee is also at work in Mr. Allison's room and is pushing things as fast as possible. Their assignments have been practically completed and will be reported to the Republican caucus which will be held tomorrow morning before the senate convenes. Besides naming a membership of the committees, the Republicans have provided for eleven chairmanships.

CHARGED WITH DEFALCATION.
A Texas Man Arrested in Indianapolis But Claims Innocence.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 14.—Acting under telegraphic instruction the police here arrested a man who called for a letter addressed to S. D. Miller.

Today it developed that the man's name is A. J. Caffey and that he is an ex-treasurer of Comanche county, Texas. He is charged with being a defaulter. He is a brother of Col. J. H. Caffey, of this city, a reputable and wealthy man. The Texas tells this story.

"I was county treasurer and was beaten by the Populists for re-election. My successor claimed that he found a shortage. I turned over my ranch to my bondsmen and came here to see my people and to buy horses. There is no shortage in my accounts." The police are holding Caffey and officers from Texas are coming after him.

A MYSTERY AT MILWAUKEE.
The Death of James H. Porter Is Viewed With Suspicion.

MILWAUKEE, March 14.—The mystery surrounding the death of James H. Porter, formerly of Duluth, has hardly been cleared up. He attended a dance Saturday night, saw his young lady home at 2 a. m. Sunday and was found dead on the sidewalk at daylight.

His watch was gone, but there were no marks of violence. It is thought he died of heart disease; also that he was chloroformed.

Six Houses Burned.
HUNTINGTON, W. Va., March 14.—The town of Guyandotte, two miles east, was visited by a destructive fire this morning at 5 o'clock and six houses, mostly saloons and restaurants, were destroyed. The loss is $100,000; fully insured. The fire was of incendiary origin.

Burned to a Crisp.
DORRANCE, Kan., March 14.—A destructive prairie fire started five miles west of here Sunday afternoon. Yesterday while fighting the flames Lawrence LeFevre, Daniel Hutchinson, Allen Moore and William Bailey were terribly injured, the flesh on their limbs being burned to a crisp.

Sentenced for Fraud.
LONDON, March 14.—Charles Wells, otherwise known as Monte Carlo Wells, was sentenced today to penal servitude for eight years on conviction for extensive fraud in having obtained large sums of money from Miss Catherine Phillimore and others.

MEETS WITH APPROVAL.

Project For an Official Residence For Mgr. Satolli.

BALTIMORE, March 14.—Cardinal Gibbons has written a letter to Rev. Patrick Crowin, of Buffalo, N. Y., anent the project for an official residence at Washington for Archbishop Satolli, the apostolic delegate, in which he says:

"The project meets with my warm approval, and I have reason to believe that the holy father will be delighted on witnessing the clergy and people of the United States testifying in this substantial manner their veneration and love for the apostolic delegate."

"While a sense of delicacy naturally prevents Mgr. Satolli from publicly expressing an opinion on the subject, I am sure he will feel grateful for the proposed testimonial in his behalf, not only as an act of affection for himself, but also of edification to the Catholic community at large. I rejoice to learn that the venerable Bishop Ryan, of Buffalo, has kindly consented to act as treasurer of the proposed enterprise. It could not be assigned to better hands."

A RAILROAD RATE WAR.

Grain Rates From Buffalo to New York
Likely to be Cut Down to Five Cents.

BUFFALO, March 14.—There is prospect of a railroad rate war in the grain carrying trade, as it begins coming down the lakes. Even now the boats bound east from Buffalo are said to be open for a dicker which, with so little grain to catch as at present, is significant.

A local shipper says that the 13 cent rate by rail has not been held up at all and does not think it has been over 10 cents all winter. The rate depends entirely upon the quantity shipped. He predicts that the grain rate to New York will be down to 5 cents or less before a canal boat leaves here this spring. This makes it look as though the canal would not have a very easy thing of it after all, in spite of the supposition that there is going to be grain enough for everybody. Were the roads inclined to let well enough alone, there would be business enough for all, but they seem to prefer to carry it at a loss as usual, rather than see it go by canal.

ANN ARBOR STRIKE ENDED.

Judge Ricks' Order Soon Brought Both Sides
To Time.

TOLEDO, O., March 14.—The order of Judge Ricks, based on the interstate commerce act, had its influence on both railroads and strikers in the Ann Arbor troubles.

Neither side seemed anxious to take any step in direct opposition to the court, and although President Ashley had stated that he would consider no proposition unless the men were equally independent, both sides have finally agreed to make concessions.

Today President Ashley and State Railroad Commissioner Wm. Kirby, representing the men, came to the table and accepted as final by both sides. Commissioner Kirby will look over the books and records of the company and will ask that the men be paid wages based on the work they perform and the earnings of the road as compared with other railroads in Central traffic territory. The strike is practically off.

NO WORD OF THE NARONIC.

Two More Steamships Arrived, One With Shipwrecked Sailors.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The steamships Spanish Prince and Moorish Prince arrived this morning from the Mediterranean. Both vessels took a southerly course and one of them stopped at St. Michaels in the Azores, sailing from there Feb. 25. Neither saw or heard anything of the Naronic or saw any wreckage of any kind during the voyage.

The steamship Glenlochy, which arrived from Hamburg, has aboard Capt. Meyer and a crew of seven men from the bark Sierius, German, bound from Galveston Feb. 4 for Ayr, Scotland, laden with oil casks. The Sierius experienced heavy weather causing her to spring a leak. She was in a sinking condition, but was rescued by the Glenlochy on March 9 and launched a boat with great difficulty rescued the men and brought them to this port.

DESTROYED BY FIRE.

A Five-Story Building in Baltimore Burned
This Morning.

BALTIMORE, March 14.—The five-story building corner of Wells and Light streets, occupied by Matthai, Ingram & Co. for the manufacture of tin and Japanese ware, was almost totally destroyed by fire this morning with its contents.

The fire is supposed to have started in the engine room. Owing to the inflammable material in the building, the fire gained rapidly and in a short time the entire structure was enveloped. The loss is about $100,000; covered by insurance.

Many Days Overdue.

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 14.—The ship Morashire, laden with raw sugar for Vancouver, which left Java Oct. 22 last, is still due. Nothing has been seen or heard of her since she left Java and grave fears are entertained for the ship's safety. Ninety days is considered a long run from Java to Vancouver and the Morashire has been 142 days out. There is little reason to hope that she will ever be seen again.

Murder Stories Discredited.

VICTORIA, B. C., March 14.—Provincial Chief of Police Hussey has received a message from Manager Kirkland, of Rivers Island cannery, dated March 8, stating that there is no trouble among the Indians and no reason to fear trouble. Officers of the Indian department do not think there is much truth in the story of recently reported murders.

IN THE LEGISLATURE.

Home Introduces a Bill Which Is Designed to Take Votes From the Markham Measure.

Mr. Merritt Has a Bill Defining Powers of Boards of Park Commissioners in Cities.

Proposal to Create a District Court of Appeals in Minnesota Embodied in a Bill.

ST. PAUL, March 14.—[Special to the Herald.]—In the senate this morning the following bills were introduced: By Keller, a bill to provide for municipal elections of villages organized under special laws which have less than 3000 population; by Home, a bill providing for distribution of the gross earnings tax collected from the railroad companies among the counties to be made at the rate of 1 1/2 cents per acre; by Keller, a bill to prevent a contractor from assigning contracts which he is under bonds to perform; by Dedon, a bill for an act amending the general laws and providing for taxation of all logs, ties, and telegraph poles where they are banded; by Leavitt, a bill to amend laws for incorporation of villages; by Bell, a bill to allow the city of Minneapolis to issue bonds to complete the building of its court house.

Several senators who are supposed to be friendly to the Markham bill have not yet returned from their homes since Sunday adjournment. It is supposed that they are in the snow banks.

The following bills were introduced in the house today: By Minette, a bill to amend laws relating to the park board power to borrow money for a period not exceeding fifty years, and also power to issue bonds with the consent of the common council. It gives the park board power to issue certificates of indebtedness.

By Wagoner, a bill to regulate the maximum rate of fare to be charged for carrying passengers on mixed trains and providing penalty for failure therefor; by Merritt, a bill amending the general laws relating to villages of over 300 inhabitants and providing for municipal courts therein; by Turrell, a bill to provide for registration of paupers, insane persons and jail population; by Richardson, to allow soldiers of the United States army to carry on a circuit, getting a license; by Greer, a bill for an act creating, establishing and confining the district court of appeals in the state of Minnesota; by Catton, a bill for an act amending the general laws relating to appeals in court actions.

Mr. Merritt spoke in favor of the bill which passed the senate and came up the river, where Mr. Cleveland passed a duck shooting vacation after the campaign, is to be taken possession of by the government as a quarantine station. This conclusion has just been reached at a conference between Surgeon General Wiman, of the marine hospital service, and Secretary Carlisle, as the result of which Dr. Wiman was authorized to take the necessary steps to secure possession of the island and establish the station.

The present quarantine stations at the mouth of the Chesapeake have been considered by the steamship owners and others interested in ocean traffic to and from Baltimore as too far from the city, and since the enactment by congress of legislation authorizing the government to establish such additional quarantine stations as might be necessary to prevent the introduction to the country of contagious diseases, the marine hospital authorities have been searching for suitable location for Baltimore.

Factories Shut Down.
DETROIT, Mich., March 14.—A special to the News from Kalamazoo says: The river continues to rise but has not yet reached the mark caused by the ice gorge of 1887. All streams running into the Kalamazoo river in this vicinity are higher than for years. Several factories are shut down, including the Bostford paper mill.

THE REPUBLICAN LEAGUE.

Deep Mystery About the Meeting of the Executive Committee.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The Advertiser this morning says: An air of deep mystery surrounded the executive committee of the Republican National league, which met in the Plaza hotel last night. The avowed object of the meeting, as stated by President Clarkson, in his call, was to arrange a program to be adopted and carried out at the next annual convention of the league clubs which will assemble in Louisville, May 10.

Some discussion was also had on the nominee for the league presidency, the names more prominently mentioned being those of ex-Governor Joseph B. Foraker, of Ohio; W. W. Tracy, of Illinois; Col. E. A. McAlpin, of New York, and J. B. Patton, of Michigan.

Coal Prices Reduced.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The Eastern coal agents met this afternoon and agreed upon the following price of anthracite coal: Broken, 50 cents per ton; egg, 40 cents per ton; stove, 50 cents per ton; chestnut, 50 cents per ton. The reduction is to go into effect at once. The Western sales agent will not meet until the last of next month.

An Unfounded Report.

NEW ORLEANS, March 14.—News from Alexandria fails to confirm the report of the burning of the Valley Queen. Nothing had been heard of the destruction of the vessel up to 1 a. m. The Red river and Coast line officials, who are the agents for the Valley Queen, have received no news whatever from the boat and do not credit the report of her destruction.

Floods Cause Damage.

KEOKUK, Ia., March 14.—The pressure of rising waters in the Mississippi river caused the levee which protects the land of the Illinois bottoms in Lima Lake district, opposite Canton, Mo., to break last night and the lands are being overflowed to a depth of two or three feet. The damage will be heavy.

NEW QUARANTINE STATION.

Hog Island, Where Mr. Cleveland Went Duck Shooting, Is Selected.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Hog island (opposite the mouth of the Patuxent river), where Mr. Cleveland passed a duck shooting vacation after the campaign, is to be taken possession of by the government as a quarantine station.

This conclusion has just been reached at a conference between Surgeon General Wiman, of the marine hospital service, and Secretary Carlisle, as the result of which Dr. Wiman was authorized to take the necessary steps to secure possession of the island and establish the station.

The present quarantine stations at the mouth of the Chesapeake have been considered by the steamship owners and others interested in ocean traffic to and from Baltimore as too far from the city, and since the enactment by congress of legislation authorizing the government to establish such additional quarantine stations as might be necessary to prevent the introduction to the country of contagious diseases, the marine hospital authorities have been searching for suitable location for Baltimore.

WENT WITH A CRASH

The Kansas Trust and Banking Company of Atchison Caused a Sensation by Closing its Doors.

The Liabilities Are Estimated at $800,000 and the Assets Will Probably Reach That Amount.

Ex-Senator Ingalls Was President of the Concern—Loaned Money on Land at Boom Values.

ATCHISON, Kas., March 14.—A decided sensation was created in financial circles by the closing of the doors of the Kansas Trust and Banking company, of this city, at 7 o'clock last night. An application for the appointment of a receiver was filed in the United States district court at Topeka yesterday by the Eastern creditors of the institution. Judge Foster named Freedland Tufts, of Kansas City, as receiver, and he at once came here and took charge of the affairs of the concern.

The liabilities of the bank are estimated at $800,000, and the assets, so the officials claim, will fall far short of it. The company owned about 30,000 acres of land in Kansas, and about $200,000 worth of real estate in this city. Ex-Senator John J. Ingalls, the president of the concern, loses about $100,000. Mr. Manley, vice president and general manager, loses about $250,000 of his own and property belonging to the estate of his father, George Manley.

In the United States court yesterday, Manager Manley confessed the judgment against the estate of his father to the amount of $75,000. A confession of judgment was also made by him as manager of the company to the amount of $100,000. Every dollar that the Manleys possess has been lost in the crash. E. G. Armsby, cashier of the company, loses $20,000.

The company was organized in 1886 with a capital of $100,000. The principal part, if not all the capital stock, was subscribed by ex-Senator Ingalls, R. M. Manley and the Manley estate and E. G. Armsby. No other Atchison parties are involved. The statement of Mr. Manley is to the effect that the receivership is in the interest of the holders of the obligations of the company and will result in a complete liquidation of all claims.

The company became slightly embarrassed two years ago, at the time when the best land companies were compelled to succumb to the general depression, and was obliged to borrow largely to meet immediate demands. The concern loaned considerable money three years ago on Kansas property, at boom figures and was compelled to close in many instances without any chance of realizing as much as had been advanced on the loans.

The bank continued to receive deposits up to the hour of the closure, and not the slightest intimation that the crash was to come to some. T. F. Bird, attorney for the Eastern creditors, said today: "I understand that the affairs of the company have not been in good shape for some time. The company has three classes of creditors—first, the holders of first mortgages on real estate in Kansas, whose loans were guaranteed by the company; second, holders of debentures, which were protected by deposit of mortgages with a trustee in amounts which were debentures issued, and third, creditors holding the notes of the company for borrowed money."

"The first two classes are fully protected by their securities and the latter class are secured by the company, so that in my opinion to loss will be sustained by any of the creditors. Of course the stockholders will lose unless the company can be reorganized. The company has about 30,000 acres of land, all of which is rented, and the rents are sufficient to pay the interest on the mortgages that are on the land. There will probably be an effort made to reorganize the company, and I think that reorganization may be effected if the creditors get together and find out that united action would be the best for all parties and take that action."

THE PANAMA SCANDAL.

Hearing of Witnesses Ended the Arguments Begun.

PARIS, March 14.—The court of assize was again crowded today when the trial of Charles De Lesseps, Ribaute and their fellow defendants was resumed. The audience included a number of prominent men whose names have been mentioned in connection with the Panama scandal. The effect of the vote in the chamber of deputies was plainly visible in the less satisfied air of the enemies of the government. The defendants themselves looked worn and fatigued by the strain and anxiety of the trial.

At the opening M. Barbois protested against what he called the erroneous construction which had been placed upon M. Gollard's evidence in statements made the previous day from the tribune in the chamber of deputies. He said also that the imputation that Mme. Cottu's evidence had been concocted previously was false and calumnious. M. Constans, the former minister of the interior, was called to the stand. He denied in emphatic language the alleged assertion of M. Guyot to the effect that he (Constans) had handed to President Carnot a list of deputies implicated in the alleged bribery and corruption connected with the Panama lottery bonds bill. He said never, he declared, possessed such a list. This ended the brief examination of M. Constans.

M. Le Roy was then again examined as to his excuse for depositing a large sum of money at the time he was charged with having received a similar amount for changing his vote in committee on the lottery bonds bill. He produced documents intended to corroborate his explanation that the deposit was simply part of a re-investment of his wife's dowry of 200,000 francs. The advocate general observed that the documents entered by Sans Leroy had no bearing on the case. Leroy vehemently protested against the statement of the advocate general.

Lieut. Lucien N. Bonaparte Wyse, the French engineer prominently connected with the efforts to prolong the Panama canal enterprise, testified that he remembered that M. Moncloux, official liquidator of the Panama Canal company, had mentioned eighteen months ago that the directors of the Panama canal had handed him a sealed paper.

Charles De Lesseps hastily arose and denied this statement. He said he had given M. Moncloux a full account of all expenditures except 1,400,000 francs, the employment of which he had fully and candidly explained to the examining magistrate, M. Franquville.

This declaration of Charles De Lesseps caused a sensation, and spectators could be heard discussing the revelation in loud whispers. The presiding judge intimated that unless M. Moncloux could testify before the close of the hearing, his disposition would be read.

The hearing of witnesses being concluded M. Bouilly, one of the counsel for the prosecution, then addressed the court, his argument being, however, readily intended for Charles De Lesseps. M. Bouilly adjured Charles to indicate the destination of all the money paid to Reinach and to Arion and to divulge the tenor of the treaty between Cornelius Herz and the Panama Canal company. M. Bouilly, late chief of the detective department, Howard Gould, Samuel D. Sloan, Cottu, and he concluded by appealing to Charles De Lesseps in his own interest and in the interest of the public to divulge the names of the deputies on the famous list of bribe takers.

The Ministry Sustained. PARIS, March 14.—After a debate in the senate today on the facts brought out in the Panama prosecution the senate voted confidence in the government by 209 to 56.

McLeod IS IN CONTROL. He and His Friends Elected Officers of the New York & New England.

BOSTON, March 14.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the New York & New England road was called to order in the afternoon at 11 a. m. by Charles A. Prince, and in the absence of the proper officers Mr. McLeod was unanimously chosen to preside and was greeted with hearty applause.

After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and President Parson's report the election of officers took place and resulted as follows: Archibald A. McLeod, Philadelphia; Thomas C. ## THE BOILING SAGINAW.

An Unbroken Lake Extends Between Saginaw and Bay City.

SAGINAW, Mich., March 14.—The Saginaw river is coming down in the shape of a boiling torrent and huge cakes are swirling up threatening as fast the railroad bridge. A force of men are following up the ice near the Belt line bridge.

A large quantity of lumber has been washed away from various docks which are submerged. Many cellars are full and merchants' stocks have been heavily damaged.

The prospects are that the water will be higher than for fifteen years, as the snow in the rivers is three feet deep and the small streams are still full of ice and are sure to swell the river. An unbroken lake extends between Saginaw and Bay City.

A Blaze at Chicago. CHICAGO, March 14.—Fire this morning in the building No. 26 Clybourn avenue, occupied on the first floor by the Enterprise Tailoring company and on the second by St. John's mission chapel, caused a loss of $20,000.

Perished in Prairie Fires. DENVER, Col., March 14.—The prairie fires in southeastern Colorado are under control. A dispatch from Lamar says that James Thomas and his wife and little daughter perished of several farm houses and barns have been burned.

A Bank Robbed. MONTGOMERY CITY, Mo., March 14.—The Farmers and Traders bank was burglarized early this morning. The robbers blew open the safe with dynamite and secured about $1000.

St. Paul, Minn., March 14.—Best coal, lowest prices, promptest delivery.

Mayor d'Autremont sent in the appointment of F. H. Frisbie to be a member of the board of public works to succeed Nils Nilson and Frank M. Thomas to succeed Alex McGregor on the fire commission.

Alderman T. W. Hugo introduced an ordinance providing for the issue of thirty-year 4 1/2 per cent bonds to the amount of $200,000. These are to be sold April 1, are to be sold to the highest bidder at not less than par and are to be subject to meet loan certificates due May 1. By common consent the ordinance was placed on its second reading and passed.

The bond of C. E. Richardson, city clerk, in the sum of $500 with W. E. Richardson and J. P. Johnson as sureties, was referred to the proper committee, was soon after reported upon favorably and as quickly approved. The recommendation of City Attorney C. E. Richardson, A. H. Crasswell, be appointed his assistant, was referred to the committee on public offices and officers and elections. Eleven resolutions providing for the reissue of matured city orders in favor of the Duluth Loan, Deposit and Trust company were referred to the finance committee. J. D. Holmes was retained to represent the city in the argument of the city's side of the case in the fire commissioner's middle in the supreme court April 4.

THE MAYOR'S MESSAGE.

A Long Document in Which Many Subjects Are Touched Upon.
Mayor d'Autremont read his annual message to the council. It was as follows:

Our city charter provides that the mayor "shall, from time to time, give the common council such information and recommendations as he may deem advantageous to the city," and since the enactment of the above provision it has been customary for the mayor to do so at the first regular meeting of a new council, although it would seem better to delay the same until after the annual report of all the different city departments so that facts and figures in a brief form might be given for your consideration.

There is much that might be said regarding our city and its welfare that more than touch upon the leading points would prolong this communication to an unnecessary length and tire your patience. For a proper statement of the condition of the city you must refer to the reports of the various departments. During the past year our city has been pushing forward with great strides, the new buildings erected costing over $2,700,000, and aside from the annexation of Lakeside, there has been a great increase of population, while business, as shown by the reports of our jobbers and the numerous railroads centering here has increased to an extent that not only surprises us all, but shows plainly that in a few years by standing together and all working for our common good our city must, and will, become the commercial metropolis of the Northwest. To achieve such success we cannot stand idly by and expect to be thrust upon us, nor blind our eyes to the fact that we have a wide awake, active, vigorous rival at our very doors, and it is not sufficient that we strike while the iron is hot but we must make the iron hot by striking, to do which all natural advantages should be utilized.

The best water power in the Northwest, over 35,000 horse power at low water, almost reaches the city, and by its development the power, with not over a loss of 10 per cent, can by an electric wire be conveyed to wherever within our limits mill or manufactory may be most advantageously located, and with a fair profit, at only $15 per year per horse power, while the same power at Minneapolis, I am told, costs over $40 per year.

When we consider what an advantage to locate a factory or mill right at the edge of navigable water, with a railroad on one side and a dock for domestic and foreign boats on the other, with the advantages of such cheap power to run the machinery, we can see how much the development of the dallas of St. Louis will help our prosperity. And we should do everything possible without further delay to arouse the company now owning the valuable power from its Kip Van Winkle sleep.

While in the heart of our city manufacturing sites and dock fronts are expensive, yet just back of our city hall separated from the business part of our city by a ship canal only 250 feet wide, stretches for six miles Minnesota Point, with boisterous Lake Superior on one side, and the quiet waters of the bay on the other, only waiting to be made easily accessible by railroads to become one of the greatest manufacturing points in the Northwest, increasing the value of all our property and doubling our population.

The United States owns the canal, and on account of its opposition to a bridge that idea, after spending at least $15,000 in plans and incidentals, had to be abandoned, and we are compelled to adopt the better but more expensive plan of making a tunnel underneath the same. This will cost from $800,000 to $1,000,000 before it is finished, for such undertakings generally exceed the first estimates, and while large as is the expenditure, it is necessary for the development of our city and to maintain our supremacy at the head of the lakes, you gentlemen should use the greatest care in the construction of the tunnel, for the same before any money is expended or liabilities incurred. Plans have been made by able architects and a bill has been introduced into the legislature, which before that was printed in full in the newspapers here authorizing the same and assessing three-fourths of the expense on the property benefited and one-fourth to be paid from the general fund, which latter is to be returned from rents for its use. The lots beyond the canal will increase three dollars in value for every dollar of assessment paid for the tunnel.

Proper increments should be held out to manufacturers to secure their location here, and it should be made as easy as possible for new railroads to obtain an entrance into the city, while at the same time ordinances granting rights and franchises should be carefully examined and considered, and published in full in the newspapers at least one week before their passage; and if after such publication amendments are made, they should be published as amended before passage, so as to be subject to the freest criticism by all interested. This to a great extent would be a safeguard and prevent us winking at some morning in the future and finding, as has been in the past, that while honestly trying to aid some enterprise a monopoly has been enabled to fasten its grip upon us.

The City's Health.
Of more importance than anything else is the health of our city, and the statistics of the health department not only show that this is good, but really remarkable—for based on a population of 10,000, which is far below the number of people here, and the death rate for the past year is only 0.7 per 1,000, while the death rate in St. Paul was 1.3, Minneapolis 1.38, and Milwaukee 1.6. During the last month there were ninety births and only twenty-one deaths, or a death rate of less than 7 per 1,000 per annum, showing that not only was our city never in a healthier condition than at present, but that it is one of the healthiest places in the United States. This is due to two causes: Our splendid climate, and the vigor of our health department in enforcing sanitary regulations. On account of the cholera scare last summer great pains were taken to thoroughly clean the city, as cleanliness is the best preventive not only of cholera, but of many other diseases. We should be vigilant, for cholera still exists, and it is possible it may be brought to Chicago the coming summer and from there scattered broadcast over our land. As winter breaks up, all yards, streets, avenues, alleys and outhouses should be thoroughly cleaned and then kept in that condition, "for prevention is better than cure."

While on this subject, I wish to call your attention to the fact that the sewers on Fourteenth and Fifteenth avenues east discharge into the lake too near the water company's intake pipe, and the sewers should be stopped up and some other means devised to get rid of what passes through them, or, better still, you should compel the Gas and Water company to remove its intake pipe further down the lake, for with the waves of Superior beating on the city limits for miles, our citizens are entitled to at least one pure beverage.

City Finances.
In a new growing Western city the expenditure of money for necessary public improvements and the management of the city must of necessity be much larger than in a quiet old Eastern city of the same population. Our foundation must be broad and deep if we are to build a great city here, and at the same time it is absolutely necessary that economy should be practiced in every department of our city government, and every dollar of public money expended should be made to go as far as possible. Extravagance in the management of municipal affairs has done more than anything else to bring discredit on city governments throughout our country.

The following figures taken from the comptroller's books show the amount of money expended during the last twelve months as compared with the twelve months previous:

Police department.....	$2,027 75	$1,380 25
Street department.....	41,079 55	76,224 71
Engineers department.....	10,259 44	10,259 44
Board of public works.....	2,049 45	9,500 30
Health department.....	1,000 00	5,270 00
Assessor's department.....	2,794 07	4,541 71
Municipal court.....	9,057 57	10,000 00

Street and other light..... $5,000 75 $7,200 95
City engineer..... 31,227 74 25,000 00
Fire department..... 5,575 01 60,000 00
Street improvements..... 15,141 17 40,204 08
Road interest..... 47,250 00 50,500 00
Road improvements..... 1,200 00 1,200 00
Parks..... 24,001 03 5,572 09
Library..... 14,100 00 14,100 00
Other disbursements..... 74,342 08 62,000 00

Total expenditure, $1,588,645 75 $1,107,813 77
When we consider how our city has grown in population in the last year the above is certainly a very creditable showing; the street department alone shows a marked increase of cost, and this is explained from the fact that a great deal of new territory has been added to our city, and in addition to that the board of public works informs me that there are over $200,000 that the street department should be credited with for crushed rock sold or labor performed for the Gas and Water company and the lay on the other side.

The total assessed valuation of the real and personal property of our city is $31,640,772, with a bonded indebtedness, including that of Lakeside, of $1,465,650 in addition to which there are about $208,000 outstanding orders and permanent improvements that the city is indebted to $500,131. Almost half of these certificates were issued by the former city of Lakeside.

There is also due the city from property owners for improvements made in the past over $630,000, and it is to be hoped that by means of a bill now before the legislature it will be enabled to collect this money due the city much more promptly in the future than in the past. During the past year the city has made provision for the future by the sale of bonds, which will be sold at 5 per cent, and I want to call your attention to the fact that $200,000 of the city bonds come due in May of this year, and new bonds will have to be issued therefor, and no time should be lost in at once making provision for the same.

There has been in the past some little difficulty in regard to the city's credit, but I am pleased to inform you gentlemen that an arrangement has been made with two trust companies whereby they take all permanent improvements, certificates at par, and also cash all city orders at par, a saving to the city of a good many thousand dollars over previous methods.

Library Building Needed.
Lest some one, in looking over the above statement, would think that no attention is paid to education in our city it is but necessary for me to mention the fact that our schools now are, and in the future we hope to keep them, entirely out of politics, and the city government proper has nothing whatever to do in the management of the schools. We have greater pride in our schools and have spent money more freely for them than any city of our size in the country and own school property worth $1,200,000, and are one of the best equipped in any city in the United States, excepting Fall River, Mass., with other large school buildings scattered over our city, and an able corps of teachers, all of which is under the management of the board of education.

Our public library is constantly increasing and soon it will be necessary that they have new and larger quarters, and I would ask you, gentlemen, to devote some of the money that is certain amount of money can annually be set aside for the purpose of erecting in the near future a public library building. The city owns a fine lot on Superior street, and it is a very desirable one for the purpose of erecting in the near future a public library building.

The police headquarters and city hall are hardly adequate to the pressing needs of the city and it seems as if both buildings should be carried up one or two stories higher to meet the growing wants of our city.

Within the past few years a large sum of money has been expended on our park system and there are now one hundred acres of land included in our parks to which the city has not yet obtained title. If possible, this land should be acquired by condemnation or otherwise before it increases any more in value.

The Fire Department.
During the last year there has been an unfortunate difference between our honorable body and the fire department, and the matter is now in the courts to be settled there. It is of the greatest importance to all property owners and others that we have a good and efficient fire department, and it is to be hoped that the differences of opinion existing between the council and the fire department will be adjusted and that all may unite and do their utmost to build up one of the best fire departments in the Northwest.

Our fire escapes here are of the poorest kind. They should be constructed in a zigzag manner so that a woman or child could go down them as easily as a man could go up them, and a greatly increased in number, otherwise if a fire breaks out in the night time in some of our large buildings, there will be a terrible loss of life. The fire department is becoming a great nuisance, and especially, as in case of a fire, and the department should be provided with implements for quickly cutting and pulling down buildings, and in the future it would seem as if a proviso might be made where, if default is made in the payment of laborers or material men on contract work for the city, that the city should pay the same as if the contractor should be provided with the amount to the contractor's bondsmen. I have several times called the attention of the council to this matter and I hope your honorable body will give it due consideration.

The Police Department.
The police department is more closely connected with the mayor than any other department, for the reason that the responsibility is left with him of selecting men for the force, subject to your approval, together with absolute power of removal. It has been the aim of the mayor to try and build up the police force and keep it out of politics. No man has been removed except for cause. Every policeman should feel that as long as he does his duty his position is secure, and that from time to time as promotions are made fitness alone will be considered.

Situated as we are at the head of navigation, with many railroads intersecting here, discipline and vigilance are absolutely necessary, and that they have done their duty well a careful examination of the report of the chief will show. The force at present numbers fifty-four persons, viz.: One chief, one captain, one lieutenant, three sergeants, two detectives, one secretary, one telephone operator, two court officers, two jailors, one electrician, one lineman, two conductors of patrol wagon, two drivers, thirty-four patrolmen and a matron. The total number of arrests made during the last year has been 236, and $17,227.67 fines paid, while less than fifty of the arrests have been of a serious enough kind to be held for the grand jury.

While our city has two-thirds of the population of the county, the grand jury records show that almost three-fourths of the crimes of the land company concern take place in the county, arise outside of the city limits. This of itself speaks volumes for the efficiency of the police force. Our city is orderly and citizens lawabiding, and night or day, a woman unattended with escort can walk from her home to the city hall without fear of insult. I remain,

Very respectfully,

Superior. The Evening Telegram would not be cruel enough to expose the plans of Brother Hartley, concerning his new editor from Buffalo, as he did those of the land company concerning that new man from Chicago, but it would advise him to hang onto a good man while he has him, for the Buffalo may might be only a one-horse vehicle under stress of his own impatience. Of one thing the editor of these columns feels confident in assuring him, and that is that no controlling stockholder in the Evening Telegram would take advantage of the absence of the editorial writer to make a savage and uncontrollable assault upon Messrs. Hartley and Mendenhall, no matter how heinous might seem their attempts to guerdilla a bridge franchise through congress. It will take something more than a new editor to bring Gilbert peace in his own family circle of Duluth, and he can safely let alone the affairs of people and things in Superior.

Rheumatism Quickly Cured.

Three days is a very short time in which to cure a bad case of rheumatism; but it can be done if the proper treatment is adopted, as will be seen from the following by James Lambert, of New Brunswick, Ill.: "I was badly afflicted with rheumatism in the hips and legs, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It cured me in three days. I am all right today; and would insist on every one who is afflicted with that terrible disease to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm and get well at once." 50 cent bottles for sale by druggists.

O'DONNELL SUSPENDED.

The Fighting Fire Captain Will Have a Hearing Before the Commissioners.

Michael O'Donnell, the captain of ladder truck No. 1, at engine house No. 1, who allowed Bartlett, the bouncer, last Friday to hammer his face into the semibone of a map of the Sahara desert after a battle with an Arab tribe, has been notified to appear before the board of fire commissioners tomorrow morning, at 10 o'clock and answer for his actions. Chief Smith suspended Mr. O'Donnell Saturday morning.

As a temporary arrangement, owing to the sickness of one man, together with other circumstances, Lieut. Chas. Boynton was promoted to the captaincy and James Dunbar was given the lieutenantancy. That fact caused Truckman Bushy to feel out of sorts because he was not promoted, being in the direct line of promotion. It is said that he and the chief had a little sharp conversation over the matter, and that Bushy quit the house threatening to take the matter to the board of fire commissioners. Chief Smith took that fact to the commissioners, and when Bushy came back yesterday and announced that he did not want to quit and asked for his old place he found that the matter was out of the chief's hands.

The commissioners this morning ordered that Mr. Bushy be allowed to continue, but that he be reduced in rank ten days for his act of insubordination. If it may be called that. Chief Smith was seen this morning and asked about the matter and as he would not deny the case, it may be considered a true statement of the case.

A Card.

To the Editor of The Herald:

It having been published in some of the papers that the fire at the residence of Henry H. Bell was caused by a defective electric light wire, I wish to correct the report. Mr. Bell's residence was not wired for electricity, there was no connection of the electric current; there are no electric wires connected with the building at all, and no wires nearer than the alley, therefore it was impossible for the building to catch fire in that way. Kindly give this as much prominence as possible as the impression has gone out that the fire was caused from the current of an electric wire.

CAME TO IT AT LAST

Duluth Street Railway Company Has Decided to Protect its Motormen from the Weather Hereafter.

Orders Placed Yesterday for Twenty New Vestibule Cars of the Latest Design.

The Old Cars Which Will Be Used in Winter Will Be Vestibuled—Power House Machinery.

In advance of legislative action and actuated by a humane desire to afford the comfort possible to its employees the Duluth Street railway has at last decided to vestibule all its old cars as soon as possible, except the summer or open gondolas and the "emergency" cars. A contract was closed yesterday afternoon for twenty new cars fully vestibuled and with several improvements which have come in use since the last cars were received here.

The new vehicles will come from the LaCade Car company of St. Louis, and are to be delivered in two lots—ten or before June 15, and ten on or before July 15. A number of additional gondolas or open cars are being considered and an increase in that kind of rolling stock is being considered and will probably take place before the hot weather sets in.

The new machinery for the incline power house will soon be placed in position and will be vastly different from that now in use, and much more powerful. The new cables will be much heavier. The company management is particularly gratified at the number of people who turned out at the pavilion concert last Sunday, and says that the concerts will be kept up right along now no matter what weather.

Next June, Lieut. Peary will start upon another expedition, having been granted a three-year's leave of absence for such purpose, the object of the expedition being to determine the detached land north of the main Greenland, and the unknown portion of the east coast; the determination of the transverse profile of the Greenland inland ice cap, further studies of the people, and a collection of natural objects of that region.

Lieut. Peary proposes to defray his own expenses, and to secure funds for that purpose he started upon his present lecture tour Jan. 3, and will continue the tour until April 30, visiting the larger cities of the country. He is being greeted everywhere with crowded houses. A notice lecture for the benefit of the children is being given this afternoon.

PASSING OFF QUIETLY

The West Duluth Municipal Election Is Rather Noiseless Although Plenty of Hard Work Is Being Done.

Both Sides Are Laboring Energetically and Vigilantly and Challenges of Voters Are Numerous.

John Dowling Notifies the Village That He Has a Small Claim for Damages Against It.

The West Duluth election is passing off very quietly today, both parties working earnestly, but with very little noise or parade. There is considerable challenging of voters, both sides being on the alert for the illegal voter. The prospects are that a heavy vote will be polled, but the election is so close that the result cannot be foretold. Both sides are confident and bets of two to one in favor of Martin are quickly taken by the Mallory men. There were many rumors to be heard last night about men who were being brought in from outside to vote, but none of them seem to have been verified. The fact can be seen on the surface the election is being fairly conducted.

The council meeting.

Claim for Damages Against the Village—Very Little Business.

The council held a very brief session last evening, there being just enough members present to make a quorum. A communication from Miss Booth, principal of the Longfellow school asking the council to clean off the sidewalk on Central avenue was referred to the street commissioner.

Notice was given that John Dowling had entered a suit against the city for damages, the sum of $23, sustained by driving over a defective bridge near the woolen mill. The annual reports of the village engineer and attorney were read and placed on file. The recorder was instructed to notify the people that the houses must be numbered.

The public, however, was not misled. We hope no dealers will make themselves ridiculous this time. ## TWO ARE KILLED Five People Buried in the Ruins of a Demolished Dwelling by a Brick Wall Falling.

J. S. Charter and His Two-Year-Old Daughter Killed in Chicago Early This Morning.

It Fell Upon the Chartiers' Small Dwelling, Killing Two and Badly Wounding Five People.

CHICAGO, March 15.—By the falling of a brick wall at a West Side fire early this morning, five people were buried in the ruins of a demolished dwelling and two firemen were injured. Three of the former were rescued alive and only one, it is thought, is in danger of dying. At about 2 o'clock fire was discovered in the picture frame factory of Steven Carter, a 5-story structure at 124 and 126 North May street, and in a short time the flames had spread throughout all the stories.

The top of the south wall, weakened by the burning of its supports and adjacent flooring, collapsed and fell upon the 1-story frame dwelling of J. S. Charter at 120 North May street adjoining the factory. Those supposed to have been killed by the destruction of the Charter residence are: J. S. Charter, Lillie Charter, his 12-year-old daughter. Injured: Stephen Carter, owner of the picture frame factory, rescued from the demolished dwelling internally injured, may die; Miss Hettienne Charter, rescued from Charter's residence, 12 years of age, taken from the demolished dwelling, will recover; J. E. Cook, driver of engine No. 3, crushed by falling wall, head and shoulders bruised, will recover; Patrick O'Connor, engine company No. 7, crushed by falling wall, badly bruised, will recover.

The work of rescue was at once begun and pursued on both sides of the ruined cottage, but at 5 o'clock this morning when Mrs. Charter was taken from the ruins of her former home, no more sound of life were heard, coming from beneath the debris. Fire Marshal Chapman and Paza then decided that, in view of the dangerous condition of the walls of the burned building, it would not be advisable to continue the search further. They ordered the firemen to withdraw until daylight when the search for the bodies of the victims was resumed. The body of J. S. Charter was found near the cottage south wall at 7 o'clock. The head was badly crushed by a section of wall and death must have been immediate. Soon after 9 o'clock the firemen reached the last victim, Lillie Charter. Both the bodies were removed to the morgue where an inquest will be held.

THE WHISKY TRUST.

The Usual Dividend Not Declared Owing to Overproduction.

PEORIA, Ill., March 15.—At yesterday's meeting of the whisky trust, it was decided not to declare the usual quarterly dividend owing to the fact that at present the company is overstocked with its product.

Nor is it probable that a dividend will be declared for some time to come, as the company needs a deal of money to carry its stock and needs all the cash it can raise at the present time for the prosecution of its business and to pay rebates due its customers as well as other liabilities incurred through the purchase of various distilleries and new mills.

The meeting which is in progress is not the regular annual one, however, that one occurring some time in April. The object of the present gathering is merely to discuss matters of interest to the trust and make arrangements for the coming meeting in April, at which time three directors are to be chosen in the place of Hobart and Green, of Cincinnati, and Terrell, of New York. The meeting in this city will come to a close tonight, when it is expected they will have finished their work.

SINGLE TAX KNOCKED OUT.

The System Held Not to be Constitutional in Maryland.

BALTIMORE, March 15.—The anti-single tax men have won. The court of appeals of Maryland has decided that a tax upon land alone for the support of the government of this state or any part of it, or the government of any county or municipality, is not in accordance with the provisions of our present constitution and cannot therefore be enforced.

This decision grows out of the single tax system enforced upon the citizens of Annapolis, in Prince George county. The system has been in operation since July 1, 1892.

The opinion handed down at Annapolis yesterday used the language: "As those who own buildings, improvements and personal property in any of the various forms are equally protected in their possessions and in their national rights by the state and local governments with those who own land, the support of these governments should place no heavier charge upon one than upon the other class of individuals. This has been the uniform and consistent policy always followed in Maryland. Eminent just in itself a sound and long accepted axiom of political economy, it has been incorporated in her organic law since Nov. 3, 1876. It has been upheld by her courts and steadily and tenaciously adhered to by her conservative people."

This decision ends the attempt to try the single tax in Maryland.

END OF A STRANGE CAREER.

Lord Herbert, a British Peer, Dies a Hermit in Indian Territory.

PARIS, Tex., March 15.—Word comes here from the Buckle mountains of the death of Lord Herbert, an English nobleman. The last few years of his life were spent under strange circumstances. Some years since a man still in the vigor and prime of manhood came without announcement into that portion of the Indian territory.

In an unfrequented spot he built a log hut. Day after day he wandered about the Buckle mountains. In this country, the home and refuge for many fugitives from justice, he was looked upon with suspicion. One day to a young man who mentioned these suspicions to him, he stated that he was of the British peerage, and that at home he was known as Lord Herbert.

This was told, and for three years he had been known by that name. Last week a party of cattlemen, well acquainted with the place and the habits of the hermit, rode by and noticed his horse standing by the fence whinnying and the dog lying in front of the door whinnying piteously. One of the party got down and went in and found the man rolling and turning in his bed, delirious and dying. The next day he died and the cattlemen buried him near his cabin.

BANK OFFICERS SENTENCED.

Australian Bankers Given Long Terms at Penal Servitude.

MELBOURNE, March 15.—The trials of certain officers of the Anglo-Australian bank, which failed in 1892, have resulted in Staples, the chairman of the bank, being sentenced to penal servitude for five years; Norwood the auditor, to penal servitude for two years, and Harolison, the accountant, to six months imprisonment.

The trial created much excitement throughout Victoria owing both to the high standing of the accused and the widespread bad publicity attending the failure of the Anglo-Australian, the Melbourne Land Credit bank, the Mercantile bank and other institutions of the colony.

The authorities declared their intention in November last to make an example of such of the directors and managers of these financial concerns as had been guilty of fraud, and the prosecutions have been pushed with vigor, certain directors of the late Mercantile bank, including Sir Matthew Davies, chairman, being also prosecuted on the charge of issuing a false and misleading balance sheet.

THURON HAS BEEN CAPTURED.

Arrest of the Wisconsin Insurance Swindler in New Orleans.

OSHKOSH, Wis., March 15.—Ferdinand Thuron, the man who tried to swindle the insurance companies out of $500,000 life in New Orleans. Requisition papers are ready and officers have left to bring him back for trial.

It is reported that George Lichtman, Thuron's partner, is in New Orleans, and the mystery will be solved in a few days when Thuron is alleged to have been captured, will be arrested as accessories.

The mystery will be solved in a few days when Thuron is alleged to have been captured, will be arrested as accessories.

Caught by Pinkertons.

CHICAGO, March 15.—Speaking this morning of the arrest in New Orleans of F. J. Thuron, who is alleged to have been at the head of one of the boldest and most gigantic frauds ever attempted on life insurance companies, D. R. Robertson, of the Pinkerton agency, said:

"The case was put into our hands by the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York. We traced Thuron all over the country until at last we located him in New Orleans. When arrested Thuron broke down and waived extradition and agreed to come back. He is now on his way north in charge of an officer. He will be taken to Oshkosh, where his crimes have been committed."

Will Not Interfere.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The president has refused to interfere in the case of Howard J. Schneider, the murderer of his wife and brother-in-law, and the execution will take place in the jail here on Friday next.

A PERJURER AND LIAR

Senator Donnelly Fiercely Roasts Rhodes, of St. Paul, the Manager of the Alleged Coal Combine.

Rhodes Swore He Had No Books or Accounts, But the Sergeant-at-Arms Found Them.

Appointment of Charles L. Lewis as Judge of the Eleventh Judicial District is Officially Announced.

ST. PAUL, March 15.—[Special to The Herald.]—The coal combine committee has secured the private books of J. J. Rhodes, agent of the coal combine, and it was discovered by Mr. Donnelly, who exonerated said Rhodes this morning in a flesh-creeching manner, that the coal combine held the coal dealers in this state as in a vice. Rhodes appeared before the legislature and petitioned to get his books back which gave the whole coal combine away. Rhodes, according to the Donnelly's statement on the floor of the senate, is a perjurer and liar, and gets $5000 a year reporting retail dealers who cut prices to the coal combine, who proceed to freeze them out of business. Rhodes, according to Mr. Donnelly, swore he had no books or accounts, but the committee sent the sergeant-at-arms and seized a full set of account books, in spite of Attorney Rhodes, who assaulted the official.

The following bills were introduced in the senate: By Phillips, to authorize Minnesota to issue bonds for half a million dollars to construct a bridge across the Mississippi river, by Morse, a bill for an act to consolidate laws, relating to parks and parkways in cities incorporated under the laws of this state, and a bill to aid the construction of railroad and wagon bridges; by O'Brien, a bill for an act to provide for an equitable adjustment of prices in buying and selling of grain by grade. It provides that prices of grain shall depend upon weights as well as grade.

The Wymann bill which places the surveyor general of the state on a salary of $5000 a year, instead of upon fees as formerly, came in from the committee with two reports. The bill was introduced to be indefinitely postponed, and the minority report proposed a substitute. After a severe fight a motion to accept the majority report was lost and the bill was placed upon the calendar.

Charles L. Lewis was appointed judge of the Eleventh judicial district last night by Governor Nelson, and it was announced this morning.

Senator Sanborn is drawing up a bill which will probably be presented in a few days, providing for an amendment to the constitution which will permit women to vote at municipal elections. In the opinion of some of the leading members of the senate judiciary committee, the electoral privileges which the women are now asking cannot be granted without changing the constitution. The Sanborn bill will be drawn in order that the suffrage question may be brought fairly before the legislature and discussed on its merits, if such a discussion is desired.

The bill introduced in the house yesterday by Mr. Greer, creating a district court of appeals, provides that the state be divided into three appellate districts, the first of which is to be composed of the Second and Fourth judicial districts; the Second of the First, Third, Fifth, Sixth, Eighth, Tenth and Thirteenth judicial districts; the Third of the Seventh, Ninth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth and Sixteenth judicial districts. Appeals to this court will be taken from municipal and district courts. The court is to be composed of an appellate judge who shall preside at all trials and any two judges of the district court, who shall sit with him. The appellate judge is to be elected by the electors in his judicial district in the same manner as the state officers are elected, and shall hold office for six years. His compensation will be $4000 per annum. The first election of appellate judges is to take place at the general election in November, 1891.

BRUSSELS, March 15.—The French police have arrested here two brothers named Schopp on suspicion of hatching an anarchist dynamite plot. Two infernal machines and a quantity of arms were found in the lodgings occupied by the Schopp brothers and the police believe that Mathieu, the celebrated anarchist, is in Brussels engaged in carrying some plot to be consummated possibly in Paris. The police are on Mathieu's track and hope soon to have him under arrest.

EGYPTIAN COTTON SEED.

A Quantity Received to be Planted in the Southern States.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The Egyptian cotton seed which was purchased by Secretary Rusk through the United States consul general at Cairo, Egypt, has been received at the department of agriculture.

The purpose of this importation of seed is, as set forth in Mr. Rusk's last report as secretary of agriculture, to undertake with the co-operation of the experiment stations in the cotton states, experiments with a view to producing a cotton of home growth which may serve as an efficient substitute for the Egyptian, of which during the last fiscal year more than $3,000,000 worth was imported in this country, an increase of 15 per cent over the previous year and of considerably more than a hundred per cent over the year ending 1890.

The cotton seed received at the department consists of two of the best known Egyptian varieties, the "afifi" and the "daniah." The distribution will be made to the experiment stations in the cotton states, and also through the senators from those states to planters who they recommend as persons well qualified and willing to give the Egyptian seed a careful trial.

A report on the conditions of soil and climate and methods of cultivation of the Egyptian cotton is being prepared for the department under the direction of our consul general in Egypt.

SENATOR ROACH'S RECORD.

The Story of His Defalcation in Washington Years Ago.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The history of Senator Roach, of North Dakota, yesterday under the following headlines: "From embezzler to senator in fourteen years. Remarkable career of William N. Roach, recently elected to the United States senate from North Dakota. The sum was $24,000. While cashier of the Citizens' National bank he robbed the concern and falsified the books. Detected by Gen. Preswell, he confessed his crime and disappeared. He went to the Northwest, where he established a reputation for honesty; went into politics and was elected United States senator by the aid of bolting Republicans. His father-in-law paid part of his pilferings and the bank lost the rest. He is still liable to indictment?"

Mr. Gladstone's Condition.

LONDON, March 15.—Mr. Gladstone spent a good night. Sir Andrew Clark, who visited him at 10 o'clock this morning, states that he is progressing well. He remains in his bed room where he attends to business with the aid of his secretaries.

Stone Has Resigned.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The president has accepted the resignation of Governor W. M. Stone, of Iowa, commissioner of the general land office, to take effect March 21 next.

MISTAKES IN ENROLLMENT.

Several Serious Blunders Have Been Detected in Bills Passed.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—As stated yesterday the probabilities are that the clerks and some other employees in the bureau of engraving and printing, not directly employed in the production of greenbacks and other government obligations, will have to take certificates of indebtedness instead of cash for their salaries for the balance of the current fiscal year, as the result of an error in the enrollment of the deficiency bill which the word "thousand" was left off in the appropriation intended to be $37,000 for deficiency in pay of clerical and other help at the bureau of engraving and printing.

It is presumed that the employees will not be dropped from the rolls for the balance of this fiscal year, as they are necessary to the working of the bureau. It is said that the appropriations committee room that it is likely this will be considered as a case wherein government officers are authorized to create an indebtedness, under the statute providing that no government officer shall incur any indebtedness for government, except to save life and property. It may be held that the employment of these clerks is necessary to save "property."

Several other errors in enrollment have been discovered. In the pension appropriation an appropriation of $305,000 was intended for fees of examining surgeons. In enrolling the word "five" was left out so that the item reads "three hundred and thousand dollars." The deficiency of $5,000 from the proper amount will not be serious in view of the smallness of the amount and of the fact that it is made on estimates which in any event may be too large or too small and which can be remedied next session before the money actually appropriated is exhausted.

These are but a few of the mistakes that have been committed in enrollment of the appropriation bills, and others are expected to come to light every day.

THE PANAMA TRIALS.

PARIS, March 15.—There was but a small attendance today at the trial of Charles De Lesseps and his fellow defendants in the assize court. Counsel resumed their addresses. M. Legasse contended that the government had not shrunk from the proceedings against all the offenders concerned in the case, and he argued vehemently that the scandal would not cease till the whole truth would be revealed.

M. Roussele spoke in a similar tone. The advocate general delivered an address in behalf of the prosecution and energetically defended the course of the authorities. He contended that the evidence confirmed the guilt of the defendants.

Heavy Insurance.

LONDON, March 15.—Underwriters are asking 80 guineas per cent for insurance on the White Star steamship Naronic.

WITH CLOSED DOORS

The Senate Was in Session Nearly All Today, But Executive Business Was Being Considered.

A Meadville, Pa., Newspaper Publisher the First Postmaster Who Has Been Named by Cleveland.

List of the Republican Senators Who Have Been Assigned to the Various Standing Committees.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Upon the motion of Mr. Gorman, without doing any business, the senate at 12:10 went into executive session. The committee not having been reorganized, no business could be transacted, and while still in executive session the senate took a recess until 3:30 to enable the Republican caucus to finish its work. This has the effect of keeping the galleries and lobbies closed.

The Republican members of the senate went into caucus at 10 o'clock for the purpose of receiving the report of the committee making assignment of minority chairmanships and memberships of the various committees. At noon the caucus had not finished its work, and when the senate was called to order the Republicans entered the chamber, without being ready to make any report. It is the intention to take a short recess and complete the work at once. Something of a contest was manifested when it came to filling the vacancy on the committee on appropriations.

Mr. Cleveland today sent to the senate his first batch of presidential postmasters, and the first was that of Robert B. Brown, to be postmaster at Meadville, Pa. Mr. Brown, in addition to being the first appointee to a postoffice, has at the outset broken the rules said to have been laid down by the postoffice department that newspaper men should not be appointed to office. Mr. Brown is the owner and editor of the Messenger, a Democratic weekly published at Meadville, Pa. Mr. Brown has also shown his ability as a "hustler."

The Republican incumbent of the office, appointed almost four years ago by Mr. Harrison, was removed and about three weeks before his term was out Mr. Harrison sent the name of W. S. Rose to the senate for the place. Mr. Brown heard of this and came down to Washington armed with letters of introduction to Democratic senators. He succeeded in having the nomination held up until the Republican administration went out of power and then used his influence to secure his own nomination. The vice-president, laid before the senate the following resolution of the Massachusetts legislature:

Resolved, that it is the sense of this general court that it is expedient that the Hawaiian islands should be annexed to the United States and that the interests of the United States should be promoted thereby.

Mr. Teller, of Colorado, was substituted as chairman in lieu of Senator Stewart, of Nevada, on the appropriations committee. Other chairmen are as follows: Engineering, Mr. Allison, of Iowa; epidemic diseases, Mr. Jones, of Nevada; phosphate land claims, Mr. Hale, of Maine; committee to investigate the condition of the Potomac river in front of Washington, Mr. Frye, of Maine; woman suffrage, Mr. Hoar, of Massachusetts; additional accommodations for the library of congress, Mr. Morrill, of Vermont; five civilized tribes of Indians, Mr. Teller, of Colorado; transportation and sale of meat products, Mr. Platt, of Connecticut; corporations in the district of Columbia, Mr. Aldrich, of Rhode Island; revolutionary claims, Mr. Cameron, of Pennsylvania; claims of citizens of the United States against the government of Nicaragua, Mr. Hawley, of Connecticut.

The minority representation on the senate committees was subsequently announced by the chairman of the caucus as follows:

THE MISSOURI PACIFIC.

George Gould Likely to be Chairman of the Board.

ST. LOUIS, March 15.—The board of directors of the Missouri Pacific met today and adjourned until March 22 at New York when officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

Although nothing is positively known of the program to be adopted on that occasion, it is pretty well understood among railroad circles that the office of chairman of the board will be created and that George Gould will fill that office, that First Vice President Clark will be elected president, filling the vacancy caused by the death of Jay Gould, and that George C. Smith, the assistant general manager, will be promoted to the office of general manager.

HAVE NOT YET AGREED.

It Is Not Certain That the Ann Arbor Strike Is Ended.

TOLEDO, O., March 15.—There is no change in the strike situation today. Commissioner Kirkby and President Ashley are still working on the articles of agreement and will probably not announce their decision until tomorrow.

The Ann Arbor issues notice to connection that it is ready today to interchange business. The old men have not yet gone back to work. There is a possibility that Railroad Commissioner Kirkby and President Ashley will not agree. They have been talking the matter over for two days now and do not yet have a nearer a solution.

THE ANTI-SLAVERY SOCIETY.

BRUSSELS, March 15.—The Belgian Anti-Slavery society has written an urgent communication to Baron Lambert, secretary general of the ministry of foreign affairs, imploring that diplomatic action be taken to stop the continually growing supply of arms to Arab slave traders via East Africa in defiance of the provisions of the Brussels anti-slavery conference.

Belge commenting on the communication, says that the Belgian anti-slavery society has conclusive proof that England and Germany are offenders in tolerating this traffic.

Gould, Russell Sage, Victor Horawetz, Howard Gould, Samuel Shethor, John T. Terry, Henry Whelan, A. L. Hopkins, Duncan D. Farquhar, R. J. Lackland, George W. Allen, S. H. H. Clark and L. K. Root.

He was convicted of felonies and is now pending trial, and as Loring showed up last Friday apparently to meet certain death, he perhaps thinks he has victimized his honor.

Chicago Republicans.

Is Opposed to It.

The stock exchange recently mailed resolutions protesting against the Tanney bill taxing mortgages, to Senator Daugherty. Are Pushing the Bill.

If it passes, some vigorous prosecutions in Duluth are promised.

WHEAT CLOSED HIGHER.

After an Early Weakness the Market Ruled Strong and Active.

The wheat market was fairly active today and stronger after the early part of the session. July wheat was very active, owing to large buying orders from the outside, principally from Minneapolis houses. The country dealers seem to be buying in their short. May wheat in the Minneapolis market and putting it out here for July. They thus obtain from 3 to 4 cents per bushel for carrying it to July. The opening here was 12 1/2 cents last night's close, followed by a drop of 1/2 to 3/4. This decline was slowly reversed and the market so far is to be more. The close was firm at 12 1/2 to 1/4 higher than yesterday for cash and May and track wheat. Following were the closing prices: No. 1 hard, cash, 61 1/2; March, 61 1/2; May, 61 1/2; July, 61 1/2. ## SUSPENDS O'DONNELL

Fire Commissioners After Investigating His Case Give Him a Layoff Without Pay.

Bartlett Confessed Himself to be to Blame and to Have Given Great Provocation.

The Full Board Was Present and All Three Commissioners Voted for Suspension.

Capt. O'Donnell, of the fire department, had his little escapade of last Friday duly investigated by the fire commissioners this morning. The meeting had been called for 10 o'clock, but the performance did not open up until 10:30, when President McGregor put in an appearance. That made present the full membership of the board and Chief Smith, Capt. O'Donnell, Al Salter, the saloonkeeper, and a couple of reporters were also present.

The first thing on the program was O'Donnell's story of the trouble. He stated that it was his day off, that he went down to the West End with Salter and then to the hospital to see a mutual friend, who was sick. Coming back to Salter's saloon, a couple of drinks were taken and a conversation entered into, which ended in Donner Bartlett's coat being pulled off for a fight. O'Donnell stripped for the fray and even took off his overshoes. Salter objected to a quarrel in his saloon and the fight was continued in the backyard. O'Donnell could not stand on the slippery ground, was downed, and after being kicked in the face and hip by the "bouncer," the latter cut and run. O'Donnell, not wishing to show up in that condition, sent up a substitute but afterwards learned that temporary promotions had been made and that he had been suspended pending action. He averred that he was no "scrapper" and that during the four years' connection had never been in any other trouble.

Chief Smith then testified that O'Donnell was an A. No. 1 fireman and that his record has been excellent. Mr. Salter testified that he saw the fight, that the "bouncer" was the one at fault and that "Donnell's" action was natural, excusable and such as any man among the commissioners would have taken.

Commissioner Helinski stated that Bartlett had been to his office and took all blame to himself, told the circumstances and said that it was due to his being drunk.

Capt. O'Donnell was then excused. The board was unanimously in favor of punishment. Thirty days suspension without pay was suggested. The question of a reduction in rank was broached, but President McGregor thought either suspension or dismissal were the only two satisfactory forms, feeling that a reduction in rank would not be productive of the desired results. Mr. Helinski seconded a motion of Mr. Hart to suspend thirty days without pay and all the members voted aye.

HE IS NOW JUDGE LEWIS.

Governor Nelson Has Appointed His Friend to the Judgeship.

A St. Paul dispatch says that Governor Nelson last night appointed Charles L. Lewis to be the third judge of the Eleventh judicial district. Mr. Lewis is about 35 years old, a graduate of the University of Michigan, where he was a classmate of Z. D. Scott, also of this city. He came to Minnesota in 1880 and settled in Fergus Falls, at once assuming a prominent place in the bar of Otter Tail county. He served as county attorney in that county one or two terms, and in 1888 was sent as a delegate from the old Fifth district to the Republican national convention in Chicago. In 1887, he presented the name of Moses E. Clapp to the state convention, when he was first nominated for the position of attorney general. He opened an office in Duluth as a member of the firm of Smith & Lewis, a little over two years ago, and recently formed a partnership with A. E. McManus.

New Independence Officials Asked for the Sheriff's Assistance.

At the request of the chairman of the board of town supervisors at New Independence Sheriff Sharpy sent Deputy C. J. Klipper and two deputies out to that point to assist in maintaining order at the election yesterday. The township officials feared a repetition of the trouble of a year ago when the ballot boxes were stolen and the returns tampered with.

WILL BUILD ANOTHER

The Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railroad Decides to Construct a Second Ore Dock.

Will Be Nearly Half a Mile Long and Parallel to the One Now Being Built.

Work Will be Commenced Early in the Fall and the Dock Completed This Year.

The Duluth, Missabe & Northern people will build another ore dock parallel with the one now being built in the Marine division. It will be 370 feet long and will be a counterpart of the one under construction. Work will commence early in the fall and the dock will be completed this year.

The immense amount of ore handling which the road has in prospect indicates now, even before the first dock is completed, that the road's facilities will be cramped. New contracts are constantly being made and building of another dock is an absolute necessity. The road has therefore decided to make its plans early and not suffer from lack of facilities.

BLEW OUT THE GAS.

Boggs and Cotton Had a Narrow Escape in a St. Paul Hotel.

It is a lucky thing for Messrs. Boggs and Cotton, of the Duluth delegation in the house, that they are accustomed to the bracing atmosphere of the Zenith City and so thoroughly enjoy breezes like those of yesterday that they leave the window to their room at the hotel open at night, says the Minneapolis Journal.

Early yesterday morning, while the night watch at the Windsor, in St. Paul, was going his rounds, he detected the smell of escaping gas and soon located it as coming from the room of these two legislators. After much pounding and kicking he succeeded in arousing the inmates of the room and getting in.

He found, as he had expected, the gas jet wide open and the gas escaping at a rate that would have soon suffocated a man from this section of the state, but the Zenith City boomers had the window wide open and the fumes of the escaping gas did not affect them in the least. Mr. Cotton was in his seat yesterday morning none the worse from his experience and it is presumed that Mr. Boggs suffered no serious inconvenience.

CONCLUDED TO CME.

William Smith and James Murphy Did Not Wait for Requisition Papers.

Detective Dan Kenna went to West Superior last evening and induced William Smith and James Murphy to give up the idea of fighting requisition proceedings and brought them over and lodged them in the city jail. They appeared in police court and had their examination set for 10 o'clock a. m. March 17, which, it will be remembered, is St. Patrick's day. These are the two men who are supposed to have been the ones that held up and robbed Pete McElroy Monday night and who were arrested at West Superior by Detective Hayden.

H. E. Hawkins, charged with drunkenness, admitted his guilt and was sent to the county jail for ten days. Thos. Clarke, charged with vagrancy, went up for ten days.

The Columbian stamp will be of similar style to the rest of the series and the picture will represent the famous work of Francisco Jover, which is now in Spain, and the title will be "Columbus Restored Favor." The color will be magenta red.

A new 4-cent double reply international postal card for use between countries in the international postal union has been issued. The Columbian stamped envelopes are out and are very pretty. The department here has also received the postal laws and regulations of 1893.

THE ARCTIC REGIONS.

Lieut. Peary Lectures on His Trip Across Greenland.

Lieut. Peary missed his railroad connections or had his train delayed yesterday, hence the large number of teachers, pupils and scholars who appeared at the Temple to hear the 4 o'clock lecture were doomed to disappointment and had to be content with simply getting back their ticket money.

When the evening hour for the lecture rolled around the house was filled, chairs even being placed in the aisles to accommodate some of the listeners. The curtain arose a little tardily, but when it did Mr. Peary stepped forth and, after a short apology and expression of regret that he had missed his afternoon appointment, he launched out into his subject and for an hour and a half held the closest attention of the audience.

He first gave a simple geography lesson on Greenland, saying that it was as long as the width of the United States from north to south and that the only visible land is a narrow fringe around the edges. Back of a broken and mountainous coast line is the snow-covered interior. The mountains and valleys, if there are any, are covered with the snow that has been falling for centuries. It is supposed to be from a mile and a half to two miles in depth. It gets deeper every year as the fall continues, little blows off and none ever melts.

Lieut. Peary then took up the features and incidents of his trip. In June, 1891, he left Brooklyn and last September, landed in Philadelphia, having spent thirteen months in the frozen Northland in company with his wife and five male companions. His colony or base of supplies was on the northwest coast of Greenland, on Ingfield bay. There he and his companions explored the surrounding regions, made scientific observations and studied nature in her frozen form generally.

The crowning feat of the lieutenant was a round trip of over 1300 miles, with a dog sledge and one companion, from his camp across the snowy interior to the northeastern coast. He reached a point not much more than 500 miles from the North Pole and 30 miles further northward than was reached by the ill-fated Jeannette on the opposite side of the American continent.

Lieut. Peary takes the position that Greenland is a continent instead of an ice-locked archipelago of islands, but with the ice-covered interior it is an impossibility to know anything of its topography.

The lecture was well delivered and was listened to with breathless interest. One great feature was the splendid collection of stereoscopic views which were steadily thrown on a screen by the attendant and which were highly explanatory of the subject matter of the remarks. At the close an attendant dressed in true esquiemo garb, stepped onto the stage with five esquiemo dogs—the remainder of Mr. Peary's favorite team. If the lecturer ever comes to Duluth again, he can be assured of a large and appreciative audience for it is certain he has struck a popular chord.

DONNELLY IS HOT

Roasts the Pioneer Press For Leaving His Name Off the Vote on the Markham Bill.

A Bill Legalizing Assessments in West Duluth Passed and Has Gone to the Governor.

New Judicial Apportionment Attaching Itasca, Cass, Crow Wing and Aitkin Counties to This District.

Donnelly's Coal Combine Committee Authorized to Hold the Books Seized at Manager Rhodes' Office.

ST. PAUL, March 16.—[Special to The Herald.]—Senator Donnelly rose to a question of privilege this morning and proceeded to roast the Pioneer Press for leaving his name off the list of those voting in favor of the Markham bill. He said it was a paper of small circulation but he did not like that over its benighted readers should be misled.

The finance committee's bill appropriating $15,000 for examination and selection of swamp lands to fill out the grant to state institutions passed the senate this morning.

Senate file 570 appropriating $2500 for a monument at Birch Cooley where certain brave men fell fighting Indians in the Indian outbreak, was passed under suspension of the rules in the senate.

House file 159, a bill legalizing and confirming assessments irregularly made in cities and villages for local improvements, passed the senate unanimously.

This bill legalizes certain West Duluth assessments for public improvements. The bill will go to the governor for signature today.

Senator Canestorp succeeded in getting the Duluth public houses, and warehouse bill out of the hands of the finance committee and placing it upon general orders today.

The committee on the coal combine investigation have decided to have the senate and house pass resolutions to give them authority to hold the books and private papers of Rhodes after the attorney general has decided that the committee exceed the authority granted them by the legislature.

The special committee of the judicial districts reported a bill which went on general orders today, which places, St. Louis, Lake Itasca, Cass, Crow Wing, Aitkin and Carlton counties in the Eleventh judicial district.

Senator Craven introduced a bill to create a state immigration bureau to consist of the governor, lieutenant-governor and secretary of state. The bill appropriates $10,000 to carry out the purposes of the commission.

In the house an important bill has been prepared to be introduced, providing that cities of over 75,000 inhabitants, and wards upon the Mississippi river, may appoint three commissioners to select lands for an extensive system of parks along the river front.

A resolution was passed to empower Donnelly's coal combine committee to retain the books and papers of J. J. Rhodes, which were seized by force.

Mr. Anderson's resolution, instructing a committee of taxes and tax laws to investigate whether the land grant originally given to the Lake Superior & Mississippi river was still withheld from taxation, and if so, to take steps to have it placed on the tax rolls, was adopted.

The Markham bill for the taxation of 2,000,000 acres of railway land was indefinitely postponed by the senate at 5:30 last evening by a vote of 30 to 20. The vote to adopt the report of the committee of the whole for indefinite postponement was as follows:

Yeas—Ayres, Bell, Brown, Burkhardt, Crandall, Craven, Davis, Dean, Eaton, Erickson, Guderian, Hammer, Hompe, Keller, Leavitt, Little, Little, McCall, McMillan, March, Mayo, Morse, Matt, Nelson, Peterson, J. W. Phillips, Sanborn, Smith, E. R. Smith, John Day and Stockton.

Nays—Allen, Barry, Borchert, Canestorp, Craig, Daugherty, Day, Dedon, Donnelly, Geissel, Graff, Kelly, Kislser, Ladue, Lommen, Probsfield, Severson, Stevens, Tawney and Woods.

The solid Twin City delegation, with the exception of Stevens, went against the bill.

The floor of the senate chamber was crowded with representative women yesterday afternoon when the women suffrage bill came up for discussion in committee of the whole. Senator John Day Smith, of Minneapolis, offered a substitute proposing an amendment to the constitution which will confer upon women over 21 years of age the right to vote for all municipal and county officers. The substitute was lost, and the original bill amended so as to eliminate from the state constitution the word "male" as a suffrage qualification, thus giving female suffrage without restriction. This measure was recommended for passage by a vote of 3 to 1.

The capital fight came to a climax last evening when the house recommended for passage by a close vote the first section of the bill for the reconstruction of a new capitol in St. Paul to cost not less than $2,000,000.

ROSEWATER WAS SLAPPED.

The Editor of the Omaha Bee Assaulted by a Politician.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 16.—This morning a "fight" was shouted in the house. In the corridor Sheridan, of Red Willow, had slapped Editor Rosewater, of the Omaha Bee, on account of the charge of Rosewater that Sheridan had attempted a hold.

E. P. Roggan, of the Bee, came to the rescue and was rescued. He is not before he had given Sheridan a powerful blow in the face. The affair created great excitement.

LATEST ADVICES FROM JAPAN.

A Large Silk Weaving Company Has Gone Into Liquidation.

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 16.—The steamer Empress of India, which arrived here yesterday afternoon, brings the following Japanese advices: A silk weaving company in Sakairi, which employs 1200 hands and manufactures $7000 worth of silk fabrics daily, has gone into liquidation.

A most successful experiment has been made in order to test the durability of a coast defense gun made of Japanese pig iron. The gun was submitted to the process of increasing the weight of the muzzle and the charge of each loading until it reached the fifty-sixth round, when the gun burst. The gun was one of a pair. The test was highly satisfactory. The suitability of Japanese iron for ordnance has thus been fully proved. It is much better than guns made of Italian pig iron.

On March 1 the minister president was the bearer of the emperor's message to the diet proroguing that body. This, the fourth session of the diet, was full of momentous incidents. The general attitude of the upper house, which made constant use of the word "unconstitutional," while the upper house was more cautious. For instance, when the emperor's message was presented, the imperial authorities promulgated game laws, the house of representatives at once passed a resolution declaring the matter unconstitutional but the peers simply pressed the question to the government and were presented with the latter's answer.

A professor of the imperial university says a lecture on the "Collision Between Education and Religion," that all emperors are revered as divine in the Shinto creed, and that the Japanese nationalist rests on this creed.

There is an attempt being made on all sides to settle the problem of religion and its politico-social bearings. Buddhism shows an energetic revival of activity. The conflict between Christians and their antagonists arise from the civilizational mission of the Japanese people, which has been gathering strength for the past five years.

TRAGEDY AT RICE RIVER.

The Wife of an Indian Attacked Her Husband with an Ax. But She Was Killed.

DETROIT, Mich., March 16.—News just received from White Earth says that on Sunday night the wife of John Sloan, a half-blood Indian, of Rice River, attacked him with an axe while he was in bed, cutting him severely and that he was able to take the axe away and killed her with it.

No cause is known for the tragedy but jealousy and whisky are thought to have had something to do with it.

TWO FIREMEN MAY DIE.

The Hall of the Turners in Paterson, N. J., Burned Today.

NEW YORK, March 16.—A special dispatch from Paterson, N. J., to the Evening World says: Turner Hall, a building covering half a block on Ellison and Groff streets, was totally destroyed by a fire that broke out at 4:30 this morning. Four firemen were injured during the progress of the fire, and it is believed that two of them will die.

The loss is roughly estimated at $75,000. The injured are very seriously hurt. They were caught in the building when the walls collapsed and it was with the greatest difficulty that they were extricated from the debris.

The fire was under control at 9 o'clock.

TO CLEAR CHEROKEE STRIP.

Four Troops of Cavalry to Drive Out the Boomers.

WICHITA, Kan., March 16.—Capt. Bishop, who reached Caldwell Tuesday with four troops of the Fifth cavalry from Fort Reno, yesterday received orders from headquarters to clear the Cherokee strip of all intruders.

He left Caldwell last evening with his command for the southern border of the strip, where it is reported the boomers are crossing over in considerable numbers. It is said that as soon as the troops are out of the way, the boomers who have congregated on the Kansas border during the last ten days will make a break for the coveted land.

In Fisher's Favor.

ST. PAUL, March 16.—Judge Brill has a decision for the defendant in the case of Rushton M. Dorman against William H. Fisher, general manager of the Duluth & Winnipeg, and others without leaving the bench, and on the merits of the case. The action was brought to compel Fisher to give up a deed to his large stock farm in Norman and Polk counties, on a contract with Dorman to exchange the farm for improved property in Minneapolis. Fisher refused to go on with this contract when he discovered that Dorman could not perfect the title to the Minneapolis property; and now the court has upheld the action.

A Thief Arrested.

A NEW TRIAL DENIED

The Decision of Recorder Smyth in the Murder Case of Carlyle Harris Handed Down.

Says the New Evidence Presented Would Not Have Changed the Verdict That Was Returned.

The Mother of the Condemned Was Hopeful of a New Trial But Still Confident.

NEW YORK, March 16.—A large crowd gathered in the general sessions court room this morning, in the expectation of hearing Recorder Smyth announce his decision on the application for a new trial in the case of Carlyle Harris, the medical student under sentence of death for the murder by poison of his wife, Helen Potts Harris.

When the recorder emerged from his private room to take his seat on the bench, he was at once besieged by a hand of reporters but he waved them aside and repelled all efforts to procure a statement from him as to whether or not he had arrived at a conclusion in the celebrated case.

It was learned, however, that the recorder's opinion, which was nearly if not quite ready for promulgation, was quite long and comprised a thorough analysis of the evidence taken at the trial and offered on the application for a retrial.

The recorder soon returned to his private room and it was given out that he would not hear the case today. He was understood to be putting the finishing touches to the opinion, and it was announced that the decision would be filed with the clerk of the court when completed, probably later in the day, and would then be made public tomorrow.

Later—Recorder Smyth today denied Carlyle Harris a new trial.

The decision of Recorder Smyth denying a new trial to Carlyle Harris rises up twenty-five pages of legal cap. It concludes: "A careful examination of all the facts and circumstances established upon the trial of this case, as well as of the additional facts which have been presented upon this motion by way of newly discovered evidence, leads me to the conclusion that if the defendant had produced the so-called newly discovered evidence or so much of such evidence as he legally admitted upon the trial, it would not have changed the verdict that was rendered against him. The motion is therefore denied."

Mr. Harris, Carlyle's mother, went to the court room this morning to await the decision. She was looking quite bright and was apparently hopeful. She criticized the stories in the morning papers wherein her son was quoted as inquiring "is it death" when his mother told him yesterday of the delay until tomorrow. "We did not speak of death," she said vehemently, "for it never will be death."

GREAT THINGS PROMISED.

Birth of Another Political Movement That Will Die Young.

PITTSBURGH, March 16.—Lafayette Hall, the birthplace of the Republican party, served this morning as the cradle of another movement which its promoters claim will yet dictate the politics and political economy of this great nation. The gathering does not much resemble the political conventions of modern times, but rather the meeting of country church people who had assembled for the purpose of organizing a new church or installing a new minister.

The convention began at 10 o'clock and was opened in the national air—"My Country, 'Tis of Thee." Then came a season of prayer. W. H. Tapp, of Allegheny, presided and the following platform of resolutions was adopted:

"Recognizing Almighty God as the author of civil government, the Lord Jesus Christ the ruler of nations, and the public standard to which all human enactments should conform, and that all our people are entitled to equal rights without respect to race, color or sex, we hereby unite in calling a conference of all persons who will join in a political party for the abolition or suppression of the drink traffic, United States and for such other moral, economic, financial and industrial reforms as are needed in the country."

A committee on organization and line of work was then appointed. President Tapp then began his address to the forty people in the hall. At its close J. R. Thompson, of Springfield, O., delivered a long speech on the work of the Prohibition party. At the conclusion of his speech a recess was taken.

Only Minor Grievances.

They will probably be in session most of the week.

THE BIDDING SPIRITED.

A New Jersey Club Offers $80,000 for the Corbett-Mitchell Fight.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Judging from present indications the bidding between the big athletic clubs in America for the international battle between Mitchell and Corbett will be very spirited.

Another organization has decided to try and secure the great fight. It is the Newark Athletic club of Newark, N. J., which has been organized for the purpose of giving glove contests. On behalf of the New Jersey organization, Arthur Lumley yesterday offered a purse of $80,000 for the contest and promised in the event of Corbett and Mitchell accepting the club's bid to deposit the amount of money mentioned in a bank, subject to the order of the referee, as a guarantee of the club's good faith.

He also stated that the officials of the Newark Athletic club will agree to post any reasonable amount with a responsible-sporting man to be divided between the fighters in the event of the club failing to live up to its contract with them.

Racy Contest of a Will.

OSHKOSH, Wis., March 16.—A month ago Andrew Thompson, a retired mill owner, died worth $50,000. Two years ago, when a widower of 63, he married an attractive young school teacher. They did not live happily. He was jealous, but remembered her very generously in his will. Now the children of his first wife will contest on the ground of incompetency and undue influence. Some sensational charges are made.

SETTLERS NOW HOPEFUL.

The Disputed Ownership of Lion Lands in Washington State.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 16.—A special to the Telegraph from Garfield says: Under the first administration of President Cleveland lion land settlers were allowed to file on lands. The lion secretary of the interior decided against the Northern Pacific railroad in the Guilford Miller case. Under the Harrison administration, the decision was practically reversed and the final proof was not allowed to be made.

With Mr. Cleveland's return to power, the settlers hope to get a review of the matter. Nearly 100 settlers met yesterday to prepare a petition asking for a reconsideration. James Hamilton Lewis offered to appear at Washington for the settlers without compensation.

A call was issued for local meetings on March 20 to elect delegates to a general meeting to be held here April 13. Three million dollars worth of lion lands have been locked up in this country for the last four years.

HAPPY IN DEATH.

They Were Miserable in Life and Decided to MILAN, Tenn., March 16.—In a lonely cabin near Reelfoot Lake, in Lake county, there was discovered yesterday the bodies of a man and woman clasped in each other's arms asleep in death. An empty revolver lying between them told the tale.

The bodies were those of Abner Carter and his wife, who lately moved to the county from Iowa. Some weeks ago the couple had a misunderstanding terminating in a domestic brawl in which the woman was severely beaten.

She left her husband but a reconciliation was effected. Last Saturday their infant died and they became despondent and ended their troubles in death. A note lying by the bedside said:

"Neighbors, we are going home, never to return. We were miserable in life, but will be happy in death. Farewell." (Signed) Abner and Jennie Carter.

Hanged to a Tree.

A HOST OF SETTLERS

A Large Number of Actual Settlers Expected on the St. Paul & Duluth Line.

Several Colonization Schemes Are Nearly Perfected—Something About Deposits of Coal in Carlton County.

If True it Would Make This Section the Hub of the Whole Universe Says Mr. Plough.

Land Commissioner Hopewell Clark, of the St. Paul & Duluth road is very well satisfied nowadays with the outlook for the demand for the company's lands. Since January 1, the inquiries have averaged over 100 letters a day and nearly all from the better class of intending settlers. Several large colonization schemes are on foot which will be fully realized in a couple of months and there are hundreds of individuals incoming settlers.

"In one township in Chicago county we have 120 families settled," said Mr. Clark, "and its only a little distance from the line of our road, and yet you can't see a single house from the track." When Mr. Clark was informed by a Herald reporter that Capt. Scott in Carlton county had discovered quite a deposit of coal, and after Mr. Miller had laughingly asked "Did he find it in our coal shed?" the land commissioner said "I'm not surprised he's found pretty much everything else, and I've rather been expecting a coal find." The presence of coal veins in Carlton county has been known to the St. Paul & Duluth directors for some months and they have been very quietly looking the matter up.

The possibility that land in considerable quantity might be found near Duluth led Mr. Plough to remark: "Phew! There wouldn't be anything on earth to match Duluth in that event. The head of the lake, and I mean both sides of the bay, would be the hub around which everything would revolve." Mr. Clark again interposed with the final remark as the limited pulled out: "We will show a bigger actual settlement on our lands this year than nearly all other roads in the state combined. We haven't been saying much before this, but things will hum this year, and every settler means in a slight degree the advancement of the cities at the head of Lake Superior."

Admiral Harmony Retired.
WASHINGTON, March 16.—An order was issued at the navy department today detaching Rear Admiral Irwin from command of the Mare Island navy yard and ordering him to command the Asiatic station, relieving Admiral Harmony, who returns home to retire. Commodore Brown, who was lately detached from command of the Pacific station, and who is now here waiting orders, is said to have been selected to take the place vacated by Admiral Irwin.

LICENSING THE ENGINEERS.

The Officers of the New York and Paris Can be Licensed.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Secretary Carlisle is at present inclined to adhere to the ruling made by Secretary Foster as to licensing the engineer officers of the steamships New York and Paris, of the American line.

The law provides that when the intention of becoming American citizens is declared six months previous to the application for license, the secretary of the treasury may issue licenses to foreigners as engineers on American ships.

The engineers on the Paris and New York declared their intention in accordance with the law, and will take out their naturalization papers in due course.

Cases of this kind are quite common on ships and steamers that ply on the lakes.

THE WORLD'S FAIR FUNDS.

Secretary Carlisle Will Soon Settle on the Necessary Security.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Secretary Carlisle has not yet decided what security he will exact of the World's fair commission before he places to their credit the $1,141,760, which by law he is required to withhold until security satisfactory to the secretary of the treasury is given for the return to the government of the $570,880 for the committee of awards.

Under the law there are two appropriations, each of $570,880, one of which is separate from and in addition to the $2,500,000 appropriated in souvenir coins and one of $570,880, which is part of the souvenir coin fund. Until security is given for the $570,880, the separate amount for the committee of awards, that amount and also $770,880 of the $2,500,000 will be withheld. Secretary Carlisle will decide the matter at the earliest possible moment, so as to let loose the $1,141,760 now tied up.

ASININE AND JOCKOONIAN.

A Hot Roast of Joseph Cook's Attack on Chicago.

Chicago Post: It is not necessary to pile up evidence in proof of the assertion that Joseph Cook, of Boston, is an ass. The jury decided this some thirty years ago without leaving the box. But it is interesting to note the growth of asinine—the evolution of the long-eared animal from a small, provincial ass to a loud, large, scenery-pervading, national and international equus asinus giganticus. And we believe there is nothing more in evolution for Mr. Joseph Cook after his talk on the World's fair in Tremont Temple yesterday. He has got to the end of the scientific rope.

The two statements which must be accepted in proof of the culmination of Mr. Cook's evolutionary progress are: First, that a "systematic effort" has been "already undertaken" to bring 25,000 girls to this city for vile purposes; second, that a "school of professional gambling" has been formed in Chicago. The two assertions are of the same class; only the first is a foul and disgusting lie and the second is a ludicrous and idiotic lie. Both are thoroughly asinine and jockonian.

We might go on at greater length about this gigantic ass' braying if we were not fearful of giving offense nearer home. For, truth to tell, nearly every slander which the Boston Joe Cook has given out from Tremont Temple originated in some of the minor Joe Cooks of Chicago. It was, we are mortified to say, from the lips of Chicago women he learned the first of these miserable falsehoods.

BOW (RING)

It is easy to steal or ring watches from the pocket. The thief gets the watch in one hand, the chain in the other and gives a short, quick jerk—the ring slips off the watch stem, and away goes the watch, leaving the victim only the chain.

This idea stopped that little game:

The bow has a groove on each end. A collar runs down inside the stem (stem) and fits into the grooves, firmly locking the bow to the pendant, so that it cannot be pulled or twisted off.

Col. Shepard's introductory address as host commended the policy of the extension of the navy and improvement of the navy yard which Secretary Herbert has in interviews, expressed as his policy. Secretary Herbert in response referred to his pleasant visit to the navy yard and

A Temporary Defeat.

The Markham bill for the taxation of railroad lands was indefinitely postponed by the senate yesterday afternoon. The railroad lobby did its work well and the list of senators voting in favor of the bill's indefinite postponement shows that the lobbyists knew who would be susceptible to their influence. Every Twin City senator, excepting Senator Hiram F. Stevens, voted against the measure that was demanded by the people of nearly every county in the state. Even the blatant John Day Smith, who is always hypocritically posing as such an ardent friend of the people, voted to kill the bill, thus showing that, when it comes to a showdown, he is for the railroads first and the people last.

Senators Daugherty, Allen and all the other senators from the northeastern part of the state voted in favor of the measure, but they were powerless against the numbers of the railroad senators. One of the amusing features of the discussion was the speech of Senator Eaton of Wright county, who is familiarly known as "Bill Merriam's man," against the bill. It was quite an ingenious argument evidently prepared by some railroad attorney, and the idea of Eaton pretending that it was his own production was ludicrous in the extreme. He and John Day Smith make a pretty brace of political hypocrites.

Although the bill is dead so far as the present legislature is concerned, the fight is not ended. The supporters of this just measure will never quit fighting until victory crowns their efforts. Arrangements must be made at once to continue the fight at the polls next year. Candidates for the house and senate must be pledged to support a bill of this character, and every senator who yesterday voted to indefinitely postpone must be marked for defeat. They are deserving of no mercy. They dug their own political graves, and now let them quietly repose there. It would be in the next twelve months that we can probably disturb the corpses, and probably offensive to the nostrils. But the Markham bill is not dead. It has been temporarily retarded, but its final passage is certain.

Solid and Secure.

The member of the board of trade, who was quoted in an interview published in the Herald yesterday, is evidently constructed on the pessimistic order. Because two or three flour mills have been erected across the bay, he argues that the grain trade at Duluth must be on the decline and will soon fly to the Wisconsin side. Then he turns alarmist and predicts the collapse of the Duluth board of trade unless—a handsome bonus be given to the board to assist in the erection of its new building. Up to this point the reader had naturally supposed the board of trade man was actually in earnest. Now it turns out that he was merely indulging in a little pleasantry. He has cracked his joke and had his laugh, and the Duluth board of trade still lives and prospers and will continue to grow and expand until even a larger building than the one now contemplated will become a necessity.

There is no more danger of the grain business leaving Duluth than there is of the adamant rock upon which the city is founded moving out into the center of Lake Superior. Both are solid and secure, and nothing can dislodge them from their foundations. Every flour mill erected at Superior or Duluth or West Duluth or any other point at the head of the lake means an addition to the business of the Duluth board of trade.

The fact that the board now finds its present quarters inadequate to handle the immense business shows that the stories of decadence are mere myths, the creations of pessimistic imaginations or the ill-natured concoctions of rivals who regard with ill-concealed jealousy Duluth's supremacy as the greatest wheat market in the world.

The San Francisco police should suppress the highlanders, else the citizens may find it necessary to resort to the extreme measures that were adopted at New Orleans in the case of the Mafiaists. These murderous societies must be driven out of America, and the time to crush them is before they have grown defiant and strong through failure to interfere with their devilish deeds.

A dispatch today states that Gen. E. D. Keyes, one of the wisest surviving generals of the Union army, is dying in California. Gen. Keyes is a graduate of West Point and was instructor of cavalry and artillery there for four years. He did gallant service in the war of the rebellion and was brevetted brigadier general in the regular army on May 31, 1862, for his conduct at the battle of Fair Oaks.

The Chicago Mail has found out what the Sunday fair closers are going to do for the tens of thousands their intolerant grounds. They intend to put up a building 85 by 150 feet and let 'em go to Sunday school.

The Herald's twenty-page edition of March 4 is receiving flattering comments from papers all over the country, and Duluth is being liberally advertised thereby.

Vice President Stevenson's wife says she cannot make a speech. But Adlai has not been heard from as to her ability as a certain lecturer.

AMUSEMENTS.

Maude Granger.

Miss Maude Granger, the actress who has made a decided sensation in the East by her remarkable portrayal of the adventures in the adaptation of Dumas' "Le Demi Monde," called "The Fringe of Society" is well known in this city and the announcement that she has been engaged to appear in the Temple on next Saturday evening, will be hailed with delight by her many admirers. The production of "The Fringe of Society" here will be exactly the same, as regards cast and settings, as the eastern one. The part of the adventures, which is not idealized by any means, fits Miss Granger as well as her Felix gowns, which is saying a great deal. She gives a vivid and fascinating portrayal of the part, carrying the audience with her from the beginning.

"Kathleen Mavourneen."

Tomorrow evening "Kathleen Mavourneen" will be presented by local talent for the benefit of the pro-cathedral at the Temple Opera house. This beautiful drama is always popular and last year was enthusiastically received. The cast this year is slightly changed from last year's. Miss Julia Donovan will again assume the leading role, that of Kathleen O'Connor and A. W. Lahey will appear as Terence O'More. Some fine music, consisting of solos, duets and quartets will be given.

The Duluth & Winnipeg.

Pembina Pioneer Express: The Duluth & Winnipeg has finally passed into the hands of the Canadian Pacific, and if we are not greatly mistaken Kitchison county will have another railroad during the next twelve months that will place us 200 miles nearer Duluth than we are at present, and which will be a God send to this country, as it will give us a direct Duluth market, and we can then do away with the Twin City bulls and bears. It is well known that the C. P. R. now owns the track from Winnipeg to Emerson; they have progressed well with their extension from Duluth, so that the time needed for building the rest of the road would not be great if pushed as soon as spring opens.

The Herald Leads.

St. Paul News: The Daily News and The Duluth Herald secured and published the details of the Marsh raid on the timber investigating committee so far ahead of the other papers that the latter have given up the idea of trying to catch up.

HAS TAKEN HIS SEAT

Judge Charles L. Lewis Took the Oath of Office This Morning and Commenced His Duties.

J. L. Washburn on Behalf of the Attorneys Extended His Congratulations and Best Wishes.

To This Judge Lewis Responded Briefly Expressing His Thanks and Acceptance of the Trust.

Judge Charles L. Lewis is on the bench and he falls into the judicial surroundings in a manner which gives entire satisfaction to all parties who have seen him there. He is quiet and very dignified. His rulings are made in a very low tone—almost too low, but this may wear off in time. He is courteous to all who have business in the court and pays very close attention to every fragment of the evidence.

About 9 o'clock this morning the judge clock reached the court house and went at once to Judge Ensign's private room where some time was spent in private conversation of which the public has no knowledge. Then Judge Ensign after an ineffectual search for a printed form of oath for incoming judges, administered the following to Mr. Lewis, which he subscribed in a free flowing hand.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, ss.
County of St. Louis.
I do solemnly swear that I will support the constitution of the United States, the constitution of the State of Minnesota, and to discharge the duties of my office faithfully and impartially, according to my best knowledge, judgment and discretion. So help me God.

Sworn and subscribed before me this 16th day of March, 1893.

J. D. Ensign, Judge District Court.
Then the new judge went into room No. 2 and the case of J. H. Taylor vs. J. H. Triggs et al was the first action to come before him. The respective attorneys are W. Hammons for the plaintiff and J. L. Washburn for the defendant. As the new judge passed through the gathering of attorneys, court attaches and newspaper men and took the judge's seat, Attorney J. L. Washburn arose and said briefly:

"Judge Lewis, I address you on behalf of the attorneys and members of the bar and to extend to you their hearty congratulations and the wish that you may remain as judge before it will many years to come. The bar greets you the more forcibly and particularly because the office came to you without any solicitation on our part."

To this kindly greeting Judge Lewis replied: "Gentlemen of the bar, while it is true that the position came to me without any solicitation on my part, yet I will say I accept the trust with considerable pleasure and satisfaction, although I know it brings arduous duties along with it. It will be the pride of my life to fill this place to the satisfaction of the bar. My ideas of the trust are high ones, and if I can fill the position to my own satisfaction I think it will also meet with the approval of the bar. I hope that the usual cordial and mutual relations existing between the court and members of the bar may continue in my own case."

Before Judge Ensign in room 1, the case of John C. Fletcher vs. Henry Stephens et al is on trial. The defense will occupy the time of the court this afternoon. There is a question of the continuance of an estate and the defense will set up that the daughter was not a child of the deceased Johnson, whose property is being passed upon; that she was born of full time and that the mother and father had not lived together during or at the necessary period to insure parentage. The action of the case commenced in 1872, and covers nearly all the years up to 1892.

During the proceedings in the morning, Ed Norton, an attorney, was called a man, but now an occasional drinker, and the proceedings by setting up and making a speech, which was cut short by the sheriff's deputy. He is an important witness in the case and Judge Ensign ordered him removed from the room and locked up so that he might be sober when wanted.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.
It will be fittingly observed at the Pro-Cathedral tomorrow.

St. Patrick's day, the anniversary of Ireland's patron saint, will be fittingly observed in Duluth tomorrow at the pro-cathedral. Solemn high mass will be celebrated at 10:30 a. m., with Rev. Mathias Bilban, formerly of St. Thomas' seminary, as celebrant. Rev. Charles Giroux as deacon, Father Kosmerl as sub-deacon and Father Corbett as master of ceremonies. The choir, accompanied by an orchestra, will give an excellent musical program.

In the evening "Kathleen Mavourneen" will be presented by local talent at the Temple. This same drama was presented last year and won high favor, several of those appearing displaying considerable dramatic ability. Previous to the production of the play Bishop McGolrick will deliver a short address.

WHAT COMPANY WAS IT?
A Man at Snohomish Who Deceived His Employers.

William Finch writes to The Herald from Snohomish City, Wash., as follows: There is a man here who is of a suspicious character and he has acknowledged to parties here that he worked for a company at Lake Superior some two years ago and on settlement with the company they made a very big mistake in his favor and he drew the money at the bank. His name being required, he gave it as Joseph Labrous, his former name being Joseph Remond. Perhaps said company would recompense you for advertising this fact in your paper in case it proved to their interest to be informed as to his whereabouts. I send you this notice as I am a man that loves to see justice dealt out to everyone according to his merits, and he also has a motto: "Do unto others as ye should that they would do unto you." I will answer promptly all questions of inquiry concerning this man, if desired.

THE SUPERIOR BOARD.
It Decides to Continue the Present System of Inspection.

The Superior board of trade directors met yesterday to lay plans for the future conduct of the board. It was decided to retain the present force of weighers and inspectors and more will be appointed as needed. The board says: "Since the project that the board should have what remained of the fees from Minnesota inspection after the inspectors had been paid by the state has fallen through, the matter of what inspection and weighing would prevail was thoroughly discussed. The vernacular it was decided to continue the present system of inspection and weighing. The present system is about the same as Minnesota inspection after the inspectors had been paid by the state has fallen through. This plan will have to bustle with Duluth for business, but from the business they have been promised by the mills and elevators there is every indication that before long the Superior board will be placed on a solid financial foundation.

A new move made by the board will be to charge $1 a car for reinspection to members of the exchange. Those who are not members will be charged $1 a car if the inspection is not sustained and $2 if the inspection is sustained. This has heretofore been done for nothing.

THE BURNS LECTURE.
Miss Howison Delivers an Entertaining Lecture on the Scotch Poet.

Miss Jean Howison gave her lecture on Robert Burns before a small audience at the Pilgrim Congregational church last evening. As a reciter of Burns' poems Miss Howison was no better than other people, but her analysis, criticism and tributes of the peasant poet were of the best.

One of his greatest deeds attended by eventual success, she said, was that of reviving the Scottish spirit. The Scotch were weary after a century of religious war, were fast losing their national pride and spirit, and some of those with the purest Scotch blood in their veins were ashamed of being accused or accredited with a Scottishism. The vernacular employed in Burns' poems, the simple and natural manner in which he handled lofty subjects, awoke the sleeping spirit, aroused the Scottish pride and marked a renaissance in all those national characteristics so long dormant.

A NEW ORGANIZATION.
Logan Circle, No. 6, Ladies of the G. A. R., Instituted Yesterday.

Logan circle, No. 6, ladies of the G. A. R., was organized yesterday at the home of E. B. Force, by Department President Mrs. J. F. Burr, of Minneapolis, with fifteen charter members. The following officers were elected and installed: President, Mrs. J. F. Burr; senior vice president, Mrs. Barbara Dailey; junior vice president, Mrs. J. Wadleigh; treasurer, Mrs. Hayden; secretary, Mrs. E. B. Force; and clerk, Mrs. Ella Force; guard, Miss Deinboffer; and reporter, Mrs. Twichell. After the installation of the circle, comrades, Anna Dailey, J. Wadleigh and E. B. Force were initiated as honorary members, being the first comrades of Duluth taken into this new order. At the close of the meeting a reception was tendered the department president and a delicious lunch served by the ladies and all felt assured this circle organization was a success. The members of the circle were draped with the flag captured during the memorable fight of 1893.

TRIED TO STOP A FIGHT.
Phillip Mitchell Stabbed in a Row at Virginia.

Phillip Mitchell was brought down on the Duluth, Mississauga & Northern road last night from McDevitt's camp near Virginia. He was stabbed in the abdomen Tuesday by a man named Joe Kincaid. Kincaid and a cripple named Mathews were quarreling and the former made a pass at the latter. Mitchell interfered and Kincaid turned on him with a knife. The men, it seems, were all celebrating over the election. Mitchell was taken to Superior to the home of his brother, Ed Mitchell. He is badly hurt though it is not believed that it will prove to be fatal.

Arrested for Embezzlement.
W. E. McKaig, the agent of the Armour packing company in Superior, was arrested yesterday for embezzlement.

The charge was made by J. C. Fisher, of Duluth, the manager of the Armour company of the lake and elsewhere. Six Rinks Played the First Games for the Cup Last Evening.

The contest to determine the possession of the silver cup was commenced last evening at the Glen Avon rink and three games were played, six rinks contesting. The best contest was between the rinks skipped by W. O. Smith and James Smith, the scores being 10 to 11. All of the others were very one sided. ## THE ASSESSMENT QUESTION.

A Special Meeting of the Council Held This Afternoon.

A special meeting of the council was held at 2 o'clock this afternoon upon the call of the mayor to consider the passage of a resolution indorsing the reassessment bill now pending in the legislature.

The mayor took the floor and spoke of the necessity of an assessment law, favored the bill and presented a resolution endorsing the bill and alleging that it will bring about a saving of hundreds of thousands of dollars to tax payers. It closed with a request that the St. Louis county delegation do all its power to secure the passage of the bill.

S. D. Allen was present and stated that he represented taxpayers who objected to the portion of the bill that authorizes reassessments, but they did object to the kind of assessments authorized. He then entered into a vigorous argument of his side.

BAD FAITH CHARGED

Several Attachments Filed on the Stock of the Simon Clark & Co. Branch at Superior.

Two Mercantile Company Filed the First,
 Their Claim Aggregating Thirty-Two Hundred Dollars.

The Partners Here Declare That the Two Company Entered into the Agreement of Creditors.

Several attachments were served yesterday at Superior on the stock of R. F.
 Wilson & Co., grocers, doing business in the West Superior hotel block. The firm is composed of R. F. Wilson, of Superior, and Simon Clark, A. M. Morrison and Joseph Thatcher, of Duluth, and it is in reality the firm of Simon Clark & Co., of Duluth. On Saturday last when the creditors of Clark & Co. met and put the firm's business in the hands of A. J. Miller, who was to turn the proceeds over to them pro rata, the R. F.
 Wilson & Co. store was put under his charge also.

Yesterday the Two Mercantile company filed an attachment for $3200 on the stock, and other attachments were filed as follows: Smith & Flint, $566.32;
 two by Fitzsimmons, Warfield & Co., one of $22.87 and another $304.91; one by the Wells-Stone Mercantile company of Duluth of $157.17 and another of $304.91.

The members of the firm here, A. M.
 Morrison and Joseph Thatcher, charge the Two Mercantile company with bad faith.
 They claim that its officers were present at the creditors' meeting Saturday and agreed to the placing of the business in Mr. Miller's hands and that they furthermore declared their willingness to furnish additional goods to the amount of $5,000 if necessary.
 Their attachment was the first one levied these gentlemen say, and the other creditors filed to protect themselves.

They further say that the allegations made upon the procuring of the attachment by the Two Mercantile company was the nonresidence of certain of the partners and the absconding of the resident partner, R. F. Wilson. As a matter of fact Mr. Wilson went to Scotland to get married and the wedding occurred on March 1.

The Superior Leader says: "The Two Mercantile company were old-time friends of Mr. Clark and intended to let their bills wait until his return, but as the Duluth people were determined to push their claims immediately, the Two Mercantile company were forced to look out for their interests. However, they have confidence in Mr. Clark's integrity and ability to raise sufficient money to pay all indebtedness. The Duluth members of the firm talk differently from this. They think that the Two Mercantile company wanted to get in on the ground floor."

As to what will be done is a little uncertain but the attachments will not be done and it is claimed that they will not hold in court. Even if they should Mr.
 Miller says that there is far more than enough stock over there to pay them.
 Simon Clark is a stockholder in the Two Mercantile company to the extent of $1,000.

WHEAT STRONG AND HIGHER.

Trading Was Quite Active Today and the Market Very Firm.

The wheat market was active and strong throughout today's session. The news from outside was of a bullish character. Had reports came regarding the condition of the crops in Illinois, and the Cincinnati Price Current gave gloomy stories of damage to the growing crops.
 Tables quoted spot wheat at Liverpool was

 May and July. May sold early at 60 1/2c and then late in the session, when it shifted to the general range on all American markets.

 July, which started at 60 1/2c and was afterwards firmly held at 60 1/2c. Cash wheats were very firm, but buyers and sellers were apart and little trading was done. Holders of spot stuff demanded 1c higher than yesterday.

RHODES' DANGER

Books of the Manager of the Coal Combine to be Laid Before the Grand Jury.

Attorneys on the Committee Say That They Contain Ample Evidence of Criminal Conspiracy.

The Bill Granting Power to Duluth to Tunnel the Ship Canal Passed by the Senate.

Time of the House Wasted Today in a Discussion Over Increasing the Pay of Employees.

ST. PAUL, March 17.—[Special to The Herald.]—The letter book taken from J. J. Rhodes by the sergeant-at-arms of the house and deputies for the coal combine committee gives ample evidence, according to the statements of attorneys on the committee, to convict the agent of the combine of criminal conspiracy, which carries a fine of from $500 to $5000 or imprisonment. The letters give evidence that Rhodes is the agent of the combine; that he fixed the prices and grades of coal; and that he notified wholesale coal dealers not to furnish coal to retailers who cut prices in any degree, or who did not subscribe to the support of his bureau of information and prices.

A new chapter in the story of the capture of the books is presented in the fact that Rhodes has the letter looking for the books with a replevin paper. The committee last night turned over to Rhodes all the books except the letter-press book, which the committee deems will furnish sufficient evidence to convict Rhodes of conspiracy. The book will be turned over to the grand jury.

When the coal combine found the legislature had sustained the committee in seizing Manager Rhodes' books, action in replevin was begun, and Sheriff Chapin started to recover the books. Rhodes' attorney told him that he could get them only over the heads of the legislative committee and its officers and the sheriff withdrew. Last night Judge Egan issued an order directing the sergeant-at-arms of the senate and his assistants to appear in court in St. Paul tomorrow morning and show cause why they should not be punished for contempt in refusing to give up the books. The committee has instructed the sergeant-at-arms to pay no attention to the judge's order.

The free text book bill was reported back to the senate this morning by the proper committee with a recommendation that the bill be placed at the head of general orders and do pass. The committee on finance reported back the bill for building a farmers' elevator and public warehouse at Duluth to the senate this morning, with a report of the subject committee on finance recommending its indefinite postponement. The measure was over by President Truelsen, J. B. Scoville, M. Douglas and S. D. Allen.

Senator Mayo introduced a bill in the senate today regulating the size of nets allowed in fishing in Lake Superior and waters on the northern boundary of Minnesota. It provides that the meshes of the pound nets shall not be less than three inches in length and the mesh of the leader not less than six inches. Gill nets must have a mesh of three inches in length, and pike less than twelve inches in length. A bill was introduced in the senate this morning providing that civil jurisdiction be granted to the state of North Dakota over five acres of land for a site for a state elevator in St. Louis county. The North Dakota legislature has appropriated $100,000 to build such an elevator, but it wants it fully under the jurisdiction of its own state license. They seek the passage of this law. The attorney general of North Dakota passed through here on his way to Madison to get a similar bill through the Wisconsin legislature. North Dakota will then be able to locate its elevator on either side of the bay in whichever place it can get the best terms.

Senator Daugherty's tunnel bill passed the senate this morning by a vote of 33 to 7. It provides for taxation of three-fourths of the cost on the property benefited and the remainder to the city, and for a system of tolls to be collected from railway companies using it. The house was hung up all morning on a discussion of a resolution introduced to increase the pay of the house doorkeepers and other employees to $5 a day, the same daily salary paid to them in the senate. The resolution did not get the necessary two-thirds vote. It is probable that the capitol bill will pass the house. There was some great busting done last night by the Ramsey county delegation and everything is consequently free and wide open during the time the bill is pending. The bill is now only third on the house calendar.

The senate committee on judicial reappointment has completed its labors and reported its conclusions to the senate in the form of a bill, which cuts out two judicial districts and three judges at the expiration of their present terms. The details of the bill are as follows:

The first district, now composed of Pine, Kanabec, Chisago, Washington, Dakota and Goodhue, is changed by adding the four first-named counties to Ramsey county, which now constitutes the second judicial district alone. Then Wabasha county, now in the Third and Rice, now in the Fifth, are added to Dakota and Goodhue to make up a new First district. Winona and Olmstead of the present Third district and Dodge, Steele and Waseca of the present Fifth are consolidated into a new Third district, which is to be entitled to but one judge after the expiration of present terms.

Iasca, Cass, Crow Wing and Aitkin of the present Fifteenth are added to St. Louis, Lake and Carlton, of the Eleventh.

Hubbard and Wadena of the Fifteenth are added to the Seventh. Pope county is detached from the Seventh judicial district and attached to the Sixteenth district, and the county of Clay is detached from the Fourteenth and attached to the Sixteenth, while Becker is detached from the Fourteenth and made part of the Seventh. The judges of the First district are to continue to have jurisdiction until the expiration of their terms of office, and thereafter the district is to have but one judge. The net result of the bill will be the reduction of the judicial districts by two, the Fifth and Fifteenth being legislated out of existence. This will also cut off three judges, two of whom now reside in the First district and one in the new Eleventh district, at the expiration of the terms of office, and the creation of a capitol commission.

The capitol bill occupied the attention of the house during the whole of yesterday in committee of the whole. The final vote was that the committee report favorable to its adoption was adopted by vote of 40 to 14. Bill calls for an appropriation of $2,000,000 and the creation of a capitol commission.

THE BULL THUMB

It Was Heard at Washington Today When Murderer Schneider Paid the Law's Extreme Penalty.

Went to His Doom Apparently Oblivious of the Past and Reckless of the Future.

Strenuous Efforts Were Made to Save Him and the Plea of Insanity Was Offered.

Schneider Shot Down His Wife and Her Brother in Cold Blood on a Washington Street.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Howard Jefford Schneider was hanged this morning in the district jail at the outskirts of the city for the murder of his wife on January 31, 1892. He was indicted also for the murder of her young brother at the same time and place, but this case was not brought to trial. The double murder which led Howard Schneider to the gallows was one of the most sensational crimes in the history of the District of Columbia. By reason of the previous respectability of the murderer, the standing and wealth of his relatives and the unremitting efforts of his counsel and friends to save him from the gallows, the case attracted widespread interest.

In many of its surrounding circumstances, the case recalled that of Guiteau. One of the judges who participated in the trial of the case (Judge Cox) was the same that tried Guiteau, the plea of insanity was set up in Schneider's case as in Guiteau's, and the principal expert on the part of the government in both cases was the same, Dr. McDonald. The tragedy he enacted was in the most grotesque and cruel manner. He was shot down in Washington and occurred just at dark on Sunday evening, the last day of January, 1892.

The victims were Amanda Hamlink Schneider, his young wife, and her brother, Frank Hamlink. They were the son and daughter of D. F. Hamlink, a retired business man of this city, and it was almost in front of their father's house that they met their assassination. Schneider practically forced Miss Hamlink to marry him, threatening to shoot her and himself if she refused. The marriage was kept secret for some months. Soon after their marriage Schneider neglected and cruelly treated his wife and led her a miserable existence.

About two weeks before the murder, Schneider went to the Hamlink house late at night and found the door barred against his admission. A note was sent to him from his wife saying that she did not care to see him again. Subsequently, however, he met her on the street at various times, on every occasion accusing her of having been unfaithful. On the evening of the murders, Mrs. Schneider received a note from her husband stating that he was about to leave for Chicago and asking her to accompany him. She replied that she wished him well but could not go.

Next day (Sunday) she started for Chicago, accompanied by her brother, Frank and Sister Jennie. They found that there were to be no services at the church and returned home. Before they reached the house, Schneider approached. He grasped the hand of his wife and said: "I want to speak to you." Her sister walked on but her brother stopped.

Words passed between the two men and without warning, Schneider drew a pistol from his pocket and fired five shots. One of these crashed into a window of the Hamlink residence, three of them struck the body of Mrs. Schneider, causing his immediate death. The wife lingered several days but died from her wounds.

Schneider's trial resulted in a conviction. A plea for a new trial on a writ of error was made but was refused. A motion for a revision of the case by the supreme court of the District of Columbia resulted in the affirmation of the decision of the lower court. The court granted a stay of execution pending an examination by experts as to Schneider's sanity. The experts decided him sane.

An appeal was finally made to the superior court of the United States for a writ of habeas corpus and writ of error, and both of these were denied. The refusal of the supreme court to interfere ended all legal devices and an appeal for executive clemency was made. His attorneys and his spiritual advisers obtained audiences with the president and sought to have him grant a reprieve, so that the question of his sanity could be further investigated but without avail.

The scaffold erected inside the jail corridor was a business-like arrangement of wood, rope and iron. It was painted brown and looked very much like an ordinary platform. The rope which loosed the drop ran over a pulley on the platform into an adjoining cell upon the scaffold, only a foot or two distant. The window was curtained off and through it ran the rope. It was impossible to see into the cell from the corridor and within sat the unknown man, who at a given signal pulled the rope and released the condemned man.

Schneider's last night on earth was a restless one. He slept for a few hours but towards the end of the morning, a light repast of tea and toast was taken to the cell but Schneider refused to touch it. The sentence of the court granted a stay of execution between 8 o'clock and noon.

The procession to the scaffold was a small one. First came the warden of the President Cleveland Says That Prominent Officials in Minnesota Will Not Be Removed From Office.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—[Special to The Herald.]—National Committeeman Doran said to The Herald correspondent today that President Cleveland would not appoint either an United States district attorney, marshal or collector of internal revenue for Minnesota until the terms of the present incumbents had expired. Congressman Hall, who was seen a little later, verified the statement made by Mr. Doran. Of course there will be no change in any of the big post-offices like Duluth and Minneapolis until the terms of the present officials expire.

THEIR TRUNKS WERE SEIZED.

Four Dressmakers Caught While Trying to Smuggle Gowns.

NEW YORK, March 17.—Four unhappy dressmakers are hovering around the custom house waiting to see what disposal Collector Hendricks is going to make of their trunks, which, it is claimed, contain dutiable articles.

Miss Suehan, the forewoman for Miss Lambden, a Chicago dressmaker, was the first to have her trunk seized and sent to the seizure room in the custom house.

Miss Lambden came over on the Galia and also brought a trunk. She too had it taken away from her and whisked off to the dingy old quarters on Wall street.

Then came the Saele, with a mistress from Baltimore aboard in the person of Miss Lottie M. Burton. Her baggage suffered the same fate.

Finally Miss Kate Holland, of Chicago, came along to add her tears to those of the other three. These young women claim that their trunks contain nothing but their personal effects.

Collector Hendricks has turned the women loose, verified the statement made by Mr. Doran. Of course there will be no change in any of the big post-offices like Duluth and Minneapolis until the terms of the present officials expire.

FEARS FOR THE FAIR.

Farmer Hoy Will Bring All Kinds of Wonderful Animals to Chicago.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., March 17.—Charles O. Hoy, a farmer, has started for Chicago to arrange for the exhibition during the World's fair of various freaks born and raised upon his farm, near this place, within the past year and a half.

The freaks comprise a three-legged horse, a pig with five legs, and a sheep with a double body. The animals are full grown, according to Mr. Hoy, and are as healthy as any of the rest of his stock. The horse has two rear legs and one leg almost in the natural position for the left fore leg. The pig has three rear and two fore legs, and the sheep is that of a male perfectly formed, with the body of a female growing out of the side.

A Very Bad Failure.

ST. PAUL, March 17.—The schedule of assets and liabilities filed by the assignee of the Beaupre Mercantile company makes a very bad showing. The notes given by the company, indorsed by one or more members of the firm, foot up $430,470. Besides these the company endorsed the notes of its customers to the extent of $79,841, making the grand total of liabilities up to $517,280. The assets foot up $168,658, but very few business men believe over $100,000 will be realized.

Will Be Photographed.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., March 17.—Idop Gee Wo, the head Chinaman here, announces that his countrymen in the state, numbering about 3,500, will have their pictures and signatures with the deputy internal revenue collector by May 1. He says they have received orders from China through San Francisco to comply with the laws. One of the Chinese here is trying to make the photographs himself with a kodak but is not very successful.

An Ex-Communicated Priest.

ARLINGTON, N. J., March 17.—Rev. P. A. Tresey, the ex-communicated priest of this city, who has been deserted by the majority of the congregation of St. Paul church, has rented a private house where he will celebrate mass beginning tomorrow.

One Wants an Office.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Congressman Ben, of the Seventh district, and R. K. Doe, of Duluth, called upon the president Wednesday. Mr. Doe would like to succeed Hon. Dar S. Hall as chairman of the Chippewa Indian commission.

The Insurance Swindler.

CHICAGO, March 17.—F. J. Thrun, who was arrested in New Orleans last Sunday on the charge of attempting to defraud various life insurance companies, arrived in Chicago yesterday with Officer Beck, of Milwaukee, and was taken on to Wausau, the county seat of Marathon county, Wisconsin, to stand his trial.

NOW FOR THE SPOILS.

The Office Seekers in West Duluth Are Coming Forward to Receive Their Reward.

Newly Elected Aldermen Learn From Their Duluth Brethren and Hold a Secret Caucus.

Some of the Candidates for the Different Offices and the Probable Successful Ones.

The newly elected village officers will be installed in office on Monday evening. It is expected that the appointive offices will also be filled at that time. There are numerous candidates for chief of police and among the number spoken of are: Arthur Briggs, present incumbent, J. W. Peterson, ex-Chief, Brigham, John Keardon, J. Dunn, James Hall, William Swanson. For street commissioner the list includes P. R. Haley, A. Miles and D. Wangen. For chief of fire department W. H. Short will doubtless be a candidate for re-election.

A secret meeting was held in Judge Himebaugh's office last evening where the newly elected council talked matters over and it is stated fixed up a slate which will go through on the first ballot. From the complexion of affairs it would seem to be pretty safe to say that if any of the old officials receive the tender of a job from other sources it will be to their interest to accept.

For a haphazard guess the chances for chief of police stand between William Swanson and John Keardon. P. R. Haley is likely to be street commissioner. It is possible that one of the fire boys will stand in the way of promotion, either McLaughlin or Ryan. Dr. Forin's chances are favorable for health officer. Either Krey or Kuhn will capture the engineer's office.

West Duluth Briefs.

F. W. Smith, the lecturer, entertained a large audience at the congregational church last evening. His portrayal of every day life at Andersonville was realistic in the extreme and held the undivided attention of the audience for two hours.

The Ladies' Peder party met this afternoon with Mrs. Jas. A. Kirkwood.

Gospel meetings will be held in the Presbyterian church next week, beginning Tuesday evening with service for young people.

AN OLD PLAYHOUSE GONE.

Wheeler's Opera House at Toledo Burned to the Ground.

TOLEDO, O., March 17.—Shortly before 1 o'clock this morning the oldest and leading playhouse in Toledo, Wheeler's opera house, was completely destroyed by fire. George Thatcher's company played there last evening and run the curtain down on a quarter of a century of comedy, drama and tragedy. Fortunately the company lost none of its scenery or baggage.

It is not known how the fire originated. The block was the property of the Wheeler heirs and twenty-five years ago cost $100,000. The insurance is about $35,000. Some fifteen teams were booked for the remainder of the season, among them Joseph Jefferson, Dignell Bell Opera company and Evans & Hovey. A new first class theater will be erected.

A Striking Incident.

NEW YORK, March 17.—The Post's Berlin cablegram says: The light in which the financial world regards the army bill was strikingly shown when it was rumored on the bourse that the kaiser had ordered the bill to be withdrawn. The speculative stocks immediately jumped up. The inspired Nord Deutsche Zeitung asks bitterly how much per centage would the house lose if the German army was ever defeated.

Firemen Injured.

DETROIT, Mich., March 17.—The safety match department of the Diamond Match factory, corner of Eighth and River streets was slightly damaged by fire this morning. During the fire Pipe-man George Hoff of fifteen companies No. 1 was precipitated from the third floor to the ground by a kink in the hose. He was badly injured in the hip and back. Delargy, another pipe-man, was badly injured by a fall.

THE GERMAN ARMY BILL.

Various Amendments Which Von Caprivi Refused to Accept.

BERLIN, March 17.—The committee of the reichstag on the army bill discussed the second reading of the bill yesterday. Herr Bennigsen, in behalf of the National Liberals, proposed that the effective force of the army in time of peace should be fixed at 465,000 infantry, to serve two years with the colors, and five in the reserve, the cavalry to consist of 465 squadrons, the field artillery to consist of 31 battalions, the pioneer battalions to number 20 and, calling for skeleton battalions of infantry to be formed to the number of 123, only for a period, for which a term of two years service should be fixed.

Chancellor Caprivi admitted that the proposal implied a recognition of the general principles of the bill but would not suffice for the needs of the German empire. Regarding the means of getting the increased outlay, the government, the chancellor added, was prepared to entertain fresh proposals, but could not accept Herr Lieber's amendment.

Herr Richter introduced an amendment fixing the peace footing at 480,000 from October 1, 1893, to March 31, 1895.

This would substantially continue the present peace footing for a long period, as under the law of July 15, 1890, to continue in force to March 31, 1894, the peace strength of the army is 480,000 men, besides officers, surgeons, pay-masters, etc. The debate was adjourned.

The lower house of the Prussian diet has passed to a third reading a bill to reform the present complicated system of elections in Prussia.

CELEBRATION IN CHICAGO.

St. Patrick's Day Observed a Large Parade

This Afternoon.

CHICAGO, March 17.—St. Patrick's day, although cold and windy, was celebrated by a large parade this afternoon, which was participated in by all the Catholic societies of the city. It was made up of three divisions and formed in Hay-market square on the West Side.

The procession moved through the principal streets and was reviewed at the county building by Mayor Washburne and the city council and at St. Patrick's church by Archbishop Feehan, who had celebrated pontifical high mass there at 10 o'clock this morning.

The celebration of the day will close this evening with balls and social gatherings in various parts of the city.

Received an Ovation.

PARIS, March 17.—M. Dubuit, council for Marius Fontane, one of the indicted

Panama directors, received an ovation

today on account of his spirited protest against Premier Ribot's imputation on members of the bar in his statement to the chamber of deputies. When M.

Dubuit arrived in the robing room of the assembly court, before the resumption of the Panama trial today, the members of the bar cheered and waved their official caps for several minutes. M. Dubuit was warmly congratulated on his successful refutation of M. Ribot's charges.

A Plea for De Lesseps.

PARIS, March 17.—M. Barboux, counsel for Charles De Lesseps, resumed his argument for the defense at the opening of court this morning. He maintained that Charles De Lesseps had been injured in the manner in which the late baron Reinach made the money paid to him by the Panama Canal company, and he also argued that the evidence presented in the case proved that the efforts of Clementine, Floquet and De

Freyinet to prevent a lawsuit from being instituted by Reinach against the Panama Canal company had been made solely in the interests of the government.

A Mexican Sensation.

GUANAJUATO, Mexico, March 17.—A

MUST BE REFUSED.

Demands of Engineers, Conductors and Train-men for Higher Wages.

CHICAGO, March 17.—Another important session of the general managers' association is being held today for the purpose of considering the demands of the locomotive engineers of the Santa Fe and those of the conductors and trainmen of the Grand Trunk for an increase of pay.

When these demands were made, the officials of the roads immediately concerned, they were at once referred to the general managers' association, the argument being that common action is to be taken on all such matters. While a formal meeting of the association was called to consider the demands, it was a foregone conclusion that they would be refused.

The managers claim that they cannot under existing conditions increase the wages of any class of their employees.

The demands of the switchmen a few days ago they were not refused because they were made by rich men, but simply because the revenues of the companies at the present would not bear an increase of expense in any direction.

VISITED BY BURGLARS.

The Residence of a Baron Robbed of Jewels and Other Articles.

LONDON, March 17.—The residence of Baron Schroeder, in Cheshire, was plundered last evening by burglars.

The baron had had for his guest Gen.

Owen Williams, the noted military man, and friend of the prince of Wales, who had been in the famous bazaar scandal, a son of the gentleman entrusted with the secret of the Gordon-Cummings alleged cheating at play.

The baron and his family and Gen.

Williams were dining and the thieves took advantage to enter, through an open window of the bedroom allotted to

Gen. Williams, and made a general clearance of his personal effects, including his watch. They also stole the jewels he wore in the famous bazaar scandal, in value to £500. They then made their escape by the boot.

HURTING THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Untrue and Injurious Statements Being circulated in Germany.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—A dispatch has been received at the state department from Thomas W. Peters, commercial agent at Plauen, Saxony, calling attention to a misrepresentation of the condition of affairs at Chicago which, if not corrected, he says will result in material loss to the World's fair.

Mr. Peters says that letters from Chicago are being printed in the district occupies and widely circulated. Warning Germans that if they come to the fair, they must be prepared to put up with inferior and insufficient accommodations for which exorbitant prices are to be charged.

He suggests that the hotel and boarding house keepers in Chicago advertise throughout Europe the schedule of rates to be in force during the fair to counteract the influence of these publications.

The suggestion will be submitted to the World's fair officials.

A Pardon Wanted.

NEW YORK, March 17.—The Commercial Advertiser says: Recorder

Smyth's adverse decision may not mean death for Carlyle W. Harris. A mass meeting is to be held in Madison Square garden next week and a popular demand will be made on Governor Flower for a full and free pardon. One of the most famous lawyers in New York, Mr. Choate, will preside.

An Italian Outrage.

ROME, March 17.—At 9:30 this morning a bomb exploded in the Ancient Mattia palace, the residence of United States Minister Fort. The explosion of the bomb did but slight damage to the building and nobody was injured. All sorts of surmises are about in regard to the affair, but nothing definite has yet been ascertained.

Lost at Sea.

HALIFAX, March 17.—Two of the crew of the schooner Unexpected have doned at sea. She was dismasted in a succession of heavy gales and for nine days the bulk was tossed helplessly about the ocean. First Mate James

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., March 17.—The storm that was central over the Southwest yesterday morning, and which was expected to move as far as to affect this part of the country by last night, has been crowded to the south by the rush of heavy cold air from the far north, and is now central over the Ohio Valley. Snow is falling all over the Ohio valley and reaches as far north as South Dakota. The storm is gradually moving east, it will soon be beyond reach of this section. The heaviest snow fall was at Omaha and Kansas City, where about three inches has fallen since yesterday morning. The temperature has changed very slightly in the far northwest where it remains at 30 below zero, but in the other parts of the country it has warmed up considerably. The warmest station is Memphis, 10.

The highest point registered by the thermometer here yesterday was 28, the lowest last night 18.

DULUTH, March 17.—Continued fair, slight change in temperature, north to west winds, 10 to 15 miles per hour.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—For Minnesota: Fair; north to west, becoming variable; warmer in northwest portion Saturday evening.

A Complete Newspaper.

The Herald tomorrow will be of the attractive character for which the Saturday edition of this paper is now noted. Numerous special articles have been prepared that will give added interest to what is conceded to be the best newspaper published at the head of Lake Superior.

This is perhaps an old story to the readers of The Herald, but it is worth repeating, when would-be rivals have made a boast of increasing the size of their papers and then filled their columns with "boiler plate" telegraph by express—mostly a duplication of the dispatches published by The Herald from twelve to thirty-six hours previously.

There is nothing in the morning paper that has not appeared in The Herald of the evening before. With a complete telegraphic service, a special wire running into the Herald office, and with a corps of diligent reporters and arrangements for receiving local news up to the hour of going to press, The Herald is enabled to give all the news of the day at each day's closing.

What you see in the morning paper is mainly the same thing gone over again. This is why The Herald is the popular paper and has the largest circulation of any paper in the state outside of the Twin Cities or of any paper at the head of Lake Superior.

A Proper Move.

The idea originating in Duluth of encouraging the iron industry by the passage of a law providing that where ore mined upon state school lands is smelted, reduced or converted into pig iron or other merchantable form within the state of Minnesota, the royalty shall be reduced to ten cents per ton, is meeting quite a favorable reception from the state press. This is not astonishing, because the results would be most beneficial to the entire state.

The Grand Rapids Magnet points out that the bill if enacted will have the certain result of hastening the growth and importance of Duluth as a center of iron manufacture and it will tend not less to build up the manufacturing interests of St. Paul, Minneapolis and the rest of the state in no small degree. The 20 cents per ton which will be given to encourage the home manufacture of iron will be a most important factor in the minds of eastern capitalists, who are now considering the advantages of Duluth as a location for iron manufacture in its various branches.

"Such legislation should pass," says the Magnet. "Outside of the iron district very little is known of the resources of the Mesabi and Vermilion ranges. What little is known about them to the rest of the state is that the owners of the properties will become immensely rich in a few years. This is an enormous impression. If the mines pay a fair interest on the investments it is all that is expected of them. But a royalty might justly be given for the purpose named above."

The building of large iron industries in this section would benefit the entire state, and it is very likely that if the encouragement which has been proposed were extended by the legislature other sections of the state would soon secure similar industries.

George Ticknor Curtis has been showing in the North American Review that there is no way provided in the constitution for the annexing of a whole nation, and no precedent for annexing territory not contiguous to our own. As able men as Mr. Curtis, however, do not agree with him on the first point, and the other is no serious objection because a precedent can be established.

It was supposed that Congressman Boon of the Seventh district was a Populist, but judging from his repeated visits to President Cleveland urging the claims of officeholders he must have developed into a full-fledged Democrat.

Charles E. Shannon has a communication in this issue telling why he objects to paying the amount assessed against him for the Piedmont avenue improvement. He says his property is half a mile from the avenue and is not benefited in any way, and he certainly makes out a strong case of injustice.

A popular refrain at the Chicago convention last summer was:
"Grover! Grover!
Four years more of Grover.
Out they go. In we go."
Then we'll be in clover.

Some of those who sang this loudly at Chicago are not sure now of getting in clover.

The Wyman log-scaling bill, which was defeated in the legislature yesterday, was a vicious measure. It proposed to raise the price of scaling logs from 5 to 7 cents, and was in the interest of the large lumbering syndicates as against the small loggers.

The prospects are favorable for the passage of an appropriation of $2,000,000 to erect a new capitol at St. Paul. The present structure is utterly inadequate for the purpose, and the state should have a capitol befitting its wealth and importance.

A recent regulation of the navy department forbids officers from acting as correspondents of newspapers without special permission from the secretary. Officers heretofore have told their weird, hair-raising stories to the marines.

So far the effort to save from electrocution young Caryle Harris, the murderer of his school-girl wife, has failed. The evidence of his guilt was convincing, and he should not be spared because his family can command some money.

The Grand Rapids people refer to La Prairie as "our eastern suburb," and when the La Prairie residents talk of Grand Rapids they speak of "our western suburb." Thus the rival towns in Itasca county maintain an equilibrium.

When is Duluth to be favored with a season of opera? Theater-goers are yearning for such a treat. Cannot the local managers provide it? That it would be profitable to them admits of no doubt.

A child has been born in Ohio that is provided with a full set of teeth. It is not known that its parents are descended from King Richard III, but they may well pray that it does not have his disposition.

St. Patrick's day is the anniversary of Secretary of State Gresham's birth. He is 69 years old today.

It is to be feared that some people will see more snakes tonight than St. Patrick ever drove out of Ireland.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Kathleen Mavourneen."

Tonight "Kathleen Mavourneen" will be presented at the Temple to an immense audience for the house was almost entirely sold out last evening. A most successful performance was given and the play was well received. The play will make fully as great a hit as when produced a year ago today. The cast is the same with but a few exceptions. The music will be especially good. Bishop McGillicuddy will deliver an address.

Maudie Granger.

Theater goers will be delighted to hear of the coming engagement of Miss Maudie Granger, who will appear at the Temple opera Saturday evening. "The Fringe of Society," the play presented by Miss Granger this season, one of the strongest and most fascinating society dramas ever produced on the American stage and no less than four famous actresses have appeared in the leading part of different adaptations during the past year, with varying success. It is an English adaptation of Dumas' "Le Demi Monde." The original ran over 700 nights in Paris, and it played the theatre Parisienne for three years it surely ought to more than satisfy Duluth theatergoers for one night. The part of the clever adventuress fits Miss Granger perfectly as the gorgeous costumes worn, three of which are said to be perfect dreams.

Carmenita Coming.

The next attraction at the Lyceum is "The Primal Fear," a play of local force comedy. The particular feature will be the appearance of the famous Spanish dancer, Carmenita, who turned the heads of the New Yorkers about eighteen months ago.

THE PIEDMONT ASSESSMENT.

One of the Property Owners Tells Why He Fights It.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In today's issue of The Herald, in an editorial on the reassessment bill, you say among other things:
"Those who have gone to St. Paul from Duluth to oppose this measure have not the semblance of right on their side. They are justly liable for the improvement that has been made. By seeking to evade payment they are merely trying to shirk an honest debt. They have derived the benefits arising from the improvements and should be compelled to pay the assessment. That they sought to escape payment by a legal technicality and drove the burden on other property owners who have paid for improvements benefitting their property is discreditable."

As my name was prominently connected with the Piedmont avenue case, I probably come within the purview of your criticism. It may therefore be of interest to yourself as well as to your readers to know upon what property the board of public works proposed to assess the improvement for the Piedmont avenue improvement. The assessment of which I complained was on block 9, in Summit Park division, at the corner of Fourth street and Fourth avenue west. From that point block 9 of Summit park is just a half mile straight over the hill past the white house; or to be more particular, at the intersection of Fifth avenue west and Thirteenth street. Piedmont avenue not only does not run past the property, but it does not run in that direction and it does not connect with any street, avenue, alley or cow path which can be traveled by any animal, except billy goats, that does run in that direction.

In the midst of this censure of those who have the audacity to defend themselves from such outrageous proceedings, it would be well for some one whose eyes have not been fogged up and salary expected, Address P. O. box 685, Duluth, March 16, 1893.

Respectfully,
C. E. SHANNON.

Written in Syran.

A little over a week ago a postal card arrived in this city bearing the somewhat ambiguous address, "To the Syrians of Duluth, Minn." It was mailed at San Antonio, Tex., by Tadross & Akory, to Medina street. After submitting it in vain to a number of people, the postoffice people sent it to Rt. Rev. James McGolrick, who found no difficulty whatever in translating the Syrian characters on the other side. The message runs as follows and is interesting:

"If you please find out whether Anton Kozin, from the village of Khat, is in your place. It is two years since we heard of him for the last time. Please, if you see him at your place, let me know by telegraph and I shall pay expenses. Truly, Simon and Joseph Kozin, from Khat."

TWO SITES OFFERED.

Board of Trade Receives Propositions From West First Street and East Superior Street Property Owners.

A Location on Superior Street at Third Avenue East Offered Free Together With $50,000 Cash.

West First Street Owners Offer the Corner at Third Avenue West for $5000.

The directors of the board of trade met yesterday afternoon and decided to call a meeting of the full board for tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock to consider the proposals offered for the location of the new building to be erected by the board. Notices calling the meeting were sent out today and every member is urged to attend.

The notice says that the following questions will be discussed and considered: "First—As to the advisability of selling our present property and building. Second—As to the advisability of erecting a new and larger building for our use as soon as practicable. Third—To consider which, if either, of our several offers of sites and bonus to accept for location of the proposed new Board of Trade building."

Two propositions have been made by the board. One offers 100 feet at the corner of Superior street and Third avenue east and extending back 100 feet, the corner upon which the Pioneer Fuel company's office now stands, free and a cash bonus of $25,000. This offer is made by a syndicate of East Superior street property owners, of which syndicate J. D. Ray is chairman.

Although the East Superior street offer is the most liberal it is quite probable that the West First street offer will be accepted because of the more favorable location as compared with the present center of business. The questions enumerated in the notice will not be voted on tomorrow but at the subsequent meeting of the full board on Wednesday evening next.

ALL BY THEMSELVES. Patrol Wagon Team Made Things Hum For a Time This Morning.

A little after noon today, as George Miller, driver of the police patrol wagon, was taking out the large black team, hitched to a big bob sled, he dropped the lines to move a sled a little in getting out of the team stand and the ends of the lines just escaped Mr. Miller's fingers.

The flying sleds ran down Michigan street west, then turned up onto Superior street, ran east and turned down Fourth avenue at the Fargusson block corner onto Michigan street again.

Several times they dropped into a brisk trot, but Mr. Miller was in hot pursuit, and either taking his puffing for a wild ride or being frightened by the crazy men on the street, who yelled "Whoa!" and swinging their hats, the frightened animals would take up a wild gallop. Coming onto Superior street again, they were brought up short by running into the rear of a sleigh standing in front of the chamber of commerce and were caught.

A broken hydra, a demolished bobsled, a smashed cut back, a broken harness, a few scratches and a breathless panting driver, were the only items of damage.

FRIGHTENED SOME PEOPLE. A Blast Discharged Early This Morning Excited Some Nervous People.

A little after six o'clock this morning a blast was discharged for the purpose of loosening a part of the upper walls of the Fargusson block. The report was extremely loud and greatly startled and frightened many who heard it. One lady sprang up in bed and stoutly declared to her husband that their chimney had fallen on the roof. Many thought there had been an explosion of gas in the Michigan street sewer.

At the Spaulding there seemed to be particular concern among the guests. Several ran out of their rooms and one well known flouring mill man hustled into his garments as fast as his startled nerves would allow him to manipulate the buttons.

THE PINE LANDS

The Senate Investigation Into Their Taxation Is to Be Pushed Vigorously to the End.

Senator Donnelly Claims That It Will Save the State Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars.

Questionable Influences Are Said to Have Been Used to Defeat the Wyman Log Bill.

The Seizure of the Coal Combine's Books Is Before Judge Egan in District Court.

ST. PAUL, March 18.—(Special to The Herald.) Mr. Donnelly got a resolution through the senate this morning making an additional appropriation of $500 for the Keller investigation committee which is looking into taxation of pine lands. He claims it will save the state hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The senate had a long wrangle this morning over placing the name of Maj. Hotchkiss upon the Chickamauga monument. The house rejected his name on the ground of his private character. The senate stands by him. A debate took place over the advisability of adding another member to the committee of conference of the senate, which was equally divided for and against Hotchkiss. Donnelly was added to the committee.

In the house the loggers' bill for distribution of funds among various counties arising from the gross earnings tax upon railroads, was indefinitely postponed. This bill was designed in some measure to overcome the gross injustice of non-taxation of railroad lands, but now goes over along with the Markham bill.

Mr. Abbott's bill bringing all express companies under the direct supervision of the railroad and warehouse commissioners was reported back this morning with majority and minority reports. The majority report was in favor of indefinite postponement, and the minority that it do pass. The bill was placed upon general orders and made No. 307.

Mr. Markham introduced a substitute bill to divide the gross earnings tax of railroads among the counties in which the lands of such companies are situated at the rate of three cents for each acre of land.

There is serious trouble brewing regarding the way the Wyman log bill was defeated. An investigation is threatened into the methods used to secure its defeat. The methods, however, are recognized as an old story in this legislature and probably it will only result in talk.

The court proceedings in connection with the coal combine sensation are becoming complicated. At 10 o'clock this morning, Attorney General Childs asked to have the case continued. Judge Egan took until nearly noon to decide and then ruled that he would not continue it. While he was considering the case, one of the defendants went to a telephone and sent a message to Walsh, of the coal combine investigation committee, to take possession of the letter book in controversy. Judge Egan is now looking up the question as to whether or not he can punish Smith for using the telephone in order to get the book out of his possession.

The case is to come up again at 2 o'clock this afternoon and Smith will be the first witness. Up to 3 o'clock nothing had been done, Attorney O'Brien devoting the time to discussing the law on the subject. In the house of representatives this afternoon 1. Cole introduced a resolution requiring Judge Egan, of Ramsey county district court to show cause why the respective states of the house was debarred from the case.

House file No. 236, which provides that reassessments may be made when the first assessments for street improvements are declared invalid by the courts was under consideration yesterday by the municipal committee of the senate. The Duluth delegation appeared before the committee and a compromise was agreed upon to the effect that second assessments should be made by three disinterested citizens to be appointed by the court.

The bill providing for a new capital passed the house yesterday afternoon by a vote of 68 to 41. A warm fight preceded this action. The Markham bill, relating to the appointment of county assessors, also passed. The loggers' bill, providing for the completion of unfinished business of cities annexation to other cities applying to Lakeside, was passed under suspension of the rules.

Silver Mines Closed.

DENVER, Col., March 18.—Thursday night by an order from the board of directors at Shanghai, China, the Sherrill-Mendenhall silver mines at Telluride, employing about 350 men, were closed down. The mines will remain closed until silver advances sufficiently to make them pay.

The Flood at Saginaw.

SAGINAW, Mich., March 18.—The river is still rising, many of the docks are now submerged and a further rise of six inches will put Tilden street, which parallels the river, under water. The Tittabawassee is over its banks and fully a quarter of a mile on one side is submerged.

Robbed the Mails.

RICHMOND, Va., March 18.—Lawrence McElroy, the assistant postmaster at Fredericksburg, where there are three charges of robbing the mails, was yesterday sent to the grand jury by United States Commissioner Flagheimer. He was allowed bail in the sum of $1000.

THE ANN ARBOR STRIKE.

A New Phase Introduced by Judge Tall's Injunction.

TOLEDO, O., March 18.—The issuance of the injunction by Judge Tall yesterday restraining brotherhood men from boycotting Ann Arbor freight and the filing of $500,000 damage suit against Chief Arthur and Sargent has put a new phase on the situation, and it is impossible to tell at present what course the men will now pursue.

Chief Arthur, before he left the city, was non-committal as to what step he would take. As it now stands the only apparent course left for the men is to inaugurate a general strike and tie up all the roads in the hope that they may thus bring the Ann Arbor to terms.

So far no freight has been refused by the brotherhood men on connecting lines, but it is a question as to how long they will continue to ignore the laws of their order.

The strike is becoming a serious matter. The company is bound to demand the enforcement of its legal rights. At midnight, notwithstanding the injunction of the United States circuit court, a number of Lake Shore engineers cut out Ann Arbor cars and refused to handle them.

As soon as the Lake Shore officials heard of the matter they communicated with Judge Ricks at Cleveland, and the outcome is that he will be brought to Toledo on a special train this afternoon to hear the cases of the Lake Shore engineers, who will be charged with contempt. The Pennsylvania engineers have had a conference with their officials and agreed to stand by the decision of the courts and not uphold the brotherhood against the laws of the country.

Ann Arbor cars are being handled in the Pennsylvania yards today. The Ann Arbor for the first time since the strike began doing its full business today with non-union men on the engines. All the passenger and freight trains are running. At 2 o'clock this afternoon E. D. Porter, Jr., general attorney for the Lake Shore railroad company, appeared before Judge Ricks in the circuit court and made application for a writ of attachment against the appearance of the three freemen and four engineers of the Lake Shore company who refused to handle Ann Arbor cars last night in contempt of the court. The order was issued by the court and the United States marshal and his deputies arrested the seven men.

ANOTHER MILWAUKEE FIRE.

A Blaze Today Causes a Loss of Half a Million.

MILWAUKEE, March 18.—Fire started in the second floor of the Straw-Ellsworth Manufacturing company on Broadway just south of Michigan street at 1:30 this morning. In three-quarters of an hour it was under control, but it had done a lot of damage. The fire was caused by the Straw-Ellsworth company and Friend Brothers, manufacturers of clothing.

There were about 350 employees in the Straw-Ellsworth building at the time, mostly girls, and they all escaped by way of the roof and out to adjoining buildings. The fire was confined to the middle portion which is occupied jointly by the Straw-Ellsworth and Friend concerns. The former are wholesale dealers in hats, caps and gloves, and Friend's stock consists entirely of clothing.

The loss, while mostly through smoke and water, is very heavy and is divided approximately as follows: Friend Bros., building, $500; Friend Bros., stock, $250,000; Straw-Ellsworth company, stock, $200,000. The insurance is very liberal and will amount to about 75 per cent of the loss. No one was injured.

A BATTLE NEAR AT HAND.

Exciting News Expected at Any Moment from Brazil.

NEW YORK, March 18.—The Herald's Valparaiso correspondent cables that paper as follows: Exciting news may be expected at any moment from Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil. The Herald's correspondent at Arica telegraphs that the vanguard of the troops sent by the general government in Rio Janeiro to reinforce the Castilian army has reached the vicinity of Santa Ana.

These troops are under the command of Gen. Telles. They attacked the position held by Gen. Lavarez, commanding the federal army, which has been besieging Santa Ana, but that general avoided a battle because he is short of troops and ammunition. It is evident, however, that a battle will be fought today.

The Herald's correspondent in Catamarca, Argentina, telegraphs that the chief of police, Daza, who is the leader of the discontented element, has demanded the resignation of Governor Ferrar. The governor declines to resign, and Daza is organizing his followers and preparing to begin a revolution.

A COAL MINE ON FIRE.

Serious Results May Follow the Spread of the Fire.

HONEYBROOK, Pa., March 18.—The Honeybrook mine, operated by the Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal company, is on fire again. The present outbreak shows that it is alarmingly extensive. The surface near the stripping is so heated that water flowing over it is immediately dried up.

Work on the strippings will soon have to be abandoned. Grave apprehension is felt for the surrounding mines. Within a radius of three miles the veins known as Wharton, Duck Mountain and Mammoth are worked by different companies. The fire has spread to each of these openings, the loss will be immense.

The village of Honeybrook, which is directly over the mine, is menaced by a collapse of earth. fissures run through the town. They have been caused by a settlement of the earth. These cracks serve as chimneys for the escape of the gas air accumulating in the interior. So thick are the vapors that on several occasions it was impossible to see any distance. The people of Honeybrook are in a state of terror.

ABINGDON DEAD

The Backer of Charley Mitchell Died in New Orleans From an Attack of Pneumonia.

After the Hall-Fitzsimmons Fight He Went on a Spree and Caught a Cold.

Mitchell Says That the Squire's Death Will Not Affect His Fight With Champion Corbett.

Squire Abingdon Was a Man of Great Wealth With a Record That Was Sporty.

NEW ORLEANS, March 18.—George A. Baird, better known as Squire Abingdon, the noted English sport and backer of Charley Mitchell, died at the St. Charles hotel this morning, where he had been for several days suffering from a severe attack of pneumonia. The squire came here from New York with the Hall-Mitchell party in the best of health and decided to make a protracted stay in the city. He engaged rooms at the St. Charles hotel and immediately began to spend his money right and left among his friends.

On the night of the Hall-Fitzsimmons fight, he was one of Hall's seconds and while in the ring wore nothing but a loose undershirt to protect him from the chilly air. The squire handed the bottles and ice in Hall's corner, and after the defeated pugilist had been revived and taken back to the hotel, he started out for a walk and a general round of dissipation.

He kept up his spree until he was finally obliged to take his bed. At first his illness was not considered serious, but the physician who was called in gave him every possible attention. So confident was the squire that he would soon recover that he insisted that Mitchell and Hall should precede him to New York, and he was to join them there in time to sail on the Majestic on Wednesday. It was not until a dispatch was received here last night from Buffalo, stating that Mitchell had received a message at that point that the squire was dying, that any credence was placed in the rumor that the wealthy Englishman was in any danger.

Dr. Fitch was first called in, but as his patient grew worse he summoned Dr. Miles, the local physician of the Charity hospital, for consultation. At that time the squire was delirious and great care had to be taken to prevent him from doing himself violence. After the consultation between Dr. Fitch and Dr. Miles, a message was sent to Mitchell at Buffalo that the patient was suffering from pneumonia and despite his splendid constitution recovery was doubtful.

The dissipation he had indulged in for a fortnight had impaired his physical vigor and he was an easy prey. The squire's secretary, Teddy Bailey, and his valet, William Monk, remained with him incessantly and did all in their power to ease suffering and stay the hand of death. As the night wore on, the patient grew feebler and early this morning it was apparent to the physicians that his was only a matter of a short time. Skill and trained nurses were of no avail and slowly sinking he died at 8 o'clock after one week's illness.

Charley Mitchell wired last night from Buffalo that he would return to New Orleans this morning. This morning in New York, and today a message was sent him informing him of the death of the squire and arresting his proposed journey to the beset city. Mitchell was also sent to various points in the East, and cablegrams were dispatched to the deceased's family across the water. The family replied placidly, all arrangements in the hands of Secretary Bailey and Dr. Fitch. The body will be embalmed, and Bailey and Monk will leave with the night over the Piedmont air line for New York when they will sail on the Majestic for England. The squire was only 31 years of age but was a millionaire in England, which means that he was worth more than $5,000,000. His estates in England are represented to be magnificent and his stock farm is one of the finest in the country.

He was probably the finest gentleman rider that ever straddled a horse in England, and his excellence in that respect was universally conceded. He was not married, but his mother is living and he has a sister and other relatives at home, who will be shocked at the news of his death.

WHAT MITCHELL SAYS.

The Squire's Death Will Not Affect His Fight With Corbett.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Charley Mitchell and Jim Hall arrived from Buffalo this morning. They went to the Gedney house at once where they found a telegram to Mitchell announcing the death of Squire Abingdon. Mitchell began sending telegrams at once about Abingdon's death and directed that the body be embalmed and brought to New York at once. Mitchell spoke feelingly about his friend.

"When I left New Orleans," he said, "the squire was in bed. The doctors advised me to leave him as he would get better more quickly, so I came to New York. Before I left, however, I told them that if they would get the squire to New York in time to sail on the Majestic that I would give them $1000. I am greatly affected by my friend's death. He has been a sufferer from bowel trouble for some time and his constitution was run down."

When Mitchell was asked what effect the squire's death would have on his match with Corbett, he replied: "It won't have the slightest effect. The squire gave me the $10,000 to bet, with the understanding that I was to have it all if I won. That is the way the squire backed all his men. I will say now that, barring accidents, I will battle with Corbett when the going sounds."

The squire's record: He was one of the best known all-around sporting men of England. He was a gentleman jockey of Great Britain, having ridden against the best men in England, Ireland and Scotland. It was only within a few years past that pugilism began to divide his attention with racing. But since he took enthusiastically to fighters, Abingdon has backed nearly all the fighters of prominence in Great Britain.

The squire was exceedingly affable and made many friends. He was a rich man master with an income of $250,000 a year. He ran away with Dollie Lester, ex-ballet dancer and wife of the Marquis of Ailesbury, a few years ago and paid the marquis £100,000 to settle the matter. He was at one time on friendly terms with the notorious Bessie Bellwood and was named as co-respondent in a divorce suit brought by Mr. Lancaster, whose wife was a stage beauty known as Agnes Hewitt.

Once, too, the papers cautiously referred to a partnership between the squire and Mrs. Langtry. Because of reports of some unsavory dealing at the South-Sea fund in Belgium, Abingdon, was rejected by the Belgian club and promptly started a club of his own in King street, the St. James.

The squire's present visit to America was for the special purpose of promoting the Mitchell-Corbett contest and he proposed to see a good deal of the country incidentally. It is believed by many that the death of the squire may have some effect upon the Mitchell-Corbett match, in the scheme. A stock company was formed, and among others who went into it was Tom Campbell, a brother of Congressman Tim Campbell. This brought the matter into its official capacity as a lawyer.

Mr. Meir put up several thousand dollars. President Quayle came to this city with a big flourish and gave every one the impression that he had big money invested in the enterprise. Several Washingtonians were induced to invest in club stock and the money went with that of Mr. Meir, who is said to have dropped $1,000 all told and then was done with the whole business.

As the New Jersey legislature had not passed the non-racing bill, the Guttenberg and Gloucester tracks were not closed and this also helped to make the Ivy City scheme a failure. Tom Campbell had the restaurant privileges at the track and his losses are reported to have reached about $6,500.

RACING SCHEME COLLAPSED.

The Ivy City Club in Which "Tim" Campbell Was Interested.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The Post publishes details of the collapse of the Ivy City racing scheme in which Congressman "Tim" Campbell and his brother were interested. In addition to the $3,500 due the horsemen, the association's reported to be in debt to the judges, Starter McLaughlin, Secretary Saxe and every other employee whose salaries ranged from $200 a day down to $100. There are other liabilities amounting to more than $20,000. The owner of the track has seized the filled framework of the grand stand for rent of the track. It was stated last night that H. Clay Dittmar had completed all arrangements to have the New York pool rooms take the Ivy City races, and that the rooms were raided by the police the day before the arrangement was to be carried out. Some $200 was to have been paid daily to the Ivy City association, and if the rooms had not been closed the racing would have continued without interruption. The story of how the Ivy City jockey club came to be formed is told in this way:

When the New Jersey legislature promised to pass a bill prohibiting racing in that state, Harry Decker, of this city, conceived the idea of starting up at Ivy City. He went over to New York and interested Charles H. Meir, president of the Central Oil Gas Store company, with headquarters on Pearl street, in the scheme. A stock company was formed, and among others who went into it was Tom Campbell, a brother of Congressman Tim Campbell. This brought the matter into its official capacity as a lawyer.

Mr. Meir put up several thousand dollars. President Quayle came to this city with a big flourish and gave every one the impression that he had big money invested in the enterprise. Several Washingtonians were induced to invest in club stock and the money went with that of Mr. Meir, who is said to have dropped $1,000 all told and then was done with the whole business.

THE LAUDANUM ROUTE

Harmon Sawyer Took it Last Night in an Endeavor to Release Himself From This World.

Fate and a Doctor Ruled Otherwise and Harmon Is Still on This Terrestrial Sphere.

Trouble With His Wife seems to Have Been the Cause of His Rash Act.

Harmon Sawyer seems to be one more to decide that with himself anyway, both life and matrimony are failures. The public would naturally think so, anyway, for yesterday that gentleman attempted to cross the burning sands and initiate himself into the mysteries of the Golden Shore via the laudanum route.

Sawyer is a saw filer. His wife keeps a boarding house for railroad men at 1610 West Michigan street. Owing to her husband's fondness for the flowing bowl he has not shared her bed and board since April last. Lately Sawyer has been working at his trade, that of saw filer, at Berg's station on the South Shore road. Getting through his work he came to his wife's abode last Thursday and stayed there Thursday night.

Yesterday afternoon, between 4 and 5 o'clock he went to his room, where he was found an hour later by his daughter Edith, with a bottle of laudanum and a note on the table. Drs. Wilson and Porter were summoned and the weary Harmon was switched off the track to the great hereafter by the vigorous use of emetics and other cunning devices. His shuffling off of mortality and the putting on of immortality has been indefinitely postponed.

In the note, the would be suicide alleged that he was not living and requested that he be allowed to enter over the range. He further asked that no doctors be admitted after the falling of the curtain on the last act. He begged the wife of his bosom to take good care of the children and expressed a hope that he would meet her in the sweet subsequently in that eternal land of harps and golden crowns.

Mrs. Sawyer was apparently not at all broken up by her husband's effort to bring about an impromptu demise and the expense of a funeral. She stated that his performance was probably due to the state of warfare existing between Sawyer and herself. The trouble is said to have started last summer when Sawyer, in a drunken condition, accused his wife of infidelity with some of her boarders. That split the family circle. Sawyer is a middle-aged man and when not under the influence of the flowing bowl is a good workman.

HE WAS CUTTING PRICES.

A Duluth Man Who Felt the Coal Combine's Power.

Among the letters in the book belonging to Monitory with a view of the combine, which was seized by the senate investigating committee, is the following: St. Paul, Nov. 19, 1892—George Dinwiddie, Esq., 330 West Superior street, Duluth, Minn.—Dear Sir: Referring to your favor of the 16th in relation to J. W. Sheridan & Co., will state that after my conversation with you yesterday morning I visited Mr. Henneage at West Superior and gave him the particulars in relation to the matter complained of, and he promised to see Mr. Sheridan yesterday afternoon and straighten him out generally.

Please watch this matter, and if there is any repetition of it, we shall take such steps as will be apt to effectually prevent his making any price on coal if we can.

Please keep me posted in regard to matters generally up there and oblige, yours respectfully,

JOHN J. RICHES, Manager.

NEW MESABA TOWNS.

One to be Platted Near the Longyear Property.

The report is circulated that E. J. Longyear intends to plat and put on sale a new townsite near the Longyear and Lake Superior properties in Mesaba. The Range was also informed this week that a new town is soon to be started near Ely lake and the valuable iron properties in the southwest corner of 35-37. There is a large amount of pine in this vicinity. Sam Davidson and Charles Reynolds, prominent lumbermen of Alpena, Mich., are now looking over the territory with a view of starting a sawmill at the lake. The Biwabik branch of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern runs along the shore of the lake and all conditions are favorable for a village of good proportions.

WON THE TROPHY.

R. R. Macfarlane's Rink Defeated R. J. MacLeod Last Evening.

R. R. Macfarlane's rink is the champion team of the Duluth Curling club, if last night's contest decides it for R. J. MacLeod's rink, heretofore counted the crack team, went down before Macfarlane's men who won the Williamson & Mendenhall trophy. The ice was in fine shape and the contest was a splendid one. MacLeod led until the ninth lead but then dropped behind and did not recover. The winning rink was loudly cheered. The score was as follows:

Rev. E. M. Noyes, A. Macfarlane, Frank Kesson, R. J. MacLeod, R. R. Macfarlane, skip—14, D. MacLeod, skip—10.

Township Elections.

The election at Biwabik last Tuesday resulted as follows: President, W. B. Cameron; recorder, James A. Robb; with some of her boarders. That split the family circle. Sawyer is a middle-aged man and when not under the influence of the flowing bowl is a good workman.

The following were elected at McKinley: President, Dr. H. L. Dams; recorder, D. J. Cameron; treasurer, E. A. Wiseman; trustees, H. H. Salmon, Ed Olson and D. W. Braithwaite; justice of the peace, E. S. Dodd.

At Virginia 27 votes were cast, and of these John Owens received 207 for president. John McLeod attempted to get elected but received only 11 votes. John F. Burke for recorder and Neil McInnis for treasurer were re-elected without opposition. John F. Towell, J. W. Falk and H. Gilwarr were elected trustees.

A Postoffice Closed. Baker's postoffice at Pelican Lake, Alice A. Wrightman, postmistress, has been discontinued by the department. The cancellation never exceeded $1 a month and as the carrier, between this city and Pelican Lake, a distance of nearly forty miles, had to be paid from the receipts, the office was far from self-sustaining.

The North Dakota Elevator. Grand Forks Herald: Senator Hillier's bill, appropriating $3,000 for a state elevator at West Superior or Duluth, has not yet been passed upon by the executive. With reference to its constitutionality, Attorney General Standish gives it as his opinion that "if the state had the power to erect a building at Chicago, it certainly has the power to erect an elevator at Duluth or at any other point. There is nothing in the state constitution to prevent the state of North Dakota from purchasing the entire city of Duluth, should our state legislature so decree and the state of our finances admit."

Jumping to a Conclusion. New York Press: As president of the United States it is the duty of Grover Cleveland to protect American interests with the slightest vigilance and to encourage by all honorable and legitimate means the growth of republican principles in the western hemisphere. It appears from the president's opinion in regard to Hawaii, that he cannot be trusted to perform either duty.

A Chamber of Horrors. St. Paul Pioneer Press: A large number of people who voted for Cleveland are sending him their photographs. By papering one room in the White House with these offerings of loyal friendship it ought to be easy to construct a chamber of horrors where the hungriest office-seeker could be confined an hour and sent home cured.

The Only Line That Does It. The St. Paul & Duluth railroad is the only line running three daily trains between Duluth and West Superior and St. Paul and Minneapolis. It is the only line running a fast limited train to St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Is the only line making connections with three daily trains to Chicago and all points East. Is the only line running through and separate sleepers to St. Paul and Minneapolis without change, and is the only line that can sell you a ticket to any point and check your baggage through.

NEW DULUTH HAPPENINGS.

Election of Village Officers and Other News of Interest.

New DULUTH, March 18.—Tuesday was election of village officers. The following were elected: Mr. Maloney, president; Dr. McCuen, recorder; H. F. Hermann, treasurer; Scott Bowser and Safford, trustees; Dillinbeck and Vallor, constables; Charles Kreuger, justice, of the peace.

Oscar Peterson, of Fond du Lac, has a large quantity of cedar peeled near the station here, getting ready for shipping. Last Saturday four schooners on the island were burned to the ground. It is stated the fire originated from the explosion of a stove. Residents hope they will not be rebuilt as there are too many sailboats here now for the size of the place.

The storm booked for last week came Monday. It was so severe there was no school all day. Spring, however, is near, judging from the small boy and the marbles. "Play for fun or keeps?" has a familiar sound just now.

There has been quite a good deal of sickness among children lately. Hermann's little son has been quite ill this week.

Mr. Heito has sold his house and will move with his family to Antigo in the spring.

Eddie Hermann is home from school at Owatonna on a short vacation.

Rev. Mr. Moore, of Charlevoix, Mich., has been invited to be the pastor of the Congregational church.

Mr. Alexander, of Duluth, spent Thursday night in the village to assist at the Baptist entertainment. Mr. Milne also came up for the same purpose.

The St. Paul & Duluth short line put on a new coach in place of the very old one which has been in use. Now people hope for an equal improvement in the time of trains leaving this end.

The 3:30 train leaves any time from 3:30 until after 5. If people have plenty of time to wait it does not matter so much—if not, it is very annoying, especially if they wish to catch trains after getting to Duluth.

J. Herman returned from an extended trip South last East. He has been gone about a month.

Henry Haskins, humane officer, and Mr. Kemp were in the village Thursday for the purpose of interesting and forming a band of mercy. Mr. Haskins addressed the children in the afternoon.

The Baptist society gave an entertainment at their church Thursday night. Recitations were given by the Misses Hermann, Beckinger and Milne, solos by Messrs. Davis, Giddings, Milne and Thayer, quartet concert and flute solos.

Miss Kees played "Home Sweet Home" in her usual excellent way. Sweet Mason brought down the house in her reading of "The Girl in the Red Coat."

Alexander, of Duluth, gave two vocal numbers which were much appreciated. He has a good voice and New Duluth people will be glad to hear him sing.

At the Baptist church tomorrow: Morning, "Barnabas, the Model Christian;" evening, "Possessed With Devils;" Monday evening, preaching at Fond du Lac.

Rheumatism Quickly Cured. Three days is a very short time in which to cure a bad case of rheumatism; but it can be done if the proper treatment is adopted, as will be seen from the following: James Lambert, of New Brunswick, Ill., "I was badly afflicted with rheumatism in the hips and legs, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It cured me in three days. I am all right today; and would insist on every one who is afflicted with that terrible disease to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm and get well at once." 50 cent bottles for sale by druggists.

The Youth's Cyclopaedia, issued by C. B. Beach & Co., of Chicago, is, educationally considered, the most important publication of recent years. It has been prepared by a corps of teachers and educational writers expressly to meet the needs of the young, and supplies a want which teachers and parents have long and deeply felt.

It is sold by subscription and is having an enormous sale. Anyone wanting an agency which offers rare advantages, should consult the advertisement of this work which appears in another column.

New Enterprise. John Christie, book and job printer, has taken into partnership O. F. Collier, late proprietor of the Wabasha Herald, Wabasha, Minn., and the business will now be carried on under the firm name of Christie and Collier. In addition to their first class printing plant, which has been largely increased, the new firm have added a complete lithographic plant and are prepared to execute all kinds of lithographic work.

Cholera in Pennsylvania. Swickley, Penn.: We had an epidemic of cholera, as our physicians called it, in this place lately, and I made a great hit with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I sold four dozen bottles of it in one week, and have since sold nearly a gross. This remedy did the work and was a big advertisement for me. Several persons who had been troubled with cholera for two or three weeks were cured by a few doses of this medicine.

Concert at the Pavilion Sunday if it's pleasant. Prof. Meier's orchestra will play from 2 to 5 in the afternoon. Pavilion heated by steam.

Dr. Buckley in His Notes of a Zigzag Tour. A gentleman of peculiar appearance seated himself opposite to whom I had had the pleasure of an introduction years ago. It was Mr. Marshall P. Wilder, the ventriloquist, humorist, delineator, the witty entertainer who has demonstrated the ability to succeed against heavy odds.

Entertaining on the platform, if possible he is even more so in private conversation. Unlike many professional humorists, whose repertoire is manufactured with the utmost pains and exhausts all they know, he is spontaneous, depending in the by-play of conversation with a mixture of simplicity and shrewdness worthy of Artemus Ward.

None of the multitudes that hear him every night are able to and fro through the land can be more entertained than I was. If I had notified him that he was being interviewed, it would be easy to divert his readers with some of his unparalleled reminiscences of Europe and America. But perhaps the sentiment would have checked the flow, and it was not matter to me, as it is reputable to state anything that was said.

Hood's Cures. Saved From the Grave. Sproful in Face and Neck—Blind at Times.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Restored Health—Gained 33 Pounds in Weight.

Mr. Wm. Erick West Duluth, Minn.

"I have been a very great sufferer from a serious case of scrofula. First, a large lump came to my neck growing as big as a good sized apple. It was as hard as bone, and after drawing it to a head the doctor lanced it, and for two years it was blind."

It was a Running Shoe. Then we succeeded in lancing it, but the disease began to appear in my face, which would swell up and affect my eyes so that every morning they were so inflamed and swollen that I was blind. The swelling would subside in the middle of the afternoon so that I could see a little. Well, I was in this condition for about a year. I went to every physician in my town, all of whom failed to help me and said nothing could be done to cure me. But I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and when I had used a bottle and half, the swelling in my face had entirely gone down. I kept on taking the medicine, and gained 33 pounds in weight.

I Have Been Perfectly Cured. am now in good health, and confidently say Hood's Sarsaparilla saved me from the grave. Today I am looking as good and hearty as ever.

THE NEW WHEAT CROP.
Reports From All the Western States Are Not Encouraging.

CHICAGO, March 18.—From all the information that can be secured regarding the new wheat crop in the Western states it can be said that it is far from encouraging. In Illinois the early sown wheat is in fairly good condition, but late sown has been injured considerably by the severe winter.

In North and South Dakota and Minnesota the roads are rendered impassable by enormous snow drifts and it is impossible to give a reasonable estimate. From Indiana the reports indicate a falling off in the condition of winter wheat. In the northern and southern part of the state heavy rains that prevailed in the latter part of February left the roots exposed to the frost that followed, and it is estimated that with the most favorable conditions from now on not more than a half crop will be harvested. The more favorable estimates for the entire state place the yield at from one-half to two-thirds of a crop.

The western part of Kansas reports the plant in a generally fair condition, but in the western portion a great many fields were not sown until January, and some as late as February. In many places there has not been any moisture to cause the grain to sprout and it lies in the ground unsprouted. With the conditions favorable from now on the eastern part of the state will produce a good crop.

The outlook in Missouri for wheat has greatly improved within the last two weeks. Indications are promising and the most reliable estimates place the yield at 75 per cent.

OVERFLOWED ITS BANKS.
The Platte River Has Spread Over the Adjacent Country.

OMAHA, Neb., March 18.—The Platte river has again overflowed its banks and is carrying away stock and houses. As a consequence of the late warm weather it has spread all over the country adjacent and many cattle have been drowned.

Ice has been carried far, and by the waters receding has been dumped upon the land. In one place the ice is twenty feet high over a twenty-acre tract. One farmer returned from Fremont to his home to find his cabin floating in the water, with his wife and children sitting on the roof with ice all around them. At one point near Rogers, where Shell creek empties into the Platte, the back water has flooded the entire country, submerging many farms, floating many houses and throwing hundreds of sheep and cattle.

The heavy snow which fell during the last few days is rapidly melting and it is believed that this will increase the work of the waters. No human lives have yet been lost.

Ex-Senator Armstrong Dead.
St. Louis, Mo., March 18.—Ex-Senator David H. Armstrong died in his room at the Richfield hotel at 11 o'clock today. Senator Armstrong was attacked with heart failure yesterday noon and never rallied. He was born in Nova Scotia in 1812; came to St. Louis in 1837 and took charge of the public schools. In 1877 he was appointed United States senator from Missouri to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Boggs.

A Crimean Veteran Dead.
St. Louis, March 18.—Gen. Wm. C. Kniffler died at his home in Belleville, Ill., today, aged 53 years. He was a soldier in the Crimean war at the age of 15 years, and emigrating to America in 1860 enlisted in the Union army. He organized the 14th Illinois infantry.

Gaudaur's Challenge.
In North and South Dakota and Minnesota the roads are rendered impassable by enormous snow drifts and it is impossible to give a reasonable estimate. From Indiana the reports indicate a falling off in the condition of winter wheat. In the northern and southern part of the state heavy rains that prevailed in the latter part of February left the roots exposed to the frost that followed, and it is estimated that with the most favorable conditions from now on not more than a half crop will be harvested. The more favorable estimates for the entire state place the yield at from one-half to two-thirds of a crop.

The western part of Kansas reports the plant in a generally fair condition, but in the western portion a great many fields were not sown until January, and some as late as February. In many places there has not been any moisture to cause the grain to sprout and it lies in the ground unsprouted. With the conditions favorable from now on the eastern part of the state will produce a good crop.

GAVE THEM A SCORING

Bishop McGolrick Paid His Respects Last Evening to People Who Are Arousing Religious Hatred.

The Force of Educated American Sentiment, He Said, Will Certainly Strike Them Down.

Excellent Production of the Charming Irish Drama "Kathleen Mavourneen"—The Opera House Crowded.

The only public celebration of St. Patrick's day outside of church services was last evening's entertainment at the Temple Opera house. The theatre was crowded. Bishop McGolrick delivered a short address previous to the production of "Kathleen Mavourneen." He said that he sometimes wondered when he read Irish history that Irishmen had a day to celebrate, so long did the people live under tyranny and oppression. He ran over the history of Ireland briefly and said that within the past thirty years a radical change has been taking place in the feelings of the people of England, Scotland and Wales toward Irishmen and Catholics.

Toward the close of his address, the bishop touched on the A. P. A. organization, although he did not mention the name. He said that there is today a set of men, mostly coming from the lower stratum of society and narrow-minded, who are endeavoring to stir up a religious warfare and hatred with the Catholics. They meet in dark and secret corners and swear that no Catholic shall hold office. Men had written to him within a few weeks, he said, telling him of the organization of such a society and offering to disclose its plans. The bishop declared that the only course he would take would be to treat to the organization with silent contempt. Let them grow for a while, the force of educated American sentiment will strike them down. "God forbid that any man should be despised for his religious belief," he said. "As a bishop of God's church, I here say that nothing could be more opposed to Catholic principles and practices."

Following the address the curtain rose on the first act of "Kathleen Mavourneen." This beautiful and simple Irish drama seems to gain in popular favor rather than decrease and no audience ever fails to be interested, to sympathize with sweet Kathleen and Teddy O'Connor and to hate the villain Kavanagh. The presentation of last evening was a most creditable performance in every respect.

Miss Julia Donovan, although suffering from an unusually severe cold which greatly hampered her voice, made a charming Kathleen. In the emotional parts she was particularly strong and imparted to the audience a feeling which many a professional actress fails to give—that there was plenty of reserve force and that no straining was necessary. Miss Margaret Dunn as Dorothy Kavanagh and Mrs. E. Dawson as Kitty Bird were very good and their efforts were highly appreciated. Arthur W. Leach made a decided hit in the character of Terence O'Connor. He has a remarkably pleasing stage presence, speaks clearly and distinctly, a most important qualification, and is free from constraint or embarrassment. In fact it may truly be said that he appeared to be in his element. Charles P. Murphy sustained the comedy role of Bill Barton in an admirable manner and provoked peals of laughter. All of the characters were well taken and the whole performance was very entertaining.

SIGNOR CRISPI IMPLICATED.

A Paper Connecting the Station Leader With the Panama Scandal.

PARIS, March 18.—Le Rappel, Radical, says that the liquidator of the estate of the late Baron Reinach has communicated to the committee on investigation of the chamber of deputies a document which belonged to Baron Reinach and which gives the names and dates of various Panama payments including one payment of 50,000 francs alleged to have been made to Signor Crispi, the former premier of Italy. The statement of the Rappel has caused a sensation.

M. Velter, magistrate, takes the place of M. Franqueville as examining magistrate in the Panama cases during the absence of M. Franqueville on a vacation. M. Franqueville is said to be much exhausted by his protracted labors.

FIVE LIVES WERE LOST.

The Keeper of a Lighthouse and Four Children Drowned.

EDINBURGH, March 18.—The loss of five lives is reported from Millport, on the south side of the isle of the Great Cumbra, in Bute-shire. A man named Wallace, the keeper of the lighthouse near the entrance of Millport harbor, started in a small boat with his four children for the town.

Wallace was an experienced boatman, but in some unexplained manner his boat capsized and before assistance could reach him the straggling persons in the water were all drowned.

A Handsome Souvenir.

LONDON, March 18.—Lady Salisbury and Lady Spicer, presented last evening a magnificent gold pendant encrusted with gems to Mme. Waddington, wife of the French ambassador who is about to return to Paris. The presentation was made in the presence of scores of titled women who had subscribed to purchase the gift. Among those present were Mrs. Gladstone, Mrs. John Mackay, Mrs. William Waldorf Astor, Mrs. Smalley, Mrs. Ronalds and Mrs. Henry White. The pendant was given as a souvenir of Mme. Waddington's residence in London.

A DYNAMITE OUTRAGE

An Attempt Made in Rome to Blow Up a Residence Occupied by the Pope's Guards.

A Powerful Bomb, With a Lighted Fuse Attached to It, Was Found by a Boy.

He Stamped on the Fuse With His Feet and Thus Frustrated the Attempted Outrage.

ROME, March 18.—Following close upon the unsuccessful attempt to blow up United States Minister Potter's residence, another dynamite outrage was attempted today at the Palazzo Altieri, the headquarters of the Guardia Nobili, one of the military organizations whose duty it is to attend the pope and to be present at great religious functions at the Vatican.

Early this morning a boy who was passing the Palazzo Altieri saw a mass of what he at first thought was mortar lying upon the steps of the palace. With a boy's curiosity, he ran up the steps and was surprised to see a burning fuse extending from the mass. The boy at once stamped on the fuse with his feet and then notified the police. Gentlemen were at once sent to the palace and were not long in ascertaining that what the boy had at first mistaken for a mass of mortar was a powerful bomb containing dynamite or other high explosive.

The bomb was encased in a thick coating of plaster of paris, which in the opinion of experts would have added to the destruction that would have been wrought had an explosion occurred. The news of the attempted outrage has caused considerable excitement. A number of arrests of anarchists have been made in the city recently, and this fact has apparently caused the friends of the men arrested to attempt these outrages as a means of revenge.

It has transpired since the affair of yesterday at the Ancient Mattei palace, that the police have been warned from some unknown source that attempts would be made to cause explosions in various parts of the city. Notwithstanding the warning, the miscreants who planned this morning's affair had no trouble in placing their bomb on the steps of the palace, which is one of the best known buildings in the city.

Orders have now been issued, however, that a strict watch shall be kept on all suspicious characters and the police hope to soon have the conspirators in custody. Another warning was received today that further attempts would shortly be made to cause explosions.

New Line of Vessels.

WITHOUT THE Non-pull-out
BOW (RING)

It is easy to steal or ring watches from the pocket. The thief gets the watch in one hand, the chain in the other and gives a short, quick jerk—the ring slips off the watch stem, and away goes the watch, leaving the victim only the chain.

This idea stopped

that little game:
The bow has a groove on each end. A collar runs down inside the pendant (stem) and his into the groove, firmly locking the bow to the pendant, so that it cannot be pulled or twisted off.

JULES FERRY'S DEATH.

All the Newspapers Lament His Departure and Narrate His Virtues.

PARIS, March 18.—The room in which Jules Ferry died has been transformed into a mortuary and is hung with draperies worked in silver. The public in the meantime are not allowed to view the remains. It is expected that the government will propose a state funeral, when the body will be removed to the Luxembourg.

The will of the deceased statesman directs that his remains shall be buried at Fouchay, in the department of Vosges near the place where he resided during his retirement from public life. M. Ribot took the news of Ferry's death to President Carnot, who was very much affected by the announcement. The president said: "It is the disappearance of one of the reserve forces of the republic—a precious reserve."

The republican newspapers appear saddened in black. La Republique Francaise says this morning: "He did not hold the full position to which his many virtues and robust intellect entitled him. Republicans will rank him with the noblest citizens and best servants of the country."

La Justice says: "We solemnly commended him, but standing beside his tomb we only recall the fact that he took part with great energy in the struggles to secure the triumph of the republic."

The La Lanterne (Radical) says: "Among the founders and servants of the republic his position will remain prominent as one of the liberators of France." Le Radical says: "His death will comfort nobody, while it will afflict his immediate partisans."

Le Soleil (Orleanist) says: "The death of M. Ferry makes a great gap in the ranks of Republican veterans. He was a narrow-minded and sectarian party man, utterly destitute of generosity, but he was a man."

Le Gaulois says: "All that the republic regards as its work sprang from Ferry. He deserves well of Republicans, he was of evil omen to the country, for by excluding from education the ideas of God he became an important factor in the national demoralization."

Heavy Insurance Losses.
BOSTON, March 18.—The total loss sustained by 130 insurance companies by last Friday's conflagration totals up $2,691,450. Included in this figure is $750,000, an estimate of water damages divided among 100 companies, and the figure is based on all expected salvage. The total insurance carried on property and stocks burned or damaged exceeds $4,500,000.

Nominated for Congress.
MILWAUKEE, March 18.—Jacob O'Brien, who was defeated for congress by Senator Mitchell last fall, was again nominated for congress by the Republicans of this district this afternoon.

THE MUNICIPAL COURT.

John Keogh Arrested For Stealing a Steam Boiler.

In municipal court this morning John Davis was found guilty of trying to freely with the flowing bowl, and as a consequence was sent to the county jail where flowing bowls are not known. Pat Kelly was drunk, too, but so persuasive was his voice, with its mellow Hibernian accent, that the judge suspended sentence so that Pat could go out and accept a job awaiting him. William Os-berg and M. C. O'Neil were sent up five days for vagrancy. Albert Elliott, charged with obstructing the sidewalk, while unloading coal was fined $1 and costs.

John Keogh stepped up to the bar of justice charged with grand larceny, upon complaint of Michael Chalk, who alleges that Keogh stole one wrought iron steam boiler valued at $75. The hearing was set for March 21, and the defendant placed under bonds in the sum of $250.

TOOK HIS BREATH AWAY.

How City Clerk Richardson Slugged a Job Printing Solicitor.

A solicitor for a new job printing office in Duluth called upon City Clerk Richardson this morning. In a half-hearted, amateurish way he presented his card and explained his business. Mr. Richardson failing to find out a thing, order for work, the solicitor stood nervously on one foot a moment and then in a low tone of voice across the counter said:
"We Democrats must stand together."
"Do you take me for a Democrat?"
"Do I look like a Democrat?"
"I despised my face this morning. Don't I use Pear's soap?" The solicitor grasped the railing, caught his breath and slipped quietly away.

Town Elections.

In the town of Duluth election, Vice

Court.

Before Judge Ensign in regular term in room No. 1, the very unhappy case of John C. C. Fletcher vs. Henry Stephens et al is still on trial. The evidence this morning consisted mainly of depositions from a host of policemen, ex-policemen and other Chicago people who testified to frequent carnal relations with Octavia Johnson, and that she was a woman who lived in a notoriously bad house and was of loose character. Judge Ensign will hear the city tax cases the first thing
Monday morning.

The action of Kasinski vs. Kasinski was taken under advisement. A hearing will be had April 22, on the petition for

Mr. Towne Set Right.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Some currency having been given by an editorial in your paper of Monday, the 13th instant, to the theory that Mr.
Charles A. Towne has acted in bad faith in relation to the appointment of an incumbent of the third judgeship lately filled by Governor Nelson in the selection of Mr. Charles L. Lewis, we desire to state that from our personal knowledge, there is no basis for such a theory.
We were members of a delegation of Duluth lawyers and others who waited upon Governor Nelson in connection with this judgeship. Mr. Towne accompanied us and addressed the governor in relation to the appointment of an incumbent of naming a Democrat to the position, and even after the governor stated that he would not name Mr.
Jaques, supported the latter's claims, reviewing the history of the selection of Judge Moen by the bar and the many statements taken by Mr. Jaques and his friends at the time and subsequently, and giving these as reasons, among others, why he and his friends had supported Mr. Jaques as a candidate for the appointment to the third judgeship.
It was made clear by the governor in the interview that he looked with great favor upon Mr. Lewis, whom he had known intimately as a man and as a lawyer for many years; and after the appointment of Mr. Jaques became impossible, then Mr. Towne endorsed Mr. Lewis as a man, in his opinion in every way qualified for the place.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I feel that your editorial in last Monday's Herald, referring to C. A. Towne with bad faith in relation to the judicial appointment, was unjust, and free to say that I consider that Mr. Towne acted in entire good faith throughout the matter.
I think this opinion prevails among Democrats generally at least I have heard nothing to the contrary.

tising to try to deceive the public. The public, however, was not deceived. We hope no dealers will make themselves ridiculous this time. If we did not sell goods low, why should we be doing a business which compels us to seek such large quarters? If this is true, how can anyone afford not to buy

WHEAT DULL AND LOWER.

The Wheat Market Here Today Was Weak but Steady.

A fair week's business in wheat closed with a dull, lower and steady market today. It opened weak and fell to below last night's close, and subsequently ruled inactive but very steady at these figures. The close was weak with prices the same as the opening. As compared with last Saturday the close was higher for cash, but lower for May and unchanged for July.
Receipts during the past week have been very fair, but one-half has gone direct to the mills.
The balance was in the hands of the country stocks for the week will be about 100,000 bushels.

Liverpool cables today reported wheat steady with poor demand and holders offering moderately. Wheat and flour on both coasts equalled 2,500,000 bushels, against 18,000 bushels last week, and 3,500,000 bushels last year. The United States is expected to export 6,000,000 bushels weekly for the balance of the season.
That cold weather and high winds have made it impossible for the farmers to do much sowing this week, but with better weather next week the sowing of oats will be in full blast in Kansas and Missouri. Winter wheat is about as it was a week ago. The total clearances at four ports were 126,000 bushels. Following were the closing prices here today:

Wheat, No. 1 northern, cash, 65c; May, 66c; July, 72c; No. 1 northern, cash, 63c;
March, 68c; May, 69c; July, 70c; No.

On track—No. 1 northern, 64c; No. 2, northern, 60c; Rye, 4c; Flour, cash, $1.05; May, $1.06.

Inspection today 77. Receipts—Wheat, 50,375 bus. Cars on track, 133; last year, 171.

DULUTH STOCK EXCHANGE.

Sales Light Today But the Feeling is Decidedly Firmer.

Sales of the day were exceedingly light, only 25 shares changing hands. There is a firmer feeling than for some days and a general underdone of betterment prevails. The past week has been a record one of lower values, in which nearly all stocks dealt in have shared more or less severely. In a few cases there has been strength, but most of the trading has been on a cheaper footing. Sales, while not so large as on the preceding six days, have been also at 300 shares, of which the United States held a proportion not to credit as the week before.

Knoxville and Cincinnati have led in the trading of listed shares, while Great Northern has been strong with considerable dealings. It is expected that several additional Northerns will put their shares on the exchange at an early date. Little has been done in other than mining stocks, though there is a constant market on the exchange for the securities of banks and some of our industrial concerns, if their stocks can be had. Following were the closing quotat-

STUDY OF CHARACTER.

Mary Angela Dickens' Novel, "A Mere Cypher," Has Originality and Sustained Interest of Plot.

The Story of a Pretty Girl Taught That to Get Married is the Essential Thing.

Timely and Able Articles Which Appear in the Popular Magazines for March and April.

A rather remarkable study of character is elaborated by Mary Angela Dickens in her story of "A Mere Cypher" (Macmillan & Co., 12mo, pp. 428, $1.00). The mere cypher is a little, worn-looking woman with pale, blue eyes, an apparently insignificant creature, the absolute slave of a brutally selfish and tyrannical husband, and in the presence of strangers hardly daring to call her soul her own; yet she works a transforming influence over many lives, saves a brilliant young Englishman from the clutches of the drink demon, helps him in his plans for assisting the poor of London, and finally, when he is threatened with disgrace through no fault of his own, averts the threatened blow by a crime for which she makes prompt expiation. The novel is one that cannot fail to make a decided impression, both on account of its originality and the sustained interest of the plot. It was published in serial form under the title of "A Modern Judith."

"A Wild Proxy," a tragic comedy of today, is the title of a new story by Mrs. W. K. Clifford, author of "Mrs. Keith's Crime," and "Aunt Anne," which the Cassell Publishing company announce. Mrs. Clifford is one of the most popular novelists of the day. Her books have merely to be announced and the demand begins. She has a style of her own which is at once bright and entertaining, and she knows the value of a good plot. "A Wild Proxy" is the story of a pretty and attractive girl who has been taught by her stepmother that to get married is the thing that she was born for. How she fulfills her mission, and the part the proxy plays, lends the excitement to the story.

The Illustrated American for March 18 sustains its good reputation. The editorials are spicy and the articles appeal to a wide range of readers. The launch of the Indiana is finely illustrated. The R. F. Stuart collection of paintings at the Lenox library, New York city; the life of Baron Marbot, biographies of Hilary A. Herbert and J. Sterling Morton, prettily illustrated, are among the interesting features. A sprightly essay on the taste of the times rejoices in the "pat" title "The Encaging of Chastity," and is most daintily decorated with artistic little figures. In the "History of Seven Days" are found the portraits of the week's notoriety.

The Forum begins its fifteenth volume with a timely March number, the three leading articles being "Hawaii and Our Future Sea-Power," by Capt. A. T. Mahan, of the United States navy, president of the Naval War college at Newport, and who discusses the importance of United States control in the Pacific from the broad point of view of a student of the influence of sea-power upon national development; "Panama: The Story of a Colossal Bubble," by Ernest Lambert, who was during the critical period of this enterprise the editor of the Panama Star and Herald—a complete explanation of the remarkable series of events in this great swindle; and "A New Commercial Era for the United States," by George W. Medley, an authoritative English student, with free trade inclinations, of large commercial tendencies, who argues that the adoption of a policy of radical tariff reform by the United States would transfer to us from England the commercial supremacy of the world. In this number the Forum publishes an article under the title of "The Science of Municipal Corruption," which throws a startling light on the system whereby city councils and similar boards are systematically bribed, and tells how the bribery is done and what classes of men are venal.

N. P. Gilman's new volume on "Socialism and the American Spirit"—of a more popular cast than his treatise on "Profit-Sharing"—follows a distinct line of its own in the discussion of social questions. It is likely to call forth much comment by its statement of the answer which the American spirit makes to the program advocated by socialists of various kinds.

Miss Lacombe's three little book, "As it is in Heaven," "The Unseen Friend," and "At the Beautiful Gate," bound in white and in a neat white box, taken together form a very appropriate Easter gift. They received from Bishop Brooks earnest words of approval, and the two prose volumes are some expressions quoted from him with his hearty consent.

Mrs. Van Kessel, Cruger, the author of "Marianettes," who writes under the pen-name of Julien Gordon, will soon have a new book ready from the press of the Cassell Publishing company. "His Letters" is the simple but striking title of the story. In this volume we have Julien Gordon in a new vein. In a series of letters written by a man to a woman before he had ever met her, and continued after their meeting, is told a love story that is entirely out of the common. By its intensity and originality this book will command attention that a story written in the ordinary novel form might not.

An address by David Starr Jordan, on "Science and the Colleges," will be printed as the opening article in the April Popular Monthly. President Jordan gives a vivid description of the numerous starveling sectarian colleges which have obstructed the progress of higher education in America, and shows how grandly science has advanced in spite of these and other hindrances.

Katherine Conway, one of the noblest workers in the Catholic journalistic field, her "Watchwords" from John Doyle O'Reilly, was a phenomenal success last year will issue through Cupples of Boston, a book for the coming Easter season, entitled, "A Dream of Lilies." Miss Conway has the happy faculty of hitting the taste of the public. She is fast becoming a universal favorite, and like Miss Proctor, is as much liked by the better class of Protestant readers, as she is revered by the entire Catholic world. The announcement of this new book has already brought to her publisher heavy advanced orders, compelling him to go to press with a second edition of it before a copy of the first is on the counters of the booksellers.

The design on the cover of American Young People, the new illustrated monthly magazine published in Chicago, is attracting widespread attention, especially from artists and art critics throughout the country, as it is without question one of the most beautiful and expressive ever put upon the cover of a periodical. It is the work of an eminent artist and symbolizes the scope of the magazine.

In order to encourage and stimulate patriotic ideas in the minds of the youth of America, the publishers of American Young People offer prizes approximating $10,000 in value for the best essays giving the most comprehensive exposition of the symbolism embodied in the design.

Carolus Duran, the great Parisian portrait painter, is the subject of a well-informed and interesting letter from "Sibylla," in the Argonaut of March 13. It describes a visit to his studio, tells how he receives friends and strangers, describes his appearance and rapid work, relates some amusing anecdotes of his self-confidence—and in fact, gives such a rounded portrait of the man as only long acquaintance with him could impart.

A new edition of 5000 copies of the February Century is now printing. The demand for the magazine this season has been very great. The publishers were for a time entirely out of the January number; and they are now printing this new edition of February which has been for some time out of print. The March edition, which had already been increased, proves still inadequate, and a yet larger supply is in preparation for April. Among the recent attractions in the Century have been Mrs. Burton Harrison's story "Sweet Bells Out of Tune," Mark Twain's "Million Pound Bank-Note," the reply of the Russian Secretary of Legation to George Kennan, Gen. Sherman's correspondence with his brother, Senator Sherman, the remarkable Reminiscence of Napoleon at Elba, etc., etc. The April number will contain an important article on the "Trial of the Chicago Anarchists" by the judge who presided.

The New Peterson for March is a decided improvement on its predecessors, as admirable as they have been. "Our Women Violinists," by Frances M. Smith, is a most interesting paper, accompanied by admirable photographs of all the celebrated American women violin-players. Another charming article, profusely illustrated is "Some Cities of Algeria," by Mrs. E. C. Creighton. An illustrated story, "Israel Camperman's Abir," by Robert C. V. Meyers, proves that its gifted author is as skilled in humor as he is in pathos. "Talumba's Downy," by Elizabeth Cavaza, is one of those wonderfully realistic sketches of Calabrian life which have made this writer so suddenly famous.

"A Freak's Midsummer Night's Dream," by Charles Belmont Davis, is as unique as it is delightful. "Heine and the Monkey's Skin," by Thomas Wentworth Higginson, and "Was That Little Fellow?" by Minot J. Savage, are among the gems of the number. Charles Washington Coleman, Edward A. Oldham and other well-known poets contribute some of their best work. The success of the New Peterson is thoroughly established and is well deserved. No magazine has a finer array of contributors, and in many respects it is better suited to the needs of the entire household than any periodical in the country. Terms $2 a year. Address Peterson Magazine company, Philadelphia.

"The Revolution in Tamer's Lane," edited by Reuben Shapcott, uniform with "The Autobiography of Mark Twain," by the same author, will soon be issued by the Cassell Publishing company. The remarkable series of novels to which this story belongs are epoch-making books. They have been read by the most thoughtful readers and praised by the most careful critics. They voice the cry of the age and strike a responsive chord in many a heart.

TREATMENT OF REPORTERS. A Few Facts Which Some People Should Remember.

Omaha World-Herald: There are two impressions regarding reporters, both of which are erroneous. One is that they are a set of insulting scoundrels, who think they have the right to the front seat of all the earth and who insist on reputable men telling them their secrets as a right. The other is that they are sycophants and caves-droppers who sneak about their work like sheep-killing dogs and who are "necessary evils." It is hard to tell which is further from the truth, but both are more than irritating to the honest and straightforward reporter—and all good reporters are made that way. A newspaper reporter is a business man just the same as a grocer; he has no other rights than those extended to all reputable men. His business makes him of a more inquiring sort than his neighbor of the canned goods, but it is only upon things of interest to the public that he inquires, and his research is always conducted on principles of propriety.

There may be men in the newspaper business who think they have extensive rights, but they are new men and they get over it quickly. They learn that they must be gentlemen to hold their positions, and in learning that they get into the habit of thinking that the men whom they meet are of the same kind. They are not. It is only a necessary and that insolence will not be tolerated.

SHIPBUILDING ON THE LAKES.

The shipbuilding industry on the great lakes is reviewed at length in a profusely illustrated article in the current Engineering Magazine by Henry A. Griffin, secretary of the board of control of Cleveland. This industry, including engine, boiler and other machine works, comprises over thirty firms, with an invested capital of $15,000,000 to $18,000,000, aside from the builders of small craft not represented in the registered tonnage. A few of the large establishments still construct wooden vessels; the business of others is largely confined to repairs; and some of them have great dry-docks for repairs and are builders of iron and steel, wooden, or composite vessels, or all of these, as well. Their united capacity is equal to that of all the sea coast and river shipyards combined.

The tonnage passing Detroit in 1890 was 21,883,172 tons—1,000,000 tons greater than that of the entire foreign and coastwise trade of London. The total freight carried in 1892, estimated on the basis of the census of 1890, was over 34,000,000 tons valued at nearly $100,000,000. It included over 9,000,000 tons of iron ore, 4,500,000 tons of flour and grain, 6,000,000 tons of coal, 7,000,000 tons of lumber, 3,000,000 tons of foreign merchandise, and 4,500,000 tons of other coarse products and domestic merchandise. The commerce of Cleveland alone exceeded 10,000,000 tons in 1892; equaling that of either of the great ports of Liverpool or Hamburg in weight, and twice that of either Glasgow or Hull. The tonnage passing the St. Mary's Falls canal is greater in the lake season (seven-and-a-half months) than that passing through the Suez canal in the whole year.

All of this growth applies only to the United States coast line of 3900 miles. There has been no growth at all on the equally extended Canadian coast line, owing chiefly to the policy of the United States government, which requires American vessels to be built in American ports and does not permit Canadian vessels to traffic between American ports. But the possibilities of development on that other coast line when "manifest destiny" shall have been realized are of striking importance. A hint of the extent of the commerce north and south when the imaginary boundary between American and British possessions shall have been obliterated is given by the recent lease of the London & Port Stanley railway, in Canada, to Cleveland capitalists, for twenty years. One passenger and two freight steamers will run on the route between Cleveland and Port Stanley. The leased line has direct connection with every trunk line railway in Canada. Already 400,000 tons of coal have been contracted for, to be delivered in Canada the coming season.

The whole western peninsula of Canada can be supplied with coal from Ohio more cheaply than from any other section. The new water-and-rail international line has secured ample dock facilities on both sides of the lake, and expects to do a large passenger and freight business. It is only a matter of time before Cleveland and Toronto are considerably nearer to Cleveland than is Cincinnati. But the future outlook points to a ship canal for vessels of the largest class across the Niagara peninsula, and around the St. Lawrence rapids, and the opening up of the whole lake system to unobstructed foreign commerce, as significantly as it does to free intercourse across the present boundary line that divides the lakes.

PIG IRON PRODUCTION.

Read the Following Statement and Then Consider Duluth's Location.

In the March number of the Engineering Magazine, John Birkinbine, president of the American Institute of Mining Engineers, has a very interesting article on "Locations for Pig Iron Production." He holds that the influence of location upon the industry is based not only upon the possibility of assembling the raw materials, but also upon the opportunities for marketing the product advantageously.

"A blast furnace may act temporarily as a sign board for a real estate boom," says Mr. Birkinbine, although its operations may be a financial loss, but ultimately dividends or profit must come from it, or failure will be written against it. It is probable that the majority of persons suppose the great steel works at Chicago, Pittsburgh, Baltimore, Harrisburgh, Johnstown, Scranton, Bethlehem, Troy, etc., to have been located on account of blast furnaces connected with them. It is undoubtedly true that some of these plants owe their existence to an original forge or blast furnace, but an investigation will show that, properly speaking, the existing blast furnaces were located at these points because of the steel works, and are established so as to supply to large industrial plants the raw material upon which they must depend.

Speaking incidentally of causes of progress in the Lake Superior iron ore region, Mr. Birkinbine says: "The development of the Lake Superior region, which up to the close of 1892 contributed more than 73,000,000 gross tons of iron ore, is not alone due to the high percentage of iron representing the averages of the ore produced, for the variety and composition of the ores which have been mined, and which fit them for different purposes, have had a marked influence in this development. In view of the generally-accepted belief in the prime necessity of ores of Bessemer grade, it may sound peculiar to assert that, had all of the iron ores won from the Lake Superior district been sufficiently low in phosphorus to be acceptable for the production of pig iron for the Bessemer process, the development of this district would have been less rapid than it has been as a producer of the various grades of iron ore."

To emphasize this fact, it is unnecessary to go further back in history than a few years, for, in an interval of five years, ending Dec. 31, 1891, be taken, and the proportionate amounts of Bessemer and other kinds of pig iron produced are tabulated, such statement shows that in the year 1887 44.81 per cent of the total pig iron output of the country was of the Bessemer quality. In 1888 this percentage was reduced to 40.65 per cent, the total output of pig iron being practically the same as in 1887. In 1889 there was an increase of more than 1,000,000 gross tons in the annual production of the country, and in that year the quantity of Bessemer pig iron made was 41.45 per cent of the total.

"Another increase of more than 1,500,000 tons brought the pig iron made in the United States in 1890 to a total of 9,202,703 gross tons, of which 44.47 per cent was of Bessemer quality. The year 1891 showed a decline from the production of 1890 of nearly 1,000,000 tons, and in that year 41.01 per cent of the total was of Bessemer grade. The figures which have just been compiled for the year 1892 indicate that out of the total production of pig iron 9,157,000 tons, 48.53 per cent was of Bessemer quality."

THE ERIE CANAL.

Claim That Its Improvement Will End the Need of a Ship Canal.

The recent discussion of the enterprise of a ship canal, which would be designed to complete water communication for sea-going ships between Duluth and New York, has induced observations from interested parties in favor of a lock enlargement on the Erie canal. The Duluth enterprise, it will be remembered, contemplates the connection of Lake Ontario with the waters of the Hudson river by means of a ship canal along the Oswego river at the lake end of this portion of the line. M. De Puy in a recent communication to the New York Times, states that he has owned and operated steamers with their consorts through the Erie canal for the last sixteen years, and claims that the present capacity of the Erie canal, with the exception of locks, will permit the passage of a steamer with three consorts carrying 30,000 bushels of grain into the Hudson river every ten minutes. On the basis of this statement he naturally finds it possible to carry through that waterway, provided the lock facilities could be properly increased, an enormous freightage of grain. He maintains that the whole trouble at the present time lies with the locks, although much delay is occasionally caused by the stealing of water at Lockport, which he claims is permitted by the canal officials in charge.

In 1887 money was appropriated to lengthen sixteen locks and up to 1890 the capacity of thirty-eight locks has been increased in this manner, but for the last two years the work has practically ceased. He objects to the diversion of water at Lockport for the operation of mills on Eighteen Mile creek as one of the most serious obstacles to the improvement of the Erie canal. He sums up his observations as follows: "The needs of the Erie canal today are better terminal facilities, freedom from water thieves at Lockport, men who will work on the sixteen locks, and the lengthening of both tiers of locks between Lockport and the Hudson river. With these improvements, it is perfectly clear that there will be no occasion for a ship canal, and, as I have shown, the cost will be infinitely less."

THE AIR IN COLORADO

Bill Nye Tells About a Young Man Whose Perspective Was Not What It Should Be.

At St. Louis He Met Sir George Tarp-Paddock, and the Latter Tells a Fine Story.

A Few Personals of Considerable Interest That William Has Picked Up on the Road.

COLORADO, March. There is one peculiarity about this country that I have never referred to or described, and I therefore take the liberty of doing so now, especially for the benefit of those who may not have traveled in this direction.

MEETING SIR GEORGE TARP-PADDOCK.

I refer to the rarity and clearness of the air, making distant objects seem quite nearby.

In the small but live, prosperous town of Boulder, Colo., where the manager said that he never saw such a refined audience in the place as we had, we were told about this peculiarity of the Colorado air.

Black wheat has never had a boom. He has had a constant, steady, healthy growth and no setbacks—or setbacks, I should say. Black wheat is the county seat, and I was asked to say a word for her. I cannot do otherwise. How can I refuse to state publicly that black wheat has never had a boom?

She has had a steady growth since 1826, when she had but one house. In 1830 she had two houses, but this was followed by a terrific fire gutting in a few hours both houses and making a perfect pandemonium. She has steadily grown from that, plentifully, as the paper there goes on to say, and is now abreast of other cities of her class.

It is good time to get lots there now, for times are low and money matters scarce. Black wheat has never had a boom or fluctuations, but there have been many times when, owing to depression, property could have been bought far below its value, and if retained as an investment would be something to look forward to.

In Black wheat there was a man who had been almost everywhere. He had seen the Mammoth cave of Kentucky and Lake's peak, Colorado. His idea was to incorporate a company to try the Mammoth cave or over Pike's peak, and then guess how near she would fit at 50 cents a guess. He thought there was money in it.

He also spoke of Colorado. He had been there. One curious thing he noticed there was the purity of the air. Clear and pure and rarefied, he said, one would be often deceived in distances.

Once there was a fellow out there—I am not taking up your time—a fellow that started to ride on a football before breakfast. He was a tenderfoot, struck Denver and was going to climb a bunch of peaks a day till he had seen how they looked on top. He said he would ride over and climb one before breakfast. He gave it up and took a light tea from his sideboard at home. On the way some one overtook him and found him stripping off ready to swim a little irrigation ditch, and the old man asked him why he pulled off his coat instead of jumping his horse over the ditch.

"Ditch bed—d," said the young man, casting aside his porous plaster with a bitter oath and a portion of his back also. "I'm getting now so that I can judge distances better than I could this morning." And that is a fact too. He had.

"I thought it was kind of comical," he added.

We rode on through the boom belt, including Chicago, and at St. Louis we met a returning Englishman. He had been at Colorado Springs, a beautiful health resort that has always had a healthy, steady growth, but no boom. Everything there had always been healthy, and if he hadn't struck a night train he would never have known that anybody died there. He talked with the conductor and found that the road was mad because there were so many health resorts along the line, all wishing to quietly slip their dead between 11 p. m. and 3 a. m., that it practically made a satisfactory time table impossible. He was a pleasant companion, was St. George Tarp-Paddock, who had been out to Colorado to show the Leaf Lard Dynasty that they were wearing their white hunting costumes behind him as he went. They have one man at The Antlers who wears a pair of white duck riding pants; gored or something at the hips, and so right at the knee that it takes two waiters to seat him at table—one to hold the chair and one to hook his legs up under the roof of the table. His father made his money by building a large sausage mill in New York, and then succeeded in having an ordinance passed outlawing every dog in town. He soon grew vast rich, and his son, St. George Tarp-Paddock, now talks fluently in the purest stable English and cuts his porridge with a crop.

"In a burst of merriment a beautiful young girl called him 'only a panty-seeker.' That took away his joy of living there. No one could look at him without laughing, for the trousers were gathereed and so full at the waistband that his little cock stuck out and curled up at the tail like a moustache."

"But I could tell you something quite odd about the country at Colorado Springs," he added. "You will not notice it at first, but at last you begin to notice that the air is so thin and so rare and pure that one is often deceived in distances."

He had been at Colorado Springs, a beautiful health resort that has always had a healthy, steady growth, but no boom. Everything there had always been healthy, and if he hadn't struck a night train he would never have known that anybody died there. He talked with the conductor and found that the road was mad because there were so many health resorts along the line, all wishing to quietly slip their dead between 11 p. m. and 3 a. m., that it practically made a satisfactory time table impossible. He was a pleasant companion, was St. George Tarp-Paddock, who had been out to Colorado to show the Leaf Lard Dynasty that they were wearing their white hunting costumes behind him as he went. They have one man at The Antlers who wears a pair of white duck riding pants; gored or something at the hips, and so right at the knee that it takes two waiters to seat him at table—one to hold the chair and one to hook his legs up under the roof of the table. His father made his money by building a large sausage mill in New York, and then succeeded in having an ordinance passed outlawing every dog in town. He soon grew vast

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning March 13.

Concluded by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—Temperance. Prov. xxiii, 15-23.

The proverb of Solomon are full of instruction and wisdom. It is not without reason that they are so. God gave him wisdom. His position was such as to give him personal experience in all the vanities of life. He was also, as we learn from his writings, a close observer of men. Guided by these three sources of wisdom, in terse, pointed sentences he constantly lifts his voice against the injurious and evil practices of men, and among them intemperance. In the reference of our topic we see what we may call three warnings in reference to intemperance:

1. Solomon warns against the charms of evil, verse 17. "Let not thine heart envy sinners." There is something about sin and sinners that fascinates specially the youthful and inexperienced. It was this that caused the downfall of our first parents. A fatal look, a fatal desire, a fatal action, and humanity was ruined. Intemperance particularly is seen in the best light, presents these fascinations. The brilliant saloon, the quiet wine party, with their associations of apparent freedom, of good cheer and joviality, have their attractions. They tempt not only sinners and sinners. The look that desire may lead to false action, and in the end ruin. To see sin in its true light we must look beyond its glitter and glare. In its hideous forms it is a disease and death it is not curable. That these may not come to us let us envy it not even in its most desirable forms.

2. Solomon warns against the association of evil, verse 20. "Be not among wine bibbers." Great danger lies in evil associations. "Evil communications corrupt good manners." No one can come in contact with evil without being contaminated to some extent. To look upon evil, to touch it, is contaminating. The only safe course is to "avoid the very appearance of evil," to shun evil companions, to studiously avoid all places and associations of evil. That which in itself may not be evil, but which is associated with evil or which leads to it, must also be avoided. The true course of temperance calls upon us to shun the association of the intemperate, all places of intemperance, all things associated with it, and all things whose tendency is to lead to it.

3. Solomon warns against the results of evil, verse 21. "For the drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty, and who has not seen the terrible results of all this, and especially the sin of drink? The pathway of life is strewn with wrecked bodies, minds, homes, hopes—all caused by the influence of drink. Let the student therefore be warned against it. Look upon it in its last results rather than its first appearances. "In the end it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder." In total abstinence alone lies the safety from the awful results of intemperance.

Junior Endeavorers.

Mr. Sizer, state secretary of Washington, tells me that in the end of the month of March, 1893, the following were the results of the work of the Junior Endeavorers in the city of Washington:

Dropouts, dropping, dropping! How we fall! Crowding in the little churches great and small.

Surely God will bless us greatly, for many prayers are upward, for His help they call.

Till we learn together such a mighty band As to bear salvation over all the land.

IN MARCH, APRIL, MAY.

Leading New York Clergymen Recommend the Use of Paine's Celery Compound.

New York, March 17.—Says a writer in the World:

There is no body of men, taken as a class, who devote greater attention to matters of public interest than the preachers of New York city, no matter of what denomination. Evidently, in the contact with almost every phase of life, and witnessing scenes of varied character, there are few matters of importance which escape their notice. And, as a constant and ting are their labors that few are the preachers who do not suffer from overwork, nervous troubles and other ailments that arise from too much brain work, care and anxiety. The newspapers have recently had much to say about the terrible results of the work of the city ministers, a reporter called on some well-known pastors and interviewed them concerning the matter.

Bishop Alexander Walters of the A. M. E. Church said: "I am a sufferer from dyspepsia, and have been so for years. The doctors tell me that in my case it is hereditary. I know that it has caused me a great deal of misery, and has interfered with my work to a great extent, because if a man is not well physically, he cannot labor for other people's spiritual welfare. I have had occasion to use some of Paine's celery compound, and I have been greatly benefited by its use. It is, without doubt, the best medicine I ever used, and is capable of curing even so severe a case as mine. It has my unqualified endorsement."

Rev. A. K. Sanford, pastor of the Thirty-fifth Street M. E. Church, was out when the reporter called at his residence, 243 West Twenty-second street, but Mrs. Sanford made the following statement in her husband's behalf: "During the past year Mr. Sanford has had a vast amount of extra work to do. The regular labors of his church are severe enough, but he was so anxious to accomplish a great deal that he undertook to do more than he was really able to do. The natural consequence was that he lost found himself in a poor state of health, his nerves overwrought and his sleep much disturbed. He felt completely run down. He rarely takes any medicine, but the merits of Paine's celery compound were so well known to him that he decided to use it as a means of restoring his health. It certainly did so, and I have heard him speak very often of how much good he received from using it. We feel very grateful that such a remedy was at hand and still ever present."

Rev. H. L. Granliard, pastor of the French Presbyterian Church, who lives at 143 West Sixteenth street, was leaving his house when the reporter called. He said, however: "I have frequently been relieved from nervous afflictions by the use of Paine's celery compound. I think it a most reliable remedy and shall recommend it wherever I have an opportunity."

Rev. R. D. Winn, pastor of the Abyssinian Church, who was seen at his residence, No. 1563 West Sixteenth street, said: "My career as a minister of the Gospel has been hampered by the fact that for years I have suffered from nervousness. Three years ago I had an attack of nervous prostration that was so severe that I had to take an extended vacation and undergo rigid treatment in an endeavor to regain my health. I consulted several specialists, who treated my case for months, but I must say that during the past few weeks I have received more benefit from one bottle of Paine's celery compound than from all the other medicines I have taken. After taking it for a few days I could notice the improvement in my condition. My head did not trouble me as before, my nerves were stronger, and my digestion, which had been very poor before, began to improve. I consider the compound to be a very fine remedy, and will spread among my congregation and other friends the report of my experience with it."

The words of these gentlemen should be of the greatest value to all readers. They show that even with the greatest strength and wearing strains of life health and vigor can be preserved by a constant use of the right aid. The great nerve food above named has done more to bring about this state of things than anything before known, and its popularity is only natural.

What the New York clergymen say today has been said time and again by equally as prominent men elsewhere. The case of Rev. C. J. Burling, of Rhode Island, who was recently entirely cured of insomnia by the use of Paine's celery compound, is a fresh instance of newspaper readers, and the following letter from Rev. J. G. Laird, of London, Ont., whose portrait is given above, is of special interest:

"Having received great benefit from the use of Paine's celery compound, it affords pleasure to give my testimony in favor of its beneficial effects. Six years ago, this spring, I was prostrated with nervous debility. I was then closing my thirty-eighth year in the active work of the ministry in the Methodist church. Until then I had been a strong, vigorous man, and an earnest worker in church work. Suddenly I became prostrated. I was forced to resign my charge. I could not sleep, was afraid to be left alone, and could not refrain from shedding tears when speaking to any person. My kidneys, liver and stomach became very much weakened, so that I was a helpless invalid."

For about two years I tried everything I could hear of, such as magnetism, electricity, Clifton Springs, etc., and applied to several physicians, but obtained no permanent relief. About four years ago a friend brought me a bottle of Paine's celery compound. I experienced some benefit from its use, but got some more and soon realized great benefit from it. Soon I slept well, my organs and nervous system became greatly restored, and my dread of being left alone was removed."

"I still continue to use it. If I go from home, to guard against sleeplessness, I take a supply with me. I do not expect to be made young again, as I am now in my 60th year, but I am a very different man compared with what I was four or five years ago. Had I known of this remedy when first afflicted with nervousness, my condition is that, with the Divine blessing I would not yet be on the list of retired ministers."

No player has ever been so generally admired in New York as Ward. ## IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

The Lenten Quiet Remains Unbroken But There Are Whispers of What Is to Come.

Reception to Mr. and Mrs. Critchett Last Evening by the High School Musical Society.

A Number of Card and Evening Parties Given This Week—The Visiting and Visitors.

Socially Duluth is in a state of some excitement but like Popocatepetl it will "break out" before long with increased vigor as the natural result of the pent-up energy of forty days abstaining. The inauguration of the pavilion Sunday band concert was a pleasant feature last Sunday and was well attended. It will be repeated tomorrow with probably a much larger crowd.

As an inkling of what may be expected the dressmakers are all very busy and the milliners are simply "out of sight." There have been the usual number of small happenings but nothing of absorbing interest during the week.

A PLEASANT RECEPTION.

Members of the High School Musical Society Entertained Mr. and Mrs. Critchett.

An informal reception was given Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Critchett by the members of the High School Musical Society in the museum room at the Central High school building. Several members of the board were present, the graduating class and also Superintendent Denfeld. Professor Cushman made a brief speech, and Bert Shaw for the pupils also spoke. The choir sang, "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." Refreshments were served and dancing followed. The following program was given during the evening:

Chorus—The Horn That Once... The Choir
Piano solo—Polish Dance, Miss Clara Eva Vocal quartet—Comet, Thro' the Sky
Misses Rockwell and Woodruff, Messrs.
Shaw and Beasley.
Song—Thursday... Henry Beasley
Part song—See Our Ourselves... Choir

Social Mention.

THE IRON TRADE REVIEW.

Will the Low Ore Talk Recently Be Counteracted.

It is difficult to say much about the existing dead-lock between furnacemen and iron ore selling firms, that would be at the same time new and true says the Iron Trade Review this week.

The daily press has produced considerable literature in the week that fills the first of these requirements, the purport of it being that an ore trust is about to be formed; that arrangements have been made at Duluth, and that all that remains is the mere matter of their execution.

The foundation for the Duluth story is the fact that gentlemen interested in the Colby mines are also connected with the American Steel Barge Co., which is closely allied with the Merritt interests on the Mesaba. The Steel Barge Co. thus forms the link between mines on the Gogebic range that produced in 1892, about 800,000 tons out of 2,073,000 tons shipped from that range, and the Merritt mines on the Mesaba, whose output this year may run up to 200,000 tons.

Thus an output of about 1,000,000 tons of ore is involved in the pool or trust which dispatches from Duluth, echoed from Ishpeming, on the Marquette range, have magnified into a combine of ore men of all the ranges, to keep up prices.

The reliable thing about the whole report, as we take it, continues the Review, is the notification from the Merritt interest which it contains, that their ore is not to be put on the market at a figure that would prove hurtful competition to the mines on the Gogebic range, whose ore, like those of the best Mesaba properties, are soft Bessemer.

Some time ago the Merritt interest announced that the Duluth, Missabe & Northern road was not built to cut freights from the mines to Two Harbors, below what would earn a fair profit.

By the same source, we now have a like statement concerning ore prices. Whether it will have the effect of strengthening the ore market, is a question. The comparatively small amount of ore that the Mesaba can put on the market this year has begotten some very bearish ideas among furnacemen; but it is questionable whether the information that that ore will not go at a cut price will counteract all the low-ore talk of the past few months.

On the other hand, it would not be fair to say that their respective positions are represented by $5.75 and $4.00 for best Gogebic ore. There have been better offers from furnace men than $3.75, and there are ore firms, on the other hand, that have announced lately that they would not consider $4.00 for best Bessemer hematites. Sellers of ore argue that sales of odd lots from the docks must not be quoted as a basis for '93 contracts, and cite the policy of the producers, notably the curtailments at the Norrie and Lake Angelina, as proof that ore always sought for are not to be put on the market at prices now offered.

The question of freights waits on ore transactions, and has not yet come even to the point of a preliminary interview between shippers and vessel owners.

UNCOVERED BY GRADERS.

Valuable Ore Find on Some of the McKinley Lands.

For some weeks past the McKinleys have had several propositions submitted to them for purchase or lease of the half of section 18, 58-16, says the Iron Range. The offers were refused, but the would-be purchasers were so persistent that the owners became interested and Monday last D. McKinley went out to the property to investigate.

He was accompanied by D. H. Bacon and J. F. Armstrong. The Duluth & Iron Range extension to Virginia runs through this property and about half a mile west of McKinley there is a small cut. Here it was found that the railroad graders had uncovered a bed of ore for a distance of nearly 300 feet, the surface running from 2 to 6 feet. Somebody who had previously visited the find had dug down into the ore about three feet but had placed it back and covered it up with earth.

Mr. McKinley took a sample of the ore to Duluth. He is of opinion that this find proves that the ore bed extends clear across the forty east as east of that again is the shaft of the Sheridan, which struck ore at a depth of 80 feet.

Rumors have been circulated during the past week that the McKinley mine had been leased, but they were incorrect being started probably by reason of the fact that Capt. Morcom had resigned and Capt. Harry Roberts, formerly of Crystal Falls, had been engaged to take his place.

The second of this season's free concerts will be given at the Pavilion next Sunday afternoon, from 2 to 5 if the weather is propitious. Prof. Meier's excellent orchestra of twenty pieces will furnish the music in the same pleasing manner as last season. Under the efficient leadership of Prof. Meier the orchestra has been practicing during the winter months preparatory to giving a series of concerts at the Pavilion this spring.

AMONG THE BELLES.

Upon Whom Shall the Mantle Fall.

What One of the Lovely Aspirants Has to Say.

The Women Will be Interested—But Won't the Men?

Since the day the lovely Miss Willing left Philadelphia to become the bride of John Jacob Astor, her mantle of belle has been variously bestowed among the beautiful young ladies of the city of Brotherly Love. But among the candidates for this honor there are certainly few more beautiful than Miss Anna King, who resides at 136 Diamond street, Philadelphia.

Our portrait is very far from doing the young lady justice, but it will serve to call the attention of her many friends and admirers to the fact that she is again in excellent health. For it must be known that Miss King has been most seriously ill—so seriously, in fact, that her physicians gave her up, saying that no help was possible.

To a reporter she spoke freely and unreservedly concerning herself.

"I have indeed been very ill," she said, in answer to a question. "My nerves had become so weak as to render me incapable of fulfilling my duties. I would at times grow so weak that it seemed as if I should never be able to move again. I could not remember anything. Dreadful shooting pains occurred frequently all through my eyes and head; often severe headaches would follow which would prostrate me for hours.

"Yes, I had several physicians, but they all said no help was possible. I was in despair until I took Dr. Greene's Nervura, blood and nerve remedy. By the time I had taken the first bottle I found that I had been greatly benefited. I continued its use and have now regained my original health again."

And she looked it, for she is a picture of health and beauty.

By the by did you ever hear of a failure of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to cure? We never have, and can assert positively that this wonderful medicine, the prescription and discovery of the well known and successful specialist, Dr. Greene of 35 West Fourteenth street, New York, will cure more cases of disease than any other remedy in the world. If you are sick use it, for it will cure you. Especially should you use it at the present time of the year, as a spring medicine is absolutely necessary to the maintenance of good health, and doctors recommend this as the best spring medicine.

It will surely invigorate and purify the blood, strengthen the nerves and restore the organs to natural and healthy action. You can get it of any druggist for $1, and we know it is purely vegetable and harmless. Besides you can consult Dr. Greene free of charge concerning your case at any time, personally or by letter.

Don't be Blinded by Foolish Prejudice.

Good physicians can advertise as well as poor ones. Look into the matter for yourself. You alone are responsible for the condition of your health. Quack remedies and silly advice will never benefit any one. Consult those who from week to week give their testimony in the daily papers. This is your privilege. Their evidence will convince you. What stronger proof can an intelligent person demand than the voluntary statements of good and reliable people residing right here in the city? Those statements are not bought or obtained by any fraudulent means to deceive the public, but gladly given by the happy patients who have benefited by the use of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy will cost you nothing; you may be assured of an honest opinion no matter what your trouble is. Think of it.

$5 Per Month, Including Medicines and the professional services of physicians who have spent their lives in the study and practice of their specialty. No reasonable person will think he can afford to close his eyes with heedless indifference to an opportunity like this if he needs treatment. It may be only a slight cold now, but may prove more serious later. To neglect the means of restoring your health when they are in such easy reach is willfully shirking a duty you owe to your life and, more than this, to those who have claims upon you.

To the physicians of the Copeland Medical Institute is due the credit of effecting a plan by which many can receive the best treatment known today for a small fee, who otherwise could never afford it. Liberality has always characterized the policy of the Copeland Medical Institute, and in this they have not been unwarranted, for daily grateful patients thank the physicians who have so patiently attended their illness and restored them once more to health and happiness.

REMEMBER THE $5 RATE FOR THE TREATMENT OF CATARRH AND KINDRED DISEASES IS ONLY OFFERED DURING MARCH. TAKE ADVANTAGE OF IT NOW.

DERANGED STOMACH.

Catarrh of the stomach is one of the most annoying of stomach troubles and one of the most amenable to treatment. The distressing symptoms, such as dyspepsia, indigestion, nervousness, sleeplessness, palpitation of the heart, and a weak, irritable feeling as though life wasn't worth living, are experienced by a great many people who do not know where to find a specialist, or who cannot afford to pay a high-priced physician and consequently must go through life with great suffering, their trouble constantly getting worse. The following case is related to show what skillful treatment will do.

Mr. H. Burgess, who lives at No. 9 East Third street, was a sufferer from dyspepsia before he placed himself under the care of the physicians of the Copeland Medical Institute. To the writer he had the following to say: "After taking a meal the food would set heavily in my stomach and cause a feeling of fullness and weight. I was troubled with heart burn and would belch up sour matter and gas. My stomach would bloat up and there was at times a sharp pain over the pit of the stomach. I was frequently troubled with headaches and dizzy spells; when I would stoop over I would see millions of stars. Had pain in the back, especially in the morning. On the least excitement I would get feverish, my appetite was variable, sometimes it was good and at other times I had no desire for food at all."

Present Condition.
I have no more headaches or dizzy spells, appetite is always good, no bloating or belching of sour matter and gas, no more pains over stomach or in my back. In fact I am quite elated over the success that has attended my case and can recommend the system of treatment as having done much for me.

WHY PAY MORE?

ALL PATIENTS APPLYING BEFORE APRIL 1 WILL BE TREATED UNTIL CURED AT $5 A MONTH. MEDICINE INCLUDED.

Notable Credentials.

The location of the offices of the Copeland Medical Institute in the city of Duluth is a permanent one. Their leases and contracts are for a term of years.

Dr. Copeland is a graduate of the Bellevue Hospital Medical College of New York city; was president of his class in that famous institution, and after thorough hospital training, and experience devoted his entire time and attention to the special lines of practice named below. Passed through a similar course, Dr. Hunt and Dr. Dreining also devote themselves exclusively to the treatment of these specialties. Years of experience in their special lines, preceded by extensive hospital work, have fitted them in a notable degree for the practice of their profession.

Paramount above all else in importance is the possession of good health, and yet, true as this is, there are those who, rather than give themselves the attention they sadly need, prefer to cke out a miserable existence infected with disease, when the very best treatment known to medical science today, and administered by physicians skilled in their specialty, can be secured for the nominal fee of

$5 Per Month, Including Medicines.

There is absolutely no excuse for any one suffering from a disease which makes their presence revolting to those with whom they come in contact. What can possibly demonstrate greater liberality on the part of these eminent physicians than this generous offer? He who does not avail himself of an unparalleled offer like this has himself alone to blame. All that has been done in the past all that is being done in the present by the Copeland Medical Institute is entirely in the interests of the suffering masses.

Don't be Blinded by Foolish Prejudice.

Good physicians can advertise as well as poor ones. Look into the matter for yourself. You alone are responsible for the condition of your health. Quack remedies and silly advice will never benefit any one. Consult those who from week to week give their testimony in the daily papers. This is your privilege. Their evidence will convince you. What stronger proof can an intelligent person demand than the voluntary statements of good and reliable people residing right here in the city? Those statements are not bought or obtained by any fraudulent means to deceive the public, but gladly given by the happy patients who have benefited by the use of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

$5 Per Month, Including Medicines and the professional services of physicians who have spent their lives in the study and practice of their specialty. No reasonable person will think he can afford to close his eyes with heedless indifference to an opportunity like this if he needs treatment. It may be only a slight cold now, but may prove more serious later. To neglect the means of restoring your health when they are in such easy reach is willfully shirking a duty you owe to your life and, more than this, to those who have claims upon you.

To the physicians of the Copeland Medical Institute is due the credit of effecting a plan by which many can receive the best treatment known today for a small fee, who otherwise could never afford it. Liberality has always characterized the policy of the Copeland Medical Institute, and in this they have not been unwarranted, for daily grateful patients thank the physicians who have so patiently attended their illness and restored them once more to health and happiness.

DERANGED STOMACH.

Catarrh of the stomach is one of the most annoying of stomach troubles and one of the most amenable to treatment. The distressing symptoms, such as dyspepsia, indigestion, nervousness, sleeplessness, palpitation of the heart, and a weak, irritable feeling as though life wasn't worth living, are experienced by a great many people who do not know where to find a specialist, or who cannot afford to pay a high-priced physician and consequently must go through life with great suffering, their trouble constantly getting worse. The following case is related to show what skillful treatment will do.

Mr. H. Burgess, who lives at No. 9 East Third street, was a sufferer from dyspepsia before he placed himself under the care of the physicians of the Copeland Medical Institute. To the writer he had the following to say: "After taking a meal the food would set heavily in my stomach and cause a feeling of fullness and weight. I was troubled with heart burn and would belch up sour matter and gas. My stomach would bloat up and there was at times a sharp pain over the pit of the stomach. I was frequently troubled with headaches and dizzy spells; when I would stoop over I would see millions of stars. Had pain in the back, especially in the morning. On the least excitement I would get feverish, my appetite was variable, sometimes it was good and at other times I had no desire for food at all."

Present Condition.
I have no more headaches or dizzy spells, appetite is always good, no bloating or belching of sour matter and gas, no more pains over stomach or in my back. In fact I am quite elated over the success that has attended my case and can recommend the system of treatment as having done much for me.

WHY PAY MORE?
FIVE DOLLARS A MONTH FOR THE SERVICES OF SKILLED PHYSICIANS. TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE OFFER BEFORE APRIL 1.
